Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 2. [To the Editor of The Times:] News today: Supreme Court swore in Owen J. Roberts as member, then they adjourned until October; not much chance for a man to make a mistake there. The Senate needn't have been so particular.

Chicago is kinder like the stock market, it has been away off there lately, but it got back toward normal yesterday, they machine-gunned seven.

The Zep goes back home tonight with Lady Drummond Hay, Carl Von Wiegand, all the same passengers they always have. They ought to change the cast on that thing. People will get the idea that it can't haul anybody else.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Great Dam in Port Arthur Area Saved After Hard Battle by Crews

Sioux Lookout Fights to Curb Conflagration Near Town; Howie Believed Lost

TORONTO (Ont.) June 2. (AP)—Rising gales in Northwest Ontario today drove a dozen forest fires through sun-parched timber limits. Frightened residents fled from Robinson, but fire fighters at other points stood their ground.

So many blazes started near Port Arthur over the week-end that all could not be given attention by forestry officials.

The towering Onion Lake Dam, nineteen miles from Port Arthur, was saved after heavy week-end labor by fire fighters. It had been feared that the cribwork and sluiceway of the forty-five-foot waterhead might be gnawed away by the flames, sending a wall of water down the valley.

Promise of rain in some sections brings hope tonight.

BABY CITIES GAIN FAST

California Octet Report Rises

Ventura Leads in List With Jump During Last Decade of 186.3 Per Cent

Fullerton and Monrovia in Class of Those Which More Than Double

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Eight California cities in the 10,000-to-12,000 class recorded extensive gains in the 1930 census.

Census supervisors reporting on this class of cities say all figures are subject to revision.

Out of the eight, Ventura, with 11,432, ranks the highest percentage of increase, having added 186.3 per cent to its population during the ten-year period.

Fullerton, with 10,860, increased 146.5 per cent, while other cities more than doubling their population are Salinas and Monrovia. Salinas reported 10,260 population with a 138.1 per cent gain, and Monrovia, 10,880, with 103 per cent gain.

Both Anaheim and San Leandro fell less than 2 per cent short of doubling. Anaheim reported 10,997, with a 99 per cent increase and San Leandro increased 98.2 per cent, with a 1930 population of 11,315.

Substantial gains were shown by Santa Cruz, which reported 14,389 persons, with a 31.7 per cent gain. Santa Rosa has a 1930 population of 10,733, with a 22.5 per cent gain for the decade.

KERN KEEPS UP GAIN OVER TULARE COUNTY

BAKERSFIELD, June 2. (Exclusive)—Kern county's population, smaller than Tulare's in the 1920 census count, is greater today and as each enumerator files his reports the difference continues to rise, Roland J. Veon, census director for Kern, Kings and Tulare counties, revealed today.

So far Kern's population is 78,385, with prospects of the total reaching the 80,000 mark, while Tulare's remains practically stationary at 76,046. Work is not complete in either county, however. In 1920, Tulare had 59,03 persons, and Kern had 54,843.

Kings county's population, while not completed entirely, virtually is closed to further census work and shows a total of 23,576 persons.

Bakersfield's advance in population from 18,638 persons to 26,178 in the incorporated city and practically 35,000 for the city and suburbs, an advance of 41 per cent in the city and almost 75 per cent for the district surrounding it, is credited with Kern county's rapid progress in population.

DETROIT EXPECTS TO HAVE 1,550,000

DETROIT, June 2. (Exclusive)—with the population figures of fourteen of Detroit's twenty-two wards already tabulated, it is estimated by census officials that the completed figures will show a population for this city of about 1,550,000.

A decade ago, when the last Federal census was taken, Detroit's population was only 993,678. The Twenty-second Ward, including what was formery Redford and its surrounding territory, had about 5000 residents ten years ago. The present census gives it 88,060.

On the other hand, inwards in the central district, where commercial buildings have been reared in place of residences, the population figures show decreases ranging from 14 to 16 per cent. Boomed by the tendency of the metropolitan population to shift outward, the city's suburbs have grown from villages to small cities in an almost inconceivably brief time.

Dearborn, Grosse Point and the North Woodward communities all show a stupendous growth, and to the west and southwest six communities have sprung up which did not exist when the 1920 census was taken. They are Flat Rock, River View, Melvindale, Lincoln Park, Allen Park and Rockwood.

Dearborn, uniting with Fordson, increased 914 per cent. Its 1930 population in the preliminary count was 50,060, as compared with 4936 a decade ago. The city of Dearborn now has an area of twenty-four and one-half square miles.

It is believed, therefore, that the 1930 census may credit what is known as the Detroit metropolitan area, consisting of the city and its encircling suburbs, within a radius of twenty-five miles of the City Hall, with a population of approximately 2,000,000 persons.

RED RIVER AUXILIARY LEVEE OUT

Engineers Have Hopes of Saving Main Dykes as Water Levels Rise

ALEXANDRIA (La.) June 2. (AP)—New breaks in auxiliary protection levees in the Alexandria area continued today as the Red River flood swept down toward the Mississippi River, but the main river levees under the strictest vigilance still are holding.

Levee officials reported that the Alexandria levees will weather the tide and they have hopes of saving any break at Pineville across the river, and Marksville, in Avoyelles parish downstream, where strengthening was hurriedly accomplished yesterday.

The river here today had reached a stage of 40.3 feet, more than four feet above flood level after a rise of three-tenths foot oin twenty-four hours and the gradual rise continued as the stream neared flood crest.

Enterprise addition protection levee yesterday and today broke in four places, flooding an estimated 3500 square miles in the farming area and a half-hundred homes in the Alexandria suburb without causing undue suffering.

This gave some relief to the flooded Rapides Bayou and it had been anticipated for several days. This inundation will circle in all the land flooded in the 1927 disaster.

LITTLE WILLIE COMES HIGH

It Costs $7238 to Bring Him to Age of 18 So He Can Go Out and Make Own Living

SACRAMENTO, June 2. (Exclusive)—It costs $7238 to raise a child to the age of 18 years in a family whose average income is $2500 a year, according to figures received from Washington, D. C., by the State Department of Public Health.

The child of today must be thought of in economic terms, says a bulletin accompanying the high cost of children statistics. A man has much in common with machines, buildings, factories and other industrial equipment of which he makes use in the business of living. Like them, he has construction cost during childhood while he is being prepared for service.

The cost of being born, of food, shelter, clothing, health, recreation and education are some of the expenses which must be considered as part of the construction of the human machine, making it ready for the period at which it is expected to be a producer.

Following is the total cost to a parent of rearing a child to the age of 18: Expenses of birth, $250; food, $2500; clothing and shelter, including education, $3400; health, $284; recreation, $130; education (minor items met by individual family purse,) $50; insurance, $54; sundries, $570. Total $7238.

Heavy Florida Rain Tapers Off Into Showers

MIAMI (Fla.) June 2. (AP)—With a nineteen-inch rainfall recorded in government gauges here since heavy downpours started last week to assume near torrential proportions over the week-end, the volume of rain slackened late today to intermittent showers.

The city was visited by continual rain from 12:41 p.m. (E.S.T.) Saturday, to this afternoon, with the exception of a short period early Sunday morning.

All June precipitation records were broken by the week-end deluges which flooded a few low spots in the Miami area without hampering the operation of utilities or traffic, except in minor instances.

Richard W. Gray, government meteorologist here, said he could not predict when the rain would end.

Prince of Wales Conducts Levee in King's Stead

LONDON, June 2. (AP)—The Prince of Wales drove in state today from Buckingham Palace to St. James Palace, where he held a levee in behalf of King George, who is ill with rheumatism.

The Prince wore the scarlet full dress of colonel of the Welsh Guards. A large crowd cheered him heartily as he drove in a gilded state coach along the mall, escorted by the sovereign's life guards.

There also was a brilliant scene inside the throne-room where the Prince was seated on the golden throne, attended by the Duke of York, Prince Arthur, and the Duke of Connaught, brother of the King.

New Ohio Penal Survey Urged

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Reporting the results of a two-week survey of the recent Ohio penitentiary fire in which 322 inmates were burned to death, William B. Crops Hard Hit by Dust Storms

BISMARCK (N. D.) June 2. (AP)—Heavy damage to crops was reported today in the wake of severe dust storms which swept sections of North Dakota yesterday.

In Trail and Towner counties the flax crop was hard hit. Reports from Towner say the loss will be complete unless rain falls today or tomorrow.

Cruiser Keels Will be Laid

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Secretary Adams said today that keels for three new 10,000-ton cruisers, construction of which was ordered stopped by President Hoover shortly before the naval conference, will be laid soon.

The cruisers are to be built in the Philadelphia, Puget Sound and New York navy yards.

COLLISION LIABILITY LIMIT CONFIRMED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (AP)—The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed the action of the Federal District Court at Seattle in limiting to $70,000 the liability of the Pacific Steamship Company for the collision of the S.S. Admiral Fisk with the American-Hawaiian steamer Floridian off the Washington coast on September 1, 1928. The Floridian, valued at $478,500, and fully loaded, was sunk by the Admiral Fisk.

RATES CUT SET ASIDE

Growers Lose to Railroads

Supreme Court Knocks Out Interstate Board's Order on California Fruit

Decision Means Addition of $2,700,000 Annually to Transportation Bill

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2. (Exclusive)—The railroads won out in the United States Supreme Court today in their legal fight to knock out the 1927 order of the Interstate Commerce Commission reducing freight rates on deciduous fruits shipped from California to eastern markets.

According to the briefs in the case, the decision means that California growers will have to pay $2,700,000 more a year in freight charges and that the railroads will have a corresponding net increase in their revenues.

The high court held in an opinion delivered by Justice Van Devanter, and apparently concurred in by the entire court, that the commission's finding the then existing rates to be excessive was based on an erroneous interpretation of the Hoch-Smith resolution authorizing the commission to make investigations and slash rates where it could be done "lawfully" to assist depressed agricultural products.

FINDING EXPLAINED

What the court says, in effect, is that while the California deciduous fruit industry is in a bad way financially, the Interstate Commerce Commission overstepped in reducing rates on this one factor alone when it was more than outweighed by other considerations, including the provision in the thoroughly tested and more stable Interstate Commerce Act guaranteeing the carriers a reasonable return on their investment. Such a return, the court points out, has not been realized by the roads, and they are right in protesting against the commission's order.

The order was promulgated July 20, 1927, and became effective January 10, 1928. The rate of $1.73 a hundred pounds on deciduous fruits to the principal eastern distribution centers was cut to $1.60 and the rate of $1.63 then applying to comparatively unimportant shipments to the Denver area was reduced to $1.50.

LOSS ASSERTED

The railroads immediately went into the District Court of Northern California, contending that under the new rates they actually would lose $240,000 a year handling the California fruit crop and that this constituted confiscation under the Constitution and Interstate Commerce Act. The loss, they declared, would be $2.60 a car on the nearly 90,000 carloads of deciduous fruit shipped out of California in 1927.

In a broad sense, the carriers attacked the constitutionality of the Hoch-Smith resolution and the case, when it reached the Supreme Court, afforded what was said to be the first real test of that statute.

What the Supreme Court did today does not knock out the Hoch-Smith resolution but simply serves warning on the Interstate Commerce Commission that the mere fact an agricultural group is in distress cannot be made the sole and controlling reason for ordering a reduction in freight rates. It is something to be taken into consideration but that is all, and other matters must be weighed carefully before a change is made in the rate structure.

IMPORTANT VICTORY

It is an important victory for the for the railroads.

As Justice Van Devanter points out in his decision the rates on deciduous fruits were lawful on every other ground than that the shippers were depressed, and the Interstate Commerce Commission itself had only shortly before the

PRESIDENT REVERSED

Congress Voids Pensions Veto

Overwhelming Votes Cast to Disregard Disapproval Voiced by Hoover

Spanish American Veterans Will Receive Increases as Result of Move

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—By two overwhelming votes Congress today enacted the measure liberalizing pensions for Spanish War veterans over the veto of President Hoover.

With few preliminaries, the Senate voted 61 to 18, to override the first veto message of Mr. Hoover to be acted on. Within an hour, administration leaders in the House were trampled down as they sought to defer a roll call until Thursday and the House at once proceeded to vote, [illegible] to 14 in favor of enactment of the bill.

The roll calls showed the most solid line-up against a Presidential veto in recent years, only a handful of Republican regulars in each branch standing by the President. The Republican young guard in the Senate joined the western independents in the uprising and some of the old guard machine also left the fold on the vote.

The Democrats in the Senate and House voted solidly against the veto.

SENATE ROLL CALL

The Senate roll call follows:

For overriding veto:

Republican—Blaine, Borah, Capper, Couzens, Cutting, Dale, Deneen, Frazier, Howell, Johnson, Jones, Lafollette, McCulloch, McMaster, McNary, Metcalf, Norris, Nye, Oddie, Patterson, Pine, Robinson of Indiana; Robison of Kentucky; Shortridge, Steiwer, Thomas of Idaho, Vandenberg and Waterman—28.

Democrats—Ashurst, Barkley, Blease, Bratton, Broussard, Connally, Copeland, Dill, George, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hawes, Hayden, Heflin, Kendrick, McKellar, Overman, Pittman, Ransdell, Sheppard, Simmons, Steck, Stephens, Swanson, Thomas of Oklahoma, Trammell, Tydings, Wagner, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana, and Wheeler—32.

Farmer-Labor—Shipstead—1.

Total—61.

Against overriding the veto:

Republicans—Baird, Bingham, Fess, Gillett, Goff, Goldsborough, Gould, Hale, Hastings, Hebert, Kean, Moses, Norbeck, Phipps, Smoot, Sullivan, Townsend and Watson—18.

HOUSE STALWARTS

The fourteen House members who voted against the motion to override the President's veto are Republicans.

They are Representatives Aldrich, Rhode Island; Chindblom, Illinois; French, Idaho; Houston, Delaware; Morton D. Hull, Illinois; Johnson, South Dakota; Knutson, Minnesota; Lankford, Virginia; Luce, Massachusetts; Merritt, Connecticut; Perkins, New Jersey; Taber, New York; Graham, Pennsylvania, and Wainwright, New York.

The measure originally went through Congress with the support of administration leaders and without any intimation of Presidential displeasure. It provides a more liberal basis for pensions to Spanish War veterans and involves an estimated outlay of $11,500,000.

In vetoing the legislation President Hoover voiced three objections. He complained it would allow pensions to veterans whose disabilities arise from "vicious habits," that it lowered the period of nonservice connected disability pensioners, and that there should be requirement of need as well as disability for granting pensions.

FELON-INVENTOR SETS PRICE

Freedom Demanded If World Gets Use of New Plane Propeller of Radical Design

JOLIET (Ill.) June 2. (AP)—John King, an aged convict, inventor of an airplane propeller of revolutionary design, has refused all monetary offers, insisting that when society releases him from prison, it will receive the benefits of his discovery.

Though King has been incarcerated for fifteen years and has never seen a modern airplane, the United States Navy, Henry Ford and the Guggenheim Foundation have communicated with him about the propeller.

The original idea for his invention came in a dream while he was in solitary confinement, King said. He worked for five years on plans. After Maj. Henry C. Hill became warden of the State penitentiary, King was permitted the use of the prison work shop to complete a model.

His discovery is a multiple propeller designed to utilize every ounce of horsepower, giving 90 per cent efficiency instead of 40 per cent as in the present types. There are four blades, each connected separately to a hollow central shaft. As the outer shaft revolvers, the blades move back and forth along the length of the shaft.

At maximum speed each blade will make 1000 trips in a minute, feathering automatically in the direction of flight and changing to the proper drawing pitch at the point of maximum pull.

Maj. Hill said King has refused several offers for his invention, insisting the price is his freedom. He has thirteen years more to serve on the present term, his fourth. Psychologists say he has a "criminal type of mind."

EXPERT DECLARES HE DOUBTS EFFICIENCY

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Charles H. Helms of the national advisory committee for aeronautics today said the invention of a multiple propeller by John King, convict in Joliet penitentiary, "sounds like a wild idea."

Helms is in charge of the invention and design section of the Federal committee to which is referred new aeronautical inventions.

"We received a communication from King in 1926," Helms said, "and requested that he submit a model. This was never done, but from the description I am inclined to doubt the utility of the new design.

"Modern propellers are from 75 to 85 per cent efficient and it seems unlikely that King's multiple propeller will give the 90 per cent efficiency he claims."

RAILROADS WIN RATE-CUT FIGHT

Supreme Court Knocks Out Interstate Board Order

California Growers to Pay Additional $2,700,000

Error Seen in Interpretation of Hoch-Smith Resolution

start of this litigation upheld the rates as being reasonable. This was when the rates first were assailed by the California Growers' and Shippers' Protective League of San Francisco, in 1925. Ten months later the same league returned to the attack with a revised complaint and the commission evidently decided it was time to test out the Hoch-Smith resolution directly on the farm-relief phases involved.

The carriers lost in the lower courts, both in their efforts to have the order set aside and to gain a temporary stay pending appeal, and also were turned down in their injunction plea by the Supreme Court, although the high court admitted the case for hearing and final determination.

BASIS FOR REDUCTION

The Supreme Court held today that the Interstate Commerce Commission had based the rate reduction solely on the condition of the producers and thus attempted to use this agricultural depression as a reason for changing the "basic" transportation laws, whereas it should only have been considered as one factor.

"The original and supplemental opinions of the commission show quite plainly that the commission based the order entirely on the Hoch-Smith joint resolution," Justice Van Devanter says.

"It is said in the opinions that 'the joint resolution was primarily relied upon' by the complainant; that while a violation of Sec. 3 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act was asserted in the complaint 'no great reliance was placed upon that assertion;' that the 'primary issue to be determined' was whether the existing rates were in accord with the resolution; that the resolution effected a change 'in the basic law;' and that this change operated to eliminate a decision made June 25, 1925, in another proceeding between the same parties wherein the commission found the same rates neither unreasonable nor unduly preferential and sustained them as lawful rates, 100 I.C.C. 79.

"True in both the orginal and supplemental opinions it is said that the existing rates are unreasonable, but the opinions taken as a whole show that this means the rates were deemed unreasonable under the joint resolution when construed as the commission construed it, and not that they were deemed unreasonable under Sec. 1 (5) or Sec. 3 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act. Throughout the opinions it is manifest that the commission was testing the reasonableness and validity of the rates by considerations not applicable under those sections, but believed by it to have been brought into the problem by the resolution.

"The joint resolution is the outgrowth of several measures proposed in Congress, but not adopted. Some of the measures may have been designed by their proposers to make real changes in existing laws relating to transportation rates. But they are not before us. The measure that is before us is the joint resolution which emerged from the legislative deliberations and proceedings. It is brought here to the end that that we may determine its proper construction, which, of course, is to be done by applying to it the rules applicable to legislation in general.

QUESTION PRESENTED

"The question presented is whether the resolution changes the substantive provisions of existing laws relating to transportation rates and particularly whether rates which would be lawful under those laws are made unlawful by it.

"The resolution is in three paragraphs. The first declares it to be a true policy in rate-making that the conditions which at any given time prevail in the several industries 'should be considered,' in so far as it is 'legally possible' to do so, to the end that commodities may move freely. This policy is not new. In rate making under existing laws it has been recognized that conditions in a particular industry may and should be considered along with other factors in fixing rates for that industry and in determining their reasonableness; and it also has been recognized that so far as can be done with due regard for the interests affected rates should be such as will permit the commodities to which they relate to move freely in the channels of commerce.

COURSE DESIGNATED

"The second paragraph is devoted chiefly to requiring the commission to proceed along stated lines for the purpose of securing prompt observance of existing laws. The only substantive provision in the paragraph is one declaring that in the adjustment of rates the factors to be considered shall include (a) the general and comparative levels in market value of the various classes and kinds of commodities as indicated over a reasonable period of years, (b) a natural and proper development of the country as a whole and (c) the maintenance of an adequate system of transportation. These matters have all been regarded as factors requiring consideration under existing laws. The prohibition in Sec. 3 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act of any undue preference of one locality over another always has been treated as intended to prevent the use of rates as a means of promoting the artificial development of one locality to the detriment of another. And what is said about the maintenance of an adequate system of transportation is but a reiteration of provisions embodied in existing laws.

THIRD PARAGRAPH

"The third paragraph was construed by the commission as making a change 'in the basic law' as placing agricultural products in a 'most favored' class, and as justifying a reduction in the rates on deciduous fruits moving from California to eastern points, notwithstanding most of the carriers 'have not as yet made the fair return' for which Sec. 15-A of the Interstate Commerce Act makes provision as a means of securing the maintenance of an adequate transportation system. Indeed, it is apparent from the commission's opinions that it regarded this paragraph as requiring it to condemn the existing rates as unreasonable and unlawful, although had they been considered independently of the paragraph, they must have been upheld as reasonable and lawful under the applicable Sections 1 (5) and 3 (1) of the existing law.

"We are of opinion that the commission's construction cannot be supported. The paragraph does not purport to make any change in the existing law, but on the contrary, requires that that law be given effect. Nor does it purport to make unlawful any rate which under the existing law is a lawful rate, but on the contrary leaves the validity of the rate to be tested by the law.

ONLY "LAWFUL CHANGES"

"The paragraph requires only that 'lawful changes' in the rate structure be made; and we find in it no sanction for any other change.

"The commission stresses the concluding words in the same sentence with 'lawful changes' and evidently regards them as qualifying the natural import of the latter and in effect specifying a new and reduced scale to be applied in rate making. The words stressed are 'at the lowest possible lawful rates compatible with the maintenance of adequate transportation service.'

"Considering the connection in which these words are brought into the sentence we think they fall much short of supporting the construction adopted by the commission. Of course they should not lightly be disregarded. Neither should they lightly be accepted as overturning positive and unambiguous provisions constituting part of a system of laws reflecting a settled legislative policy, such as the Interstate Commerce Act. If they mean no more than that the depressed condition of the industry is to be given such consideration as may be reasonable considering the nature and cost of the transportation service and the need for maintaining an adequate transportation system, they work no change in the existing law. But if they mean more and are intended to require that rates be reduced to some uncertain level below that standard, they give rise to a serious question respecting the constitutional validity of the paragraph of which they are a part and of the constitutional question which would be raised if they were taken as the commission thinks they should be taken. We think they must be held to work no substantial change in the meaning or operation of the existing law.

"Our conclusion is that the order of the commission was based upon an erroneous construction of the joint resolution and, therefore, should have been set aside by the court below."

EXTENT OF BURDEN ON GROWERS SET FORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Hal Remington, manager of the transportation department of the Chamber of Commerce, places the saving to growers under the Interstate Commerce Commission rate decisions at $2,700,000 annually. By the Supreme Court decision "the entire burden of this additional cost will fall on the shoulders of the growers," he declares.

William P. Geary, rate expert for the State Railroad Commission, expressed the opinion the railroads may have cause for action against the shippers on account of the lowered rates paid the carriers in the last two years. If the law is unconstitutional now it was unconstitutional when the rates were paid, he said, and wholesale collection efforts may be instituted.

IDAHO COMMISSION TO FIGHT ESPEE MOVE

BOISE (Idaho) June 2. (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission today prepared to intervene against the Southern Pacific Railroad, which is seeking a reduction of rates on potatoes and other commodities between California and eastern markets over its rail-water route.

In its brief, which will be forwarded to the Interstate Commerce Commission immediately, the Idaho commission protests that a reduction of the rates from coast to coast by way of gulf ports will serve to increase the difficulties of the interior country in competing with coastal points which have both land and water routes on which they may ship their produce.

It is protested that once the Southern Pacific rail-water rates over the route through Galveston, Tex., are reduced, the all-water lines through the Panama Canal will follow suit, thus putting the interior to a disadvantage.

ITALIAN FLYING COURT BESTOWS HIGH JUSTICE

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times.]

ROME, June 2. (Exclusive)—Gen. Graziani, vice-Governor of Cyrensica, has devised an ingenious plan for solving the difficult problem of dispensing justice speedily in the extensive, but sparsely populated territory under his charge. He has inaugurated a "flying tribunal," which, starting each day from Bengasi, the capital of Cyrensica, goes by airplane to any place where its services are required.

The tribunal is composed of one military and one civilian judge. They go first, followed by another plane carrying the interpreters and clerks. As soon as they arrive at the scene of a trial they don their magisterial robes and set about dispensing justice. The court is usually held in the open air, in the shade of palm trees.

The efficacy of the plan is illustrated by the official figures. On April 2 there were 178 prisoners awaiting trial. Now 147 of these have been tried. Seventy were acquitted, forty-seven sentenced to imprisonment and thirty condemned to death. Of the latter twenty-seven have been executed while three have had their sentences commuted.

CANADIANS FLEE FIRES IN TIMBER

(AP)—Five forest fires are reported sweeping over the "gold-rush" area of Red Lake tonight, and it is feared the settlement of Howie gold mine has been destroyed.

Fire fighters, struggling to prevent repetition of the 1918 conflagration that wiped out Sioux Lookout, believe tonight their four-day battle is successful. They have shunted the flames toward stretches of water or halted them with backfires.

The fire here started Thursday near the creosote plant when a burning brush fire got out of control. Four cottages were destroyed. A radio station and Provincial forestry headquarters were reported to have been destroyed last night in the Red Lake district.

MINNESOTA SUFFERS FIRST BAD FIRE OF YEAR

DULUTH, June 2. (AP)—The first serious forest fire in Northern Minnesota this spring broke out today, destroyed three farm homes, threatened scores of others and burned over a territory of several thousand acres. Three of the five major fires were in the immediate vicinity of Duluth, a fourth was burning near Cramer on the north shore of Lake Superior, while one large fire was reported in the Superior National Forest.

Tonight, with the winds diminished, the fires are reported under control, with large crews of men guarding against spreading of the flames.

With high fire hazard forecast by the government Weather Bureau, State and Federal forestry rangers are fearful of fresh outbreaks Tuesday. The fires today followed the warmest weather of the year.

The homes destroyed were in the Rice Lake district where the flames, fanned by high winds, spread rapidly and threatened the entire community for a time.

Inmates of St. Louis County Work Farm, numbering more than 100, were pressed into service to fight the fires.

MacDonald Beats Baldwin on Treaty Quiz Motion

Action of Americans Cited; Churchill Criticises

LONDON, June 2. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald tonight won his first victory on the London naval treaty in the House of Commons, defeating a Conservative motion to appoint a committee which would examine the treaty.

The government defeated the motion by 282 votes to 201.

The motion offered by former Premier Stanley Baldwin was to appoint a committee of eleven members to examine the provisions of the London agreement.

The government was supported by the Liberals.

CITES SENATE ACTION

When Baldwin, the Conservative leader, offered the motion, he said the United States had taken such an action to insure that it had got a square deal. He did not see why Great Britain should not do likewise.

The country desires to know before it is committed to the treaty, he asserted, "whether our security in the first place remains, whether we shall be in a position in any circumstances to fulfill our own sacred obligations under the League of Nations, and thirdly—which is the most important—how we stand and how we shall stand in the future with regard to European standards of naval construction."

Prime Minister MacDonald answered that if the Conservative proposal were adopted, it would affect future relations between the government and the House of Commons.

CHURCHILL CAUSTIC

As to Mr. Baldwin's remark that the United States is studying the treaty, referring to the hearings before the United States Senate, Mr. MacDonald said this had been done in the United States because it is part of the ordinary treaty procedure there, while such is not the case in England.

Vehement criticism was left to Winston Churchill, prominent Conservative.

"It is not a treaty of parity; it is a treaty of inferiority," he asserted. He added that never since the reign of Charles II had the country been so defenseless, and never in the reign of Charles II was it so vulnerable.

JOHNSON DEMANDS MORE COMMUNICATIONS

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Notice was given in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, that he wanted more of the communications exchanged between this government and Great Britain prior to the London naval parley than were transmitted to the committee by Secretary Stimson.

At an executive session the first batch of these communications sent by Mr. Stimson in response to the committee's request was gone over hastily and referred to Senator Johnson.

Final action by the committee on the treaty this week seemed unlikely tonight, in view of Senator Johnson's demand. The committee also agreed to ask the State Department for the confidential exchanges between the two governments prior to the unsuccessful Geneva naval parley of 1927.

The Foreign Relations Committee has its regular meeting on Wednesday, and Chairman Borah hopes to get the treaty up for consideration again at that time.

There apparently is no intention of making public the communications. Secretary Stimson has asked that they be kept secret and it is the consensus among committee members that the papers will be held in confidence.

LEAKY TANK HALTED HOP OF MEXICAN

Col. Fierro Spent Night on Texas Ranch After Losing His Supply of Gasoline

SAN ANTONIO, June 2. (AP)—Col. Roberto Fierro, Mexican aviator, who landed at Winsburn Field shortly before noon Monday, dispelling fears for his safety after he had failed to put in an earlier appearance in making a flight from Los Angeles to New York City tonight said he will take off from here in an effort to make a nonstop flight to that city Wednesday.

After remaining there a few days he plans to make a nonstop flight from New York City to Mexico City.

Col. Fierro said he was forced down near San Angelo Sunday afternoon due to loss of gasoline through a leak in the tanks. He spent the night at the O. B. Page ranch. In making the forced landing he said he brought the ship to ground on a prairie and in doing so struck a tree and damaged a wheel, but not sufficiently to prevent his taking off later.

After spending the night at the ranch he said he obtained gasoline from San Angelo and took off for San Antonio at 9:45 this morning. Original plans called for his landing at Kelly Field Sunday night in the first leg of the flight to New York.

Wells Accused of Plagiarism

TORONTO, June 2. (AP)—Charging plagiarism against H. G. Wells, English author, Florence A. Deeks of Toronto started action today asking $500,000 damages. Miss Deeks said matter from her book, "The Web," was contained in Mr. Wells's "Outline of History."

Her first claim was filed in 1922, but the taking of evidence in England and elsewhere and other processes of litigation have delayed the actual hearing.

Mr. Wells and his publishers deny knowledge of the existence of "The Web."

SCOTTISH DUCHESS TO RECEIVE DEGREE

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Arriving here yesterday on the liner Caronia to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from Columbia University, the Duchess of Atholl, first Scottish woman to sit in Parliament, was met by Mrs. Nicholas Murray Butler, wife of the president of Columbia.

She discussed conditions in her country with reporters, expressing the belief that the only remedy for unemployment in Great Britain is a high protective tariff.

CONGRESS VOIDS PENSIONS VETO

that Mr. Hoover was ready to approve a modified measure, but it was too late to stop the Senate, where an agreement previously had been entered into calling for a vote on the veto at 3 o'clock.

It was veterans' legislation that brought Calvin Coolidge one of his greatest reverses in Congress. His veto of the soldier bonus insurance measure was overridden in both the Senate and House. These votes, however, were 59 to 26, in the Senate, and 313 to 78 in the House.

The first vote in the Senate on a Hoover veto attracted considerable interest and members of the House crowded about the chamber during the roll call.

NEVER IN DOUBT

Knutson's motion to postpone a vote in the House was rejected, 233 to 65. After a brief parliamentary skirmish, the House proceeded without debate to vote on the veto and the necessary two-thirds majority was never in doubt.

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, led the move in the Senate against the veto. He was joined in debate by speakers on both sides of the chamber. Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, sought to refer the veto message to committee for consideration, but his motion was held out of order.

DICKINSON HAS LEAD IN IOWA

somewhat into the Republican Senatorial race, a three-cornered contest for the party's nomination for Governor was decided almost solely on a proposed State income tax.

Turner, of Corning, supported the plan, which was assailed by his opponent, Otto Lange, of Dubuque, and Ed Smith, Secretary of State.

Fred P. Hageman of Waverly was nominated without opposition for Governor by the Democrats, heading a single slate of candidates for State offices.

Seven sitting Republican Congressmen had no opposition within their party.

Representative G. N. Haugen, veteran member of the House, was opposed for renomination by W. M. Strand, Decorah attorney, and State Senator C. A. Benson.

Dickinson late tonight issued the following statement:

"It is with sincere appreciation and a deep sense of obligation that I accept the mandate of my fellow Republicans."

Angeleno's Kin Goes to Prison

NEW YORK, June 2. (Exclusive) Ernest L. Tufts, adopted son of Graham Tufts, Jr., Los Angeles resident, today was sentenced to eighteen months in Atlanta penitentiary by Federal Judge Caffey for using the mails to defraud in promoting stock of the Atlantic Utilities Corporation. A jury found him guilty last week of the charge. Tufts, with a man named Huston, who was not tried, assertedly obtained $40,000 from "investors" by misrepresentation.

SMILING SLAYER BREATHES DOOM

Nevada Prisoner Executed in New Gas Chamber

"Bob" White Game to Last as He Awaits His Fate

Heart Ceases Beating After Nine and Half Minutes

CARSON CITY, June 2. (AP)—With a smile on his face R. H. (Bob) White, convicted of the murder of Louis Lavell, a fellow-gambler at Elko, Nev., in 1928, died this morning in the new gas chamber at the Nevada State prison.

Death came quickly and apparently without pain, although the 200-pound stockily built man, 40 years of age, strained on the straps that bound his hands and legs to the straight-backed chair after he had taken two deep breaths of the death-dealing hydrocyanic-acid gas. This convulsive movement, which moved his body from side to side while his head was thrown back, was attributed by physicians to a relaxation of the muscles. Then his head fell forward and the body appeared to be lifeless.

TIME CHECKED

It was nine and one-half minutes from the time the ten one-ounce "eggs" of cyanide of potassium, in their screen container, were dropped into the solution of sulphuric acid and water, until White's heart stopped beating, it was reported by Dr. E. E. Hamer, Nevada State health officer, who kept a specially built stethescope on the condemned man throughout the proceeding and recorded the actions of the heart.

Fifty-three spectators, including two women, Miss Mae E. Keeney, trained nurse of Carson City, and Miss Margaret Skeeter, a registered nurse of Reno, peered through the windows of the execution chamber.

GAMENESS PRAISED

White's gameness was the most talked-of feature of the entire affair. As he entered the condemned cell, accompanied by Warden Penrose and Captain of the Guard Wait, his step was firm and he was smiling as he looked steadily at the crowd at the two windows. He aided the guards in adjusting the straps which bound his forearms to the arms of the chair and gave each guard a hearty handshake when their work was completed and they started to depart.

Warden Penrose was the last official to leave the cell.

"Good-by, Bob," said the warden and White with a broad smile on his face answered, "Good-by, Matt."

White was taken into the cell at 4:36½ a.m. It took just one minute to prepare him for the execution and at 4:47 o'clock, less than eleven minutes from the time he entered the chamber, life was extinct.

WARDEN PRAISES PAINLESS METHOD

RENO, June 2. (AP)—Nevada's method of inflicting capital punishment by administering gas to condemned prisoners is by far the simplest and most humane method yet devised, in the opinion of Warden Penrose of the Nevada State prison, who officiated today at the first execution he has ever supervised and the third gas execution to take place in the Nevada prison.

"Executing a prisoner is a very trying ordeal for all concerned," said Penrose, "and the simpler it is the better. Nevada's method is simple, so humane and so rapid that the entire affair is over in a few seconds. The prisoner is subject to no torture or pain of any kind. There are no black caps to be adjusted and no ropes to test. The prisoner's body is not disturbed or distorted in any way and there is absolutely no chance for any slip-up. Death by gas is quick, sure and painless."

The expense attached to the execution of White amounted to 90 cents, representing the purchase price of all the materials used.

Free and Other Candidates File Declarations

SACRAMENTO, June 2. (AP)—Arthur M. Free of San Jose, Representative from the Eighth District, filed a declaration of candidacy for re-election with the Secretary of State here today.

Harry A. Chamberlin, Los Angeles, aspirant for Lieutenant-Governor, filed his declaration of candidacy.

Similar papers were received from John W. Shenk, associate justice of the Supreme Court, who seeks re-election to office No. 2, and from Benjamin K. Night, San Francisco, seeking re-election as associate justice of the First District Court of Appeal.

EDGE AND TARDIEU TO CONFER TODAY

PARIS, June 2. (AP)—Premier Tardieu had a long conference with Ambassador Edge this morning at which was held a "general discussion of all pending questions between France and the United States." Ambassador Edge had met Premier Tardieu several times in a social way, but today's meeting was a long-deferred conference on business and diplomatic matters. Upon various occasions when meetings were planned, Premier Tardieu was unavoidably absent and Ambassador Edge was on his trip of investigation of business and economic conditions in Southern France.

CHICAGO CURBS GANG WARFARE

Police Strike Decisively at Criminals

Sudden Raids Net More Than 200 Alien Gunmen

Swift Deportation Faced by Illegal Entrants

CHICAGO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Police Commissioner Russell moved swiftly tonight to stifle the threatened gang warfare outbreak of which, the commissioner believes, the massacre of three men at Fox Lake Sunday morning and the shooting of eight Chicago Sicilians were but a prelude.

Squads, cruising through gangdom's haunts during the night, were conducting raids calculated to rid the city of a percentage of the killers by deportation. At midnight 200 aliens were behind bars, eighty-two at the detective bureau and the others at outlying stations.

MANY DEPORTEES

Russell planned to have every prisoner questioned in the morning by immigration inspectors. More than half of those in custody admitted being without citizens' papers, Russell said.

It is generally agreed now that the hoodlum outburst that cost eight lives over the week-end will not subside as quickly as it flared up. Rather, underworld observers say, it was the signal for a new and vicious series of attacks and counterattacks that may at the same time make for peace by a process of extermination.

POLICE AT SEA

Chicago is still topsy-turvy from trying to digest the multitude of theories that have been offered from every possible source and from all varieties of gangland experts. With very little except theory to go on the authorities are as much perplexed as they were after the ferocious St. Valentine Day massacre of last year. But this early in the present investigation, the outstanding belief is this:

"It was 'Bugs' Moran's last stand."

And there are a number of reasons to believe that that theory may be the one that ultimately will prove correct. True, there are a number of angles that indicate that Moran's participation in Sunday morning's slaughter was impossible, but they are not strong enough to throttle the idea.

Compared to "Scarface Al" Capone Moran is an old-timer. He has been sickly of late, too, and his followers say that if he hadn't been in ill health when the Capone mob mowed down seven of his satellites last year terrible retribution would have followed in its wake.

"Bugs" during the winter spent much of his time in adjacent Lake county, where the rural idea is the potent one rather than the all-enveloping metropolitan spirit in Cook county. With the approach of summer, it is said, Moran has been looking forward eagerly to a chance to replenish his gang's coffers from the proceeds that would come from supplying beer to thirsty resorters.

But the liquor business in Chicago has not been so good of late and other gangsters—hungry for money—have been coveting Moran's sole remaining domain.

COHORTS DESERT

There came George Druggan, the brother of the notorious Terry, and Joe Bersche and Sam Pellar and Mickey Quirk, to look into the possibilities. There were reports, too, in the typical flip-flop fashion that characterizes the quick changes in gang allegiance, they had become jobbers for Capone beer.

That was rubbing salt on the wound. "Bugs" Moran daily has recalled the St. Valentine Day massacre that almost cost his own life. Not far from the Fox Lake resort where the four invading hoodlums were making merry Saturday night and Sunday morning to celebrate completion of their business arrangements in the county, "Bugs" Moran was still brooding.

And when you ask those who know today if they're convinced that Moran sent a squad of his machine-gunners to Fox Lake to repel the invasion, the unanimous answer is:

"Who else would have done it?"

Because of the week-end freedom with gang guns in Detroit that resulted in the same number of fatalities, some interest is given to the theory that another war is on for control of the Unione Siciliano, national organization that dominates Italian-Americans and in whose membership is included a large number of aspirants to thrones in the empire of gangdom.

Joe Aiello, local Moran ally, who has been struggling for leadership of the Chicago branch of the union once dominated by Capone, has been in hiding for ten days.

SIGN OF TROUBLE

"When a hoodlum of that prominence goes into the basement," declares Capt. John Stege, "there is trouble brewing."

Maybe it was a new bid for power, say the wise ones, but they want to be shown. They are also willing to listen to stories that it might have been the work of a defense squad supposedly made up of expert machine gunners who got their experience in the World War. There have been yarns spun lately to the effect that labor organizations here organized the "defense squad" to repulse gangland's efforts to "muscle in" and seize their treasuries when the alky business is affected by trade doldrums.

At any rate, another period of peace is at an end. Chicago, still able to provide sensational murders even though its annual totals are below a number of other cities, is "sitting on edge" for the next outbreak.

FOOTBALL COACH TO WED

STOCKTON, June 2. (AP)—Announcement was made here today of the engagement of C. E. Righter, football coach at the College of the Pacific, to Miss Margaret Willms, Lodi girl. Miss Willms graduated from the College of the Pacific in 1928 and has been music instructor in the Oakland schools for the past two years.

Mrs. Edwina Garfield and Children

RENO, June 2. (AP)—Mrs. Edwina A. Garfield was granted a divorce here today from James A. Garfield, grandson of the twentieth President of the United States, on grounds of extreme cruelty. The papers in the case were sealed by court order.

Garfield is a son of a former Secretary of the Interior, James R. Garfield, whose father was President.

ITALIANS SET NEW AIR MARK

Maddalena and Copilot Fly Sixty-seven Hours Without Refueling

ROME, June 2. (AP)—The world's nonrefueling flight endurance record was brought to Italy this morning by Maj. Umberto Maddalena, who in 1928 first sighted Gen. Umberto Nobile and the Italia survivors on the ice north of Spitzbergen.

Landing at Montecelio Aerodrome at fourteen minutes before 1 a.m., he and his companion flyer, Lieut. Fausto Cecconi, exceeded by one hour and forty-nine minutes the previous record of the Germans, Johann Risticz and Hans Zimmerman, who in 1928 remained aloft for sixty-five hours and twenty-six minutes.

The new record is sixty-seven hours and fifteen minutes, the flight having begun at 5:31 a.m. Friday morning at Montecelio.

The flight was beset almost from the start by poor visibility, bad weather and unfavorable atmospheric conditions. The tenacity of the two aviators in the face of hardship, however, brought them the success which Maj. Maddalena regards as preparatory for a flight to New York later this year.

The machine used by the two pilots was an S64BIS Savoia Macchetti plane equipped with an A-22 Fiat motor. It is a plane similar to that used by Ferrarin and Delprete in flying to Brazil in 1928 and the establishment of a nonstop distance record taken a year later by Coste and Bellonte on their flight from France to Manchuria.

BROKERAGE SENTENCES AFFIRMED

Stephens & Co. Group to Get Some Reduction Made in Fines, However

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (AP)—Upholding the trial court on thirteen counts and reversing it on four, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed the Los Angeles Federal District Court's judgment finding six members of the chain brokerage house of Stephens & Co. guilty of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud in connection with alleged illegal transactions in securities.

The concern maintained offices in Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Diego, Oakland and San Francisco and was a member of both the San Francisco and Los Angeles stock exchanges.

Defendants in the action were J. C. Stephens of San Francisco, president; R. D. Spicer, manager of the San Diego office; B. M. Wotkins, head of the Los Angeles branch; F. G. Steward, head of the Oakland office; G. C. Hallawell, secretary, and C. L. Wells, the Pasadena member.

Reserval of Counts Nine, Ten, Twelve and Thirteen, will mean a reduction of $4000 in both Stephens's and Spicer's $17,000 fines, but will have no effect on their prison sentences of three years each. Steward's fine will be reduced from $3600 to $2800, Hallawell's from $1500 to $900 and Wells's from $2700 to $2300. Wotkins's sentence of one and one-half years in prison and a $5000 fine will not be affected.

BODY SHIPPED HOME

STOCKTON, June 2. (AP)—The body of Claude E. Robertson, 31 years of age, who died of a heart attack here yesterday while returning to Long Beach, was shipped to his home today. Robertson and his sister, Mrs. Mabel Hicks of Santa Ana, has been at Lake Tahoe for two weeks.

REVISED POWER COMPACT READY

Simplified Contracts Given House Committee

Mitchell's Opinion on Dam Obligations Delayed

Approval of Request for Funds Anticipated

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2. (Exclusive)—Simplified versions of the Boulder Dam power contracts showing in explicit languages just what each paragraph means were submitted to the House Appropriations Committee today by Secretary Wilbur in compliance with a request made by Chairman Wood during the hearings on the initial appropriation for the project ten days ago.

Mr. Wilbur also had expected to lay before the committee today an opinion being prepared by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell answering attacks as to the legal soundness of the contracts and their guaranty of safety to the government, but this was held up becau of final decision dry in the Supreme Court. The Secretary's understanding now is that the opinion will be forthcoming within the next day or two. It is to be made public, Wilbur said.

With the power contracts now before it in simple form to be followed tomorrow or next day by the opinion of the Attorney-General, the House committee may be expected, according to Secretary Wilbur, to pass favorably, before the end of the week, upon the request for $10,660,000 to get work on the Colorado River project started this summer. The item is to be included in the second deficiency bill.

Mr. Wilbur said that the slight revision in the contracts suggested by the committee as the result of Arizona criticism having been agreed to by the city of Los Angeles, the Metropolitan Water District and Southern California Edison Company and associated power companies, has become simply a matter of routine procedure at Los Angeles and the return of the rewritten contracts to Washington by air mail. Wilbur said there had been no hitch in connection with the revision and that the new contracts will be in Washington in ample time for committee scrutiny before action is taken on the Boulder Dam appropriation. This indicates Wilbur expects them all here by Wednesday or Thursday.

SEA FLIGHT NAVIGATOR FILES IN BANKRUPTCY

PORTLAND (Me.) June 2. (AP)—Harry Lyon of Paris Hill, navigator of the Southern Cross in its flight from California to Australia, today filed a petition in bankruptcy listing assets of $125 and liabilities of $12,340. The assets include a truck valued at $30 and a $45 wrist watch. A one-fourth interest in a motion picture of the flight across the Pacific also is set forth as an asset, but no estimate of its value is given.

EIGHT INJURED IN AMPHIBIAN

Ferry Plane at Oakland Hits Sand Barge

One Woman Not Expected to Survive

Accident Laid to Spray or Miscalculation

OAKLAND, June 2. (Exclusive)—Eight persons, five of them women, were injured, one probably fatally, today when an amphibian plane of Air Ferries, Ltd., transbay air-taxi concern, crashed into a sand barge in the Oakland estuary while trying to get off the water on the 11:30 a.m. run to San Francisco.

All those in the plane were rescued after the craft nose dived into the water, but Mrs. J. E. Hawley, 59 years of age, San Francisco, suffered a punctured skull, hemorrhage and other injuries, and is not expected to live. After emergency treatment here she was taken in another plane to the French Hospital, San Francisco.

The other seven occupants suffered shock, cuts and bruises, but were declared not seriously hurt.

The amphibian was in charge of George McCallum of San Francisco, pilot, and Fred Hammer of Alameda, copilot. The same two men were alone in the same plane April 15, last, when it nosed over on the San Francisco side, supposedly from a submerged log. At the offices of the line it was reported the estuary was exceedingly choppy from wind. The accident was attributed either to a burst of spray which blotted the barge from sight of the pilots or to a miscalculation of the distance needed to clear.

Mrs. Hawley was taking her first air ride, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Jay H. Kugler.

Investigations are under way by officials of Air Ferries, Ltd., and the United States Department of Commerce through E. E. Mouton, district inspector for aeronautics.

FOUR MINNESOTANS DIE WHEN BOAT UPSETS

BABBITT (Minn.) June 2. (AP)—Three boys and a man drowned in Birch Lake late yesterday when high wind upset a heavily laden rowboat of a fishing party. Three other members of the party clung to the overturned boat until washed ashore. The dead are Steve Golivic, 40 years of age, Ely, Minn; Peter Hutar, 16, Ely; Joseph Doane, 15, Babbitt, and Raymond Hocking, 14, Babbitt.

MOTORSHIP REFLOATED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (AP)—The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce marine department today reported it has received notice the British motorship Athel Regent, which went ashore May 29 at Los Roques, Venezuela, has been refloated. The tanker was making South American calls on a voyage from England to Los Angeles, when she ran ashore.

DEATH CLAIMS HERBERT LORD

Former Director of Budget Expires in Washington

He Had Been in Ill Health Since His Retirement

Notable Financial Services Done for Government

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Herbert M. Lord, former director of the budget, died today.

Gen. Lord had been in ill health since his retirement as director of the budget last year. His son, Maj. Kenneth P. Lord, recently visited him but returned to Fort Leavenworth a few days ago.

Gen. Lord resigned June 1, 1929, announcing he intended to take a position with the Arthur S. Kleeman Company, investment brokers, in New York. Ill health, however prevented any extensive participation in business.

President Hoover said he regretted the resignation intensely and generously praised his work for the government.

UNUSUAL DISTINCTION

To Gen. Lord belonged the distinction of having been the greatest paymaster the world ever has known. During the less than twenty months in which the United States participated in the World War, as director of the finance for the War Department, he theoretically paid out more than $24,000,000,000. And when his military career was at an end later he became director of the budget, where the chief function was to keep down government expenditures.

Gen. Lord was named to the budget directorship July 1, 1922, succeeding another man famous in the World War, Brig.-Gen. and later, Vice-President Charles G. Dawes, the budget's first director. Hardly had Gen. Lord taken up the budget duties until government officials learned of "the man with the remarkable memory" who could literally quote figures by the yard. The general public had its opportunity to observe the general's powers of memory several years later when the radio was employed to broadcast a meeting of government executives. Hundreds of thousands of persons heard him quote figures but they did not know that he spoke without a manuscript and that careful check of his quoted figures had revealed that they were correct down to the cents.

CAPITAL MOURNING EX-HEAD OF BUDGET

Herbert M. Lord

PROUD OF ECONOMIES

No man was more proud than Gen. Lord when, during successive years, reduction was shown in the amount of government expenditures. He spent long hours in his office in the Treasury, calculating, counting, considering where a few dollars or a few thousand or a million might be trimmed from the estimates of appropriations submitted from the various government agencies. The President told him each year that the budget submitted to Congress should not exceed a stated figure, and Gen. Lord's life thenceforth was dedicated to the task of cutting the total to the stipulated amount.

Gen. Lord was a son of Maine. He was born in Rockland, December 6, 1859, and graduated from Colby University, Waterville, in 1884, after receiving common-school education at his home. During and after his college course, he engaged in teaching, but turned later to editorial work on newspapers in his home town in Denver, Colo., and lastly, in Cardiff, Tenn.

The next step in his career took him to Washington, first as a clerk at the Capitol and later as an army officer. He was serving as clerk of the House Ways and Means Committee under the chairmanship of Nelson Dingley when, in 1898, the outbreak of the Spanish-American War introduced him to military life. He entered the Army as a major and paymaster of volunteers, and continued to serve in a commissioned capacity until his retirement and appointment as budget director.

AIDE OF PRESIDENTS

Practically all of his army service was in connection with financial matters. Twice he was called by Presidents for special detail away from the Army. President Roosevelt picked him to aid in drafting the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and President Wilson selected him as the disbursing officer for government relief for the Salem (Mass.) fire sufferers in the winter of 1914-1915. He was given an appropriation of $200,000 for the work in Salem and turned $153,000 back to the Treasury.

When this government entered the World War, he was finance officer of the Quartermaster Corps. There followed quick reorganization in the Army and Gen. Lord was made director of finance, one job which had jurisdiction over every bureau of the great department. He was awarded a Distinguished Service Medal for his handling of war finances.

Gen. Lord was married in 1886 to Annie Stuart Waldo of Thomaston, Me. There were two children.

Supreme Court Sets Date for Film Hearing

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Anti-trust proceedings brought by the government against ten motion-picture distributing corporations and the film board of trade were set today by the Supreme Court for hearing October 27, next.

One case involves contracts and rules with exhibitors. The government attack is on uniform contract, enforced by the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation and other distributors by which exhibitors submit disputes to arbitration without recourse to the court. It won this suit in a lower court.

The other case, which the government lost in a lower court, centers about the assumption by theater purchasers of contracts of the former owner with the film board.

Zoo Employee Killed by Bear

WATERTOWN (N. Y.) June 2. (AP) An enraged female black bear whose cubs recently had been taken away from her killed her feeder, Emerson E. Joyce, 60 years of age, at the John C. Thompson Park zoo here today.

So ferocious was her attack that none at the park dared go to the assistance of Joyce. His body was badly crushed and his neck broken. The bear weighs 500 pounds.

DOHENY PETITION IN OIL BATTLE DENIED

SACRAMENTO, June 2. (AP)—Petition of E. L. Doheny, Los Angeles oil operator, for rehearing of a case in which Doheny and Foster W. Byers were contesting ownership of an oil lease, was denied by the Third District Court of Appeal here today. The land, located in Southern California, was leased in 1926 from the Crown Oil Company for $100,000, of which Doheny contributed $75,000 and Byers $25,000.

SUGAR AND CAN SEIZURE UPSET

Return of Supposed Liquor Accessories Ordered

Step Taken at Cleveland by Federal Commissioner

Disposition Surprise in View of Recent Court Ruling

CLEVELAND, June 2. (AP)—In what is believed to be the first case so decided in this country since the Supreme Court held that goods used for the purpose of manufacturing intoxicating beverages may be legally confiscated, United States Commissioner Monahen today ordered a seizure of corn sugar and empty cans returned to their owners.

Monahen granted a motion compelling Federal prohibition officials to return ninety tons of corn sugar and 3500 empty five-gallon cans seized in a raid May 10, last, on an Akron (O.) warehouse owned by Leo Isar, reported "corn sugar baron" of that city.

The seizure was made on the basis of the Supreme Court ruling. Monahen founded his action on the fact that a search warrant for the warehouse was based on odors said to have emanated from the place. This, he held, was the only evidence submitted to show the sugar and cans might be intended for manufacture of illicit liquor.

TENTATIVELY CHOSEN JAPAN AMBASSADOR

W. Cameron Forbes

FORBES PICKED FOR TOKIO POST

Boston Banker Offered Ambassadorship

Approval of Japan Not Yet Requested

Was Head of Commission on Haiti Inquiry

WASHINGTON, June 2. (Exclusive)—W. Cameron Forbes, Boston banker and former Governor-General of the Philippines, has been tentatively selected as the new Ambassador to Japan, according to information learned in administration circles today. Mr. Forbes, a close friend of President Hoover, served as chairman of the special commission which recently completed a survey and report on the American administration of affairs in Haiti.

It is understood that President Hoover has sounded out Mr. Forbes on his willingness to take the Tokio post, but has not formally sent his name to Japan for approval.

He will succeed William R. Castle, who resigned as assistant Secretary of State to serve as Ambassador to Japan during the London conference.

New Service Policy

wins nationwide approval

On January 1st of this year, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced a new owner's service policy—the most liberal ever offered in connection with a low-priced automobile.

Immediately it was greeted with enthusiasm by Chevrolet buyers all over the country—because its many unusual features reduced the cost of ownership and assured even greater satisfaction over a long period of time.

The new service policy is a printed document which we will hand to you when you take delivery on your new Chevrolet Six. In plain, understandable language it states the following provisions:

1—Your automobile is delivered in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, ready to operate efficiently from the very first mile of ownership.

2—You are entitled to free inspection and adjustment of your car at the end of the first 500 miles.

3—You are entitled to a free inspection of your car at the 1,000 mile mark, and periodically thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.

4—You are entitled to replacements covered by Chevrolet's standard warranty without paying a penny's cost for either the parts or the labor involved.

5—Provision No. 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, you may change your residence or travel to any part of the country with full assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will give you complete protection.

Backing this policy is one of the largest service organizations in the automotive industry—consisting of over 10,000 authorized Chevrolet dealer service stations in the United States alone.

And because we believe that nothing does more to assure lasting owner satisfaction than high grade service, we have built up our service facilities to a point where they are unsurpassed from the standpoint of efficiency and economy.

Our mechanics have been thoroughly trained at factory service schools. Our shop equipment includes specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. We always carry an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet parts. And our standard flat-rate charges on many service and repair operations are the lowest in the entire industry!

Come in! Let us show you that it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six—not only for smoother performance, greater comfort and smarter beauty, but also for truly economical transportation.

The robbers forced patrons and employees of the Mancelona bank to lie on the floor while they scooped up the money. They were able to take only that which was in the cages, as the bank vaults had not been opened. The four robbers who entered the bank rejoined a fifth member and drove off.

CITY'S STREETS GOLD-PAVED

Milwaukee Engineer Tells Rich Content of Sand Used in Surfacing

MILWAUKEE, June 2. (AP)—William H. Gillen, City Engineer, says there is a city with "streets paved with gold," and that the city is Milwaukee.

Finding particles of gold in the city sand pit, he said: "There has been 3 cents' worth of gold in each cubic yard used to pave Milwaukee streets. A pedestrian walks on $4 worth of gold in a block, and automobilists driving downtown from an average distance roll over gold worth $100. Altogether, there is about $48,500 worth."

RADIO SLANDER SUSPECT TAKEN

Portland Broadcaster Faces Federal Charge

Son of Vituperated Editor Assaults Prisoner

Station License Canceled for Obscene Talk

PORTLAND (Or.) June 2. (AP)—Charged with violating that section of the Federal radio code forbidding use of "obscene, indecent and vulgar" language over the radio, Robert Gordon Duncan, unsuccessful Republican candidate for Congress in the May primary, was arrested here today. He was released on $2500 bail.

Edgar E. Piper, eldest son of the late Edgar B. Piper, former editor of the Oregonian, was arrested on a charge of attacking a Federal prisoner after he had accosted Duncan in the United States Marshal's office and struck him on the head, causing a scalp wound. Duncan had attacked the Piper family in radio talks. Piper was released on $1000 bail.

Duncan, self-styled "Oregon Wildcat," had for three months been conducting an "anti-chain store" campaign over radio station KVEP. Last week the Federal Radio Commission revoked the license of the station after viewing transcripts of Duncan's talks. The commission held that much of his language was "obscene, indecent and vulgar," and members were quoted as having said they were "shocked."

The specific charge upon which Duncan was arrested was that he made slanderous remarks about B. F. Irvine, associate editor of the Portland Journal.

144 Pianos Loaned

FREE

[illegible] hundred and forty-four pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used uprights) will be placed in homes of Los Angeles and vicinity and they may be used until we sell them—which will be an indefinite time. We are vacating the major portion of our storage warehouse, and the excess stock will crowd our store beyond its capacity. We must dispose of this excess. Our entire stock has been priced at greatly reduced figures and anyone contemplating the purchase of a piano in the next few months cannot afford to miss the opportunity. All pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

POSITIVELY NO CHARGE FOR ANYTHING

No storage, no rent or any expense whatever. You must call at the store to make your selection. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a life time.

For Names Selected By The Judges

THE GIGANTIC "Name" Contest is California's greatest and most sensational search for a community name . . . a name suitable for the ever-expanding community embracing the J. B. Ransom Corporation developments of REPETTO PARK . . . MONTEBELLO PARK . . . BICKNELL PARK . . . TRI-CITY PARK . . . SAMSON PARK.

What shall this new name be? It is for you . . . the public . . . to decide. A few minutes' effort may win you a substantial gold award. It's easy to enter this contest.

The rules are simple. Get entrance blanks and complete information today . . . right now! . . . or mail in your suggestions, giving a first and second choice name.

RULES OF CONTEST

1—Contest is open to every man, woman or child with exception of members of Ransom organization and their immediate families.

2—Contest starts May 13 and continues until midnight, July 15, 1930. No entries postmarked or personally delivered after midnight, July 15, 1930, will be counted.

3—Prizes will be awarded on August 4, 1930, at which time judges' decision will be made public.

4—The Corporation reserves the right not to use any name or names submitted, but even though the prize-winning names are not used, the awards will be paid.

5—Those entering contest are not required to visit the Ransom developments, although this is suggested as a means of arriving at a proper name.

6—Entrance blanks may be mailed to 139-141 West Fifth Street, brought in person to that address, or deposited in official contest boxes in Ransom auditoriums on property. Entrance blanks received by mail or delivered to 139-141 West Fifth Street, will be deposited in official contest boxes.

7—There will be three impartial and qualified judges, their names to be announced later. Their decision will be final.

8—Each entrance blank contains space for two suggested names—a first and second choice. The prize names will be chosen by the judges from the total number of first and second choices submitted. In the event that any name chosen by the judges shall have been submitted by more than one person, the respective prize will be awarded to that one of such persons who shall have submitted along with such name the best alternate choice in the opinion of the judges.

9—Only one prize will be awarded to any one contestant.

10—Contestants may submit not more than three entrance blanks containing first and second choice names. Only two names may be submitted with each blank. Additional blanks may be secured at J. B. Ransom Corporation offices or from any of its representatives.

11—Contestants agree that all entries and communications received shall become forthwith the property of J. B. Ransom Corporation and that the contents thereof may be used by it, in whole or in part, for advertising or other purposes.

OUR Marmon big straight-eight has five gears, and, as Chic Sale says, I'll tell you why.

Having that extra gear is not so important in itself. But because it is there each of the other forward gears can be a better gear. That's the beauty of it.

Oh honey, don't be so mechanical!

The extra gear is a very powerful low-low gear. It is seldom used. It can be used on extra tough pulls, or as a compression gear on steep down-grades to save brakes.

But having it makes it possible to make the usual low gear faster. And, in turn, the usual intermediate gear can be almost a high gear—good for 60 miles. And the real high gear, or "cruising gear," boy, you can do 90 in that just by leaning your little toe on the accelerator.

AFTER all, this is California, so we can be ourselves. Life is not as serious as it is back East where they have coal shovels, snow shovels, shivers, excessive perspiration and other tortures.

I like the growing custom among men here of wearing flannels at business. It is one of California's trade-marks. Even our work is a lark in this country (or at least we can pretend it is.)

You native sons-of-guns may not know it, but California summers are won-der-ful. I've tried the past three summers in N. Y. a while and they were sticky, soggy, suffocating.

Make California summers even better by wearing breezy flannel coats and trousers in the store or office. Incidentally, it saves your regular suits. At lunch time today slip into Desmond's and look at the prices on their big bunch of sport coats and trousers — sixth floor.

MAYBE I am rash. But I have promised Parmelee-Dohrmann to get 1,000,000 citizens of Los Angeles to take that sightseeing trip through their store—I mean the trip I discovered.

Sightseeing Trip Parmelee-Dohrmann Co. "See Los Angeles First"

It consists of a free ride to the fourth floor, and then of an enjoyable slow sight-seeing walk down through the four floors of fine things. If there is a museum in town that offers more entertainment, I don't know it.

A fourth floor full of gay clever, colorful, practical kitchen things from refrigerators to proverbial pots and pans. A third floor of lovely glass and china in sparkling array. A second floor of glowing lamps, and festive patio and garden furniture, and radio instruments. A street floor of ticking clocks, radiant silverware, and glorious pottery gifts.

IT WAS a mistake to take Helen to see Chevalier in person at the Mayan. No place for a husband to take a wife—that man! I've been dust under her feet ever since.

"I may be dust under your feet," I said to her last night, "but don't forget I am the guy who buys Arch Preservers at Gude's for those same feet. It's not the money I'm bragging about—it's the principle of the thing. I'm the man who had sense enough to buy you Arch Preservers."

"You're right, honey. Of course I'd run away with Chevalier if I had a chance, but there are brains in that bald head of yours and you are something of a dear. I'd rather have you and Arch Preservers on my feet than have Chevalier and ordinary shoes."

"And don't forget they enhance your beauty."

"They're the prettiest, comfortable shoes I ever donned, Don."

"Before I got them for you, you were shuffling around like Amos and Andy. Now your step is light and lively, and you look more slender and ten years younger. Even Chevalier might like you now."

"I wonder if he would."

Here again next Tuesday.

HIGHER TARIFF TRIPS CABINET

Swedish Ministry Ousted on Farm Relief

Conservative Minority Fails to Hold Power

King Calls Leaders to Form New Government

STOCKHOLM, June 2. (AP)—For the first time since October 1, 1928, Sweden tonight was without a ministry following collapse of the Lindman government.

The Swedish Cabinet, as a consequence of the government's defeat in both chambers of the Riksdag over the wheat tariff issue tendered its resignation today. The Cabinet has been of a Conservative complexion, although without a moderate majority in either house of the Legislature.

After summoning the presidents of both chambers and leaders of the opposition party, King Gustave asked the Conservative ministry to retain control of affairs during the formation of a new ministry.

Heavy majorities brought about the overthrow of both chambers on a question of confidence. The defeat arose from a proposal to increase the tariff on wheat imports, upon which the Cabinet had insisted.

The depressed state of agriculture has been a leading issue in Parliament. Both major parties opposed increasing the levy on grain.

The government was headed by Rear-Admiral Arvid Lindman, who once before had been Premier. It was regarded as a possibility tonight that C. G. Ekman, leader of the People's party, may become the new Prime Minister.

King Gustave on January 11 opened the Riksdag, emphasizing his anxiety concerning agriculture. He said he considered the necessary measures would be passed to increase the consumption of Swedish grain and improve prices. The King forecast the reduction of income and capital taxes. The Swedish budget then introduced showed a total of $216,544,000.

Of a total of 230 members there were only seventy-three Conservatives in the second Chamber. The Social Democrats numbered ninety; Agricultural Union, twenty-seven; Communists, eight; Liberals, four, and Popular party, twenty-eight.

The Lindman government's previous proposal of a higher import duty on sugar had been defeated. His Cabinet was attacked by the Liberals and the Social Democrats on increased appropriations for national defense and other issues.

FRANCO-ITALIAN CONFLICT TENSE

Duel Looked for Between Duce and Tardieu

Fiery Mussolini Speeches Arouse Interest

Interpreted as Directed Against France

PARIS, June 2. (AP)—All Europe is watching with interest and some anxiety a political situation which promises to develop into a duel between two European statesmen, Benito Mussolini, Premier of Italy, and Andre Tardieu, Premier, whom France regards generally as a worthy successor of men like Clemenceau and Poincare.

Mussolini has attracted attention again because of his recent series of political speeches in Northern Italy, wherein he warned the world that Italy's independence and Italy's future cannot be neglected and that, if occasion necessitated, the world would find that the Italian people would form themselves into a solid mass to defend Italian rights.

In another speech he declared that there is nothing more insulting to the pride of the Italian people than to suppose that Italy's recent naval program is a thing which will not be brought to its consummation. And he continued with the phrase that has rung around Europe, "Words are beautiful, but gatling guns, warships, airplanes and cannon are even more beautiful."

FRENCH REACTION

Frenchmen generally believe that Mussolini's addresses were directed against their country, first because of the French refusal at London to grant naval parity to Italy, and also because of the failure of negotiations concerning Tripoli and Tunis to materialize in a manner pleasing to Mussolini.

But French leaders have intentionally sought to minimize the effects of Mussolini's speeches. Foreign Minister Briand has ignored Mussolini's utterances, replying only in the form of announcing his great peace move for the creation of a federal union of Europe.

Tardieu indirectly answered Mussolini by ordering the evacuation of the last zone of the Rhineland, and then on May 18, in a speech at Lyons to former soldiers, he called upon France's veterans to devote themselves henceforth in the cause of peace.

DETERMINED FOR PEACE

"The dead have given their all," he said. "Let the living give their all. Let us struggle against the powers of decadence, of disorder, of routine and of inertia, for there is a great battle to be won along the road of a worthy, proud and fraternal peace. Comrades, raise up your hearts once again. France is in need of you."

The French press has interpreted Tardieu's address as a notice to the world that, whatever other people may be saying, France and her leaders are determined with high moral energy and devotion to continue to struggle for the cause of peace.

But there are Frenchmen who seem convinced that France is showing over-indifference to the activities of the Italians. Foremost among these is Henry Berenger, former French Ambassador to Washington, who, with Secretary Mellon, fashioned the accord which arranged the war debt between France and the United States.

FEARS LETHARGY

M. Berenger believes that the Mediterranean problem needs attention. He thinks that if the "Italian temperature" has risen a little too high in recent years, on the other hand the French temperature has fallen too low.

"There are in this world lethargies which may well culminate in disagreeable awakenings," he said.

M. Berenger voiced his judgment that the establishment of the new peace is no easier than the liquidation of the old war. He is not at all certain, he said, that good will suffices for all times.

"There are national positions which no people can abandon or modify without national peril," he said. "The problem of tomorrow is how these national positions may be brought into harmony with the idea of the European federation. The first efforts to resolve these problems prove that there may be some surprises."

Immense Sums Will Be Spent for War Work

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—The War Department estimates that work now under way or soon to be contracted calls for an expenditure of $25,000,000. This will be augmented by an additional $79,000,000 in the War Department appropriation bill.

Included in the contracts are: California: Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, for hospital war and nurses quarters, $270,000; March Field, officers' quarters, shops, hospital, etc., $600,000.

Philippine Vote Plan Advanced

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—A report recommending passage of the Hawes-Cutting bill to grant the Philippine Islands a plebiscite on independence in five years was submitted today to the Senate by the Territories Committee.

The report was presented by Senator Hawes, Democrat, Missouri, and represents the opinion of eight members of the committee. At the same time Chairman Bingham and three other members of the Territories Committee filed a minority report.

No action is expected to be taken on the bill at this session.

RAIL PLAN TURNED DOWN

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—The application of the Nickel Plate Railroad for permission to acquire control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie system was dismissed today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

They Speak to the Poin

The figures displayed in this monthly statement speak to the point. They say "Conservatism"—and "Liquidity" to those who realize the necessity of well rounded savings protection.

They demonstrate a continuation of the constant growth that has advanced Pacific States Savings to the eminent position of second largest building and loan association in the Nation.

But of more significance: These figures demonstrate a continuation of the time-tested policies which, by keeping our record flawless, have won us the confidence of 65 thousand savings customers.

And of greatest significance: These figures show that Pacific States Savings is growing in strength more rapidly than in size... that our reserves and invested capital are increasing in greater ratio than our resources.

On the basis of this statement, we solicit the use of our convenient 6% facilities for savings by individuals, firms and corporations, executors, trustees and guardians of minor children, and other legal custodians of funds, all of whom are empowered by law to place their funds here. We invite large and small funds.

CHURCH KEEPS MARRIAGE BARS

Presbyterians Defeat Lifting Ban on Catholics

ote Considered Victory for Philadelphians

Day's Session One of Busiest at Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, June 2. (AP)—By a mall majority vote, the one hun red and forty-second Presbyterian eneral assembly of the United tates of America today turned own a committee resolution that ould have stricken from the confession of faith the section that enounces marriage between Presbyterians and Catholics.

The vote was taken on one of ten esolutions offered by the assembly's pecial commission on marriage, ivorce and remarriage, which declared that the section referring to atholics adds no weight to the arriage precautions, but does add a ense of offense.

The resolution evoked stirring debate in which sentiment seemed almost equally divided, and when the ote finally was called for the opponents had a small majority among he 900 voting commissioners. A ount was not taken.

PHILADELPHIA VICTORY

The action was a victory for the hiladelphia presbytery, which had led the only complaint against the ommission's report. An anticipated ebate on the question of the frank erms used by the commission in iscussing sex and marriage proble did not develop.

All the other resolutions were dopted. Several of them definitely laced the northern Presbyterian hurch on record as favoring proper nlightenment on the problems enountered by persons facing marage.

One of these resolved: "That the resbyterian ministry be urged to reach a series of sermons on the heme of love, marriage and the hristian home and allied subjects uring this church year."

Another empowered the Assembly appropriate $1500 toward the employment of a research secretary to o into the problem, provided other enominations do likewise. Still nother gave the commission aurity to publish a symposium on arriage, this to include the best atements on the subject in the eld of current literature. And durg the coming year, the commisn, by vote of the assembly, will ntinue to function with an enrged membership, which will inde one physician, one social orker and one psychiatrist.

MARRIAGE REDEFINED

Marriage was redefined as a state rdained of God for the honor and appiness of mankind, in which one an and one woman enter into a odily and spiritual union, pledging ch to the other, mutual love, hon, fidelity, forbearance and comnship."

Today's session was one of the usiest the assembly has put in since opened last Thursday. It acted n the report of its committee on hristian education, in which a ove calling for public denunciaon of the use of tobacco was forelled, officially settled the turbunt affairs at Princeton Theologial Seminary, and disposed of seval overtures from the presbyteries.

An overture submitted by the esbytery of Los Angeles, was auorized for submission to all other esbyteries, declaring it the belief the church that an unwillingness bear arms should not be conred as a test of citizenship. The estion was raised on behalf of rsons who have religious conviconsagainst war. The vote of the esbyteries will be reported back the next general assembly.

Representative Box in announcing his opposition to the Johnson proposal, declared that in his opinion it "would be extremely unfortunate to reopen the Japanese question" now that the agitation growing out of enactment of the Japanese exclusion law has mostly died down.

"While we were writing the act of 1924," the Texan said, "I became thoroughly convinced that the measure proposed therein relating to Japan was the only feasible one and that it would protect the Pacific Coast and the entire country from a serious menace. I, therefore, heartily supported it and shall continue to do my utmost to sustain the policy then adopted."

EIGHT-HOUR-DAY LAW BOOSTS PRICE OF BEER

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

BUENOS AIRES, June 2. (Exclusive)—Argentine's eight-hour day, which nominally became effective in March, but which a subsequent government decree virtually allowed to lapse for a period of sixty days in order to facilitate compliance with the government's belated "regulations" thereof came into active force today.

Industrial employees generally enjoyed an eight-hour day before the passage of the law, wherefore commercial employees at present are the main interested party.

The general public, which remained supremely indifferent to the law, awoke to find that its first apparent effect is a small increase in the price of beer, which restaurant owners and others are charging in order to cover the cost of extra waiters. Other commercial firms, such as grocers and bakers, will probably follow suit if the law is effectually enforced, but it is more than probable that a considerable length of time will elapse before this is accomplished. Meanwhile some employees, such as waiters, complain that they are footing the bill for the new law, inasmuch as they earn less than formerly.

ANGELENO AWARDED BUILDING CONTRACT

SACRAMENTO, June 2. (AP)—A. R. McMurray, Los Angeles, was awarded a $31,000 contract by the State Division of Architecture today for construction of buildings at three Southern California maintenance stations of the Division of Highways. One station is to be at Serra, Orange county; another seven and one-half miles west of Santa Monica and a third in Big Sycamore Canyon, fifteen miles southeast of Oxnard.

LONE SAILOR ENDS FIRST LEG OF TRIP

ST. VINCENT (Cape Verde Islands) June 2. (AP)—Antonio Gomes Viegas, 50-year-old sailor on a lone voyage across the Atlantic from Portugal to Manaos, Brazil, in a twenty-seven-foot craft, arrived here today. Viegas, whose boat is a cutter of his own construction, left his native village of Sao Martinho, May 3, last.

SHOOTING DISCLOSES DRUG DEN

Counterfeiting Apparatus Also Found by Bay City Police at Fight Scene

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (AP)—Police investigation of the shooting of Royal Kane, 31 years of age, in a well-furnished Gough-street apartment here today revealed what police termed one of the largest narcotic and counterfeiting dens on the Pacific Coast.

When police, summoned by the landlord, broke into the apartment, they found Kane and another man, who gave his name as Robert Thomas. Kane, shot through the stomach with a .38-caliber pistol, was removed to Central Emergency Hospital. The place showed indications of a terrific struggle.

Thomas said there had been an attempted hold-up, but police search revealed caches of narcotics and the counterfeiting equipment. Thomas is held for investigation. Police expressed the theory Kane had been shot by would-be hi-jackers.

A large box yielded narcotics of an estimated value of $50,000 and in several other places in the apartment narcotics were concealed. Several suitcases contained opium stoves and pipes and narcotic needles. Inks, drawing boards and other appurtenances of a commercial artist, as well as a batch of partly finished $10 bills also were uncovered, together with a quantity of jewelry and four revolvers.

ACTORS TO CONVENE

VIENNA (Austria) June 2. (AP)—New problems confronting the theater fraternity, including radio and talking films, will be discussed at the Third International Actors' Congress here from the 21st to 28th inst. The spiritual and artistic situation in the theater will be paramount topics.

SPEEDY TARIFF ACTION URGED

Conditions Declared to be Serious and Critical

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Two Democratic Senators, one from the Northwest and the other from New England, joined in a demand in the Senate today that speedy disposition be made of the tariff bill in order that business may plan for the future.

Democratic leaders, however, disclaiming any attempt unduly to delay final action, pointed out that the two conference reports materially changed the Senate and House bills and served notice they will be discussed fully. A vote is not expected before the latter part of the week.

As soon as Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, called up the second report, covering only half a dozen important provisions, including the new flexible clause, Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, demanded an immediate vote without further debate.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, joined in urging "reasonable haste," saying he had reason to believe that business is "in a very serious and critical condition" and appeals were coming to him for quick action, even from opponents of the measure.

A Longer Vacation when you go Southern Pacific

YOU add hours or days to play-time when you go swiftly by train. You have more time there, and on the way, carefree relaxation and rest. Your vacation starts the moment you board your comfortable Pullman.

On the Pacific Coast, Southern Pacific's lines seem to have been planned for vacationists, so directly and quickly do they reach favorite resorts and vacation cities. Trains are actually timed to make vacations longer.

Here are a few of the many places from which you can choose:

San Francisco: Five overnight trains save the days for play. The "Sunset," for instance, leaves Los Angeles 6:25 p.m.; arrives San Francisco 8:25 a.m. Or, if you prefer, an interesting 12-hour daylight trip up the Coast—or go through the interesting San Joaquin Valley. Nine trains between Los Angeles and San Francisco every day—to suit your plans.

Yosemite: Through sleeper Los Angeles to El Portal, gateway to the Yosemite. Leaves daily at 6:10 p.m. You're in the Valley for lunch next day.

Del Monte: Your choice of trains again. Leave Los Angeles in the evening—dinner on the train—arrive at Del Monte for breakfast. Or leave Los Angeles in the morning. Arrive Del Monte in time for dinner.

Santa Barbara: Six trains each way every day. Only three hours en route. Ideal week-end trip.

Lake Tahoe: Step into your comfortable Pullman in Los Angeles tonight. You're at Tahoe in time for dinner tomorrow evening. Go via Sacramento or choice of trains via San Francisco.

MERGER OF COACH LINES MARKS FORWARD STEP

Pacific Greyhound Officials Pledge Better Service at Lower Cost Due to Consolidation

One of the greatest steps in western transportation development was perfected in the consolidation of seventeen of the leading motorcoach companies to form Pacific Greyhound Lines.

Authorization for the consolidation recently was granted the motor coach companies by the California State Railroad Commission.

The lines which merged their identities into Pacific Greyhound Lines are Pickwick Stages System, California Transit Company (Yelloway,) Southern Pacific Motor Transport Company, Oregon Stages, Peninsula Rapid Transit Company, Golden Gate Stages, Auto Transit Company, Boyd Stage Lines, Calistoga and Clear Lake Stages, Kern County Transportation Corporation, Pacific Coast Motor Coach Company, Shasta Transit Company, Pacific Auto Stages, Sierra Nevada Stages, Coast Auto Lines and Pacific Stages, Inc.

BENEFITS PROMISED

"Amazing growth of motorcoach transportation from a local to a nation-wide travel industry demanded a new system of unified management," T. B. Wilson, president of Pacific Greyhound Lines, said in explaining the scope of the consolidation.

"Improved unified motorcoach service, finer equipment, lower fares in many instances, a single high standard of courtesy throughout the entire organization, are but a few of the benefits motor-coach patrons will enjoy as a result of the consolidation.

"Under the aegis of Pacific Greyhound Lines virtually every community now served by motor-coach lines will enjoy more frequent service, better connections and, in many instances, a reduction in the cost of travel by motor-coach."

Pacific Greyhound Lines operates over 9245 miles of route; has 695 motorcoaches in service and transports approximately 400,000 passengers each month.

Taxes paid by the company total $622,000 annually, of which amount $260,000 was paid in gasoline taxes and the balance on gross revenue.

Investment in rolling stock, terminals and garages is approximately $10,000,000, Wilson said.

BETTER SERVICE

Betterment of service was one of the immediate results of the consolidation.

According to H. A. Wooster, general traffic manager, the entire motor-coach service from El Paso to Phoenix to Los Angeles to San Francisco to Portland and Salt Lake City to Reno to Sacramento to San Francisco and thence to Portland or Los Angeles has been so tied in together that there is practically no delay in making connections to any part of the Pacific Greyhound system.

Another result of unified operation has been the regulation of feeder services and branch-line operation so as to afford close connections with through service on the main lines in every direction.

The consolidation also has made possible the establishment of uniform methods of handling baggage and express and the sale of tickets.

FARE ADJUSTMENT

It has put feeder lines formerly operating at a high rate per mile on an average rate basis, resulting in fare reductions in many instances. While this adjustment has not yet been completed it is part of the work now being done to effect a complete tariff adjustment of the entire system.

Pacific Greyhound Lines, through its connections in the Middle West and through to the Atlantic seaboard, has been able to standardize all its services so that motorcoach patrons may be assured of receiving the same degree of high-class service from coast to coast.

Pacific Greyhound Lines is the common operating name for various leading motorcoach lines which were already under one ownership and management, Earl A. Bagby, vice-president and general counsel for Pacific Greyhound Lines, explained in discussing technical details involved in the consolidation.

NEW OPERATING UNIT

Under authority of the Railroad Commission, assets and operating rights of the companies consolidated in Pacific Greyhound Lines have been transferred to the new operating company, Bagby said. These companies will be dissolved as corporate entities and services rendered by each will be maintained by Pacific Greyhound Lines.

"The consolidation will eliminate duplication of service and at the same time increase the availability of existing motorcoach travel in every direction," Bagby said.

Principal officers of Pacific Greyhound Lines, besides Wilson, Bagby and Wooster, are M. M. McKinstry, secretary and treasurer; L. D. Jones, general manager; J. H. Hodge, assistant general manager with headquarters in Los Angeles; A. B. Freyschlag, general superintendent, and Mort J. Donoghue, manager of development.

BAPTISTS ASK FILM CONTROL

Convention Resolution Recommends Federal Regulation of Industry

CLEVELAND, June 2. (AP)—The national convention of the Northern Baptist Church here is on record tonight recommending Federal control of the motion-picture industry and advocating an unwavering defense of the prohibition laws. Resolutions on these subjects were approved today as the convention neared its final session.

A committee report on relations with the Federal Council of Churches in Christ also was adopted. The committee had considered whether the sponsoring of a radio preacher by the council is a proper function.

"While recognizing the unique phase of this situation, we would not favor making this precedent by which the Federal Council would undertake the appointment of an official preaching ministry," the committee reported.

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York, prominent exponent of liberal theology, was the chief speaker at the closing program tonight. His subject was "After Nineteen Hundred Years."

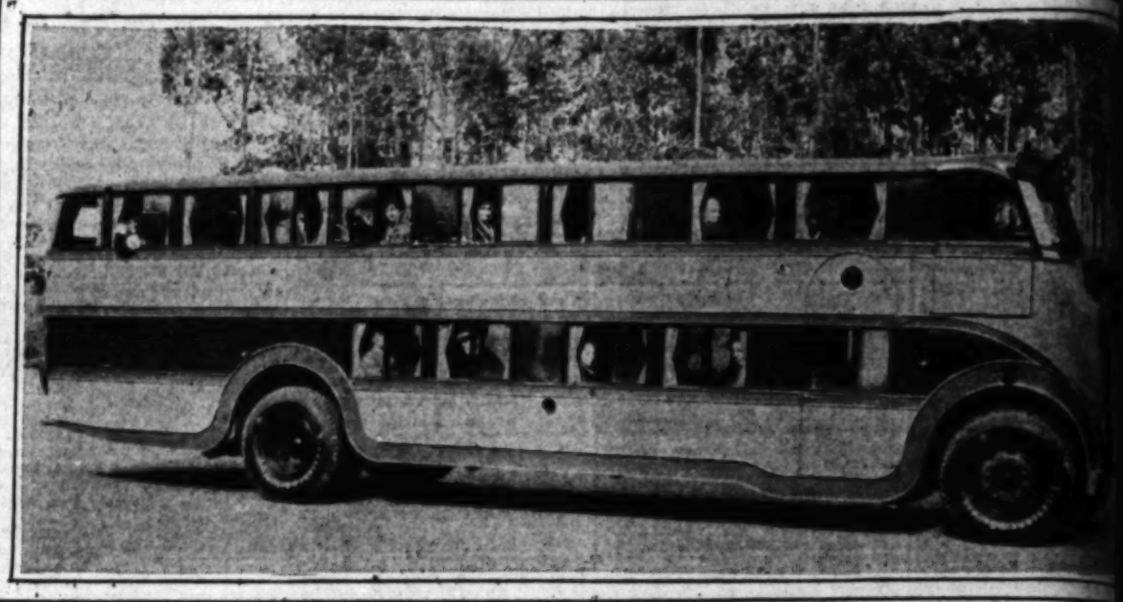
House Quintet Opposes Trial Without Jury

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Five members of the House Judiciary Committee today filed minority reports against the Hoover law enforcement commission's bill to authorize United States commissioners to handle petty prohibition offenses without a jury.

The bill is to be considered by the House tomorrow. The five members contend it is unconstitutional, depriving an accused of trial by jury and inaugurating a new procedure in criminal prosecutions. They hold it will not assist in relieving congestion because it is not practical.

Those signing were Representatives La Guardia of New York, and Bachmann, West Virginia, Republicans, and Tucker, Virginia; Dominick, South Carolina, and Celler, New York, Democrats.

New Coach Carries Fifty-three Passengers



NEWEST COACH SETS STANDARD

Pickwick Duplex Attracts Widespread Attention

Representing the most radical departure in recent years in motorcoach design and construction, the new Pickwick duplex fifty-three-passenger day coach, first of a projected fleet of similar carriers, has successfully completed its initial road tests, it was announced by Charles F. Wren, president of the Pickwick Corporation and Pickwick Motor Coach Works of Los Angeles.

Interest of motor-coach manufacturers throughout this country and abroad has been attracted by the new double-deck vehicle, which has been inspected by representatives of coach makers in England, Germany, Japan and other foreign countries, in addition to others from Detroit, New York, Oakland and other cities, Mr. Wren said. Coach builders who have seen the Pickwick duplex pronounce it the greatest forward step in motor-coach construction since the Pickwick Nite Coach, the world's first compartment sleeper bus, introduced first in the summer of 1928.

Like the Nite Coach, the duplex is built on the interlocking compartment plan and is designed especially for intercity use. A center aisle starting at the front runs back more than half the length of the coach. Single steps lead up and down into the four-place compartments. The adjustable seats of duralumin are deeply upholstered and covered with velour. Wide sliding windows of shatter-proof glass have tapestry draw curtains. The interior is painted in colors to harmonize with the upholstery and tapestry colorings. The outside is painted cobalt blue and battleship gray.

At the rear of the duplex, beneath the upper tier of seats, is a large baggage compartment, with spacious doors opening at either side. An emergency door for passengers is located at the left side of the coach in the rear. Folding steps drop down when the door is opened.

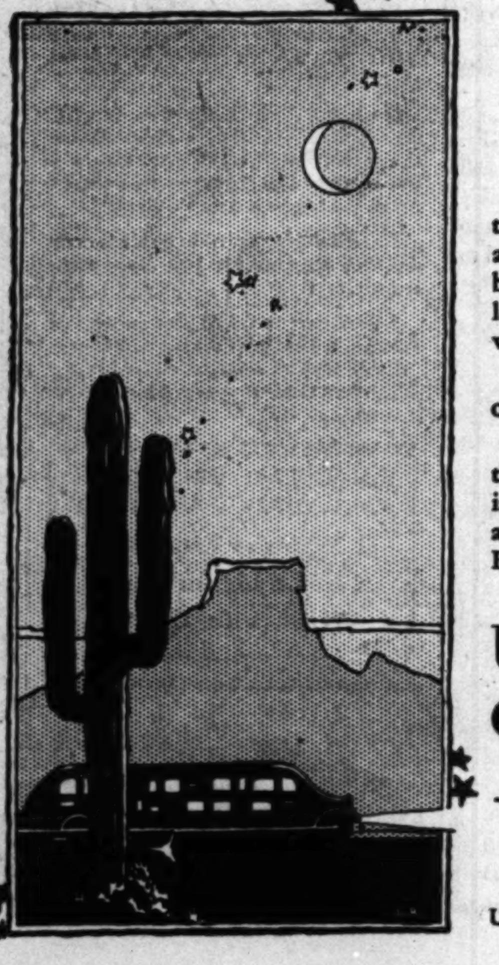
An outstanding feature mechanically is the huge six-cylinder 150-horsepower Sterling motor, which weighs about 1800 pounds, and which may be removed and a complete new power plant installed in twenty minutes. The hood opens on hinges and the engine is removed by loosening four bolts and disconnecting the water, gas and electric lines, which are mounted on a single assembly requiring the loosening of only one additional bolt. A portable folding steel track is the only extra equipment required.

The duplex is constructed entirely of duralumin and channel steel members, with composition roof. Air brakes and shatter-proof glass throughout are among the safety features. A completely equipped lavatory with hot and cold running water is located in the front of the coach at the left, directly back of the driver's compartment.

Portable trays for lunching or card playing may be fixed in the compartments, similar to the Nite Coach arrangement.

The duplex, like the Nite Coach, was designed by Dwight E. Austin, vice-president and general manager of the Pickwick Motor Coach Works, which occupies a six-acre site on the outskirts of El Segundo, near Los Angeles. The plans were worked out by Mr. Austin in collaboration with Mr. Wren, cofounder of the Pickwick Stages System.

"Aside from its record-breaking carrying capacity, the features of the duplex which excited comment from coach builders and others who have ridden in it are its easy riding qualities and interior arrangement, which make possible the utmost in comfort," Mr. Wren said.



Why Greyhound uses UNION FOR THE GREAT "NITECOACH"

A "success test" that you, too, can take advantage of.

YOU'VE wondered perhaps why large quantity buyers of gasoline almost invariably choose Union.

The reason, once explained, is very logical.

Laboratory tests are made.

Carefully compiled records on actual performance in hundreds of trucks and cars are scientifically analyzed.

Soon one gasoline heads the list. It meets all the demands for power, pickup, uniformity and dependability.

But in MILEAGE it stands supreme. It goes a little farther. It lasts a little longer.

That gasoline is Union —used by Greyhound in the great Nitecoach and in all of its mighty passenger busses—used by successful leading firms throughout the west.

The "success tested" gasoline.

Of course, the MILEAGE that Greyhound finds in Union is waiting for you at any Blue and White Union or Union Ethyl pump.

One Great Motor Coach System Serves the Entire West........

HERE'S good news for every traveler! Today 19 great motor coach companies are combined in one unified travel system under the name PACIFIC GREYHOUND LINES, bringing added convenience, greater economy, new and improved travel service to the entire West.

The amazing evolution of the motor coach...from the chugging buses of yesterday to the mammoth land cruisers of today (which last year carried more passengers than any save purely local forms of public transportation,) demanded a new, unified system of management. To meet this need the leaders of the motor coach industry organized PACIFIC GREYHOUND LINES.

Improved unified service, finer equipment, lower fares, a single high standard of courtesy throughout the entire system...these are some of the immediate benefits PACIFIC GREYHOUND LINES offer you. Now, in the luxurious motor coaches carrying the name "PACIFIC GREYHOUND LINES" you can enjoy all the convenience, the zest, the romance of America's scenic highways at the lowest fares ever offered by a dependable transportation system.

PICKWICK NITE COACH UNIQUE

Compartment Bus Designed by Local Concern

World's Only Day-and-Night Conveyance Described

Vehicle Offers Luxury With Absolute Comfort

BY DWIGHT E. AUSTIN, Designer

The Pickwick Nite Coach is the world's only compartment sleeper bus with convertible berth-seats for day and night travel. Patents granted or pending cover all distinctive features. The name is similarly protected.

The coach is constructed almost entirely of metal, duralumin sheets and aluminum castings being used wherever possible. The Nite Coach is designed, not as a body chassis, but as a coach built in one unit. What might be termed a chassis is a seven-inch steel channel carried below the lower compartment windows on either side. This acts as a guard rail to protect the coach in every contingency. The entire structure and chassis units are mounted on and supported by these channels.

STREAMLINE DESIGN

The general shape is streamlined and all outside accessories are eliminated to add to the graceful appearance and to reduce wind resistance.

The coach accommodates twenty-six passengers for day and night travel, with additional seating accommodations for driver, porter and steward. The interior is arranged in thirteen compartments, seven on the right side and six on the left, staggered up and down on two levels.

At night the backs of the seats and seats proper are extended by a hinge arrangement to form the upper and lower berths. Removable air-inflated mattresses spread over the air-cushioned, coil-spring-fitted seat and back coverings insure a springy, comfortable bed. Each berth has a light at head and foot and the lower berths each have a porthole at head and foot for added ventilation. The portholes are placed so that a person lying down may see out.

COMFORTS OF HOME

Just inside the entrance to each compartment is a dressing space with seat, folding wash bowl with hot and cold running water, mirror, thermos jug with ice water for drinking, ash tray and other toilet facilities. The space under the dressing seats and the floor of the upper dressing rooms may be used for baggage. Additional baggage space is provided over the main rear wheel housings and in the extreme rear of the coach

The buffet kitchen and larder, with ice chest, is located on the right side of the coach in front, just back of the closed-in driver's compartment. The menu includes nearly half a hundred separate items. Meals are served on portable metal tables set in the compartments. Snowy table linen and napery add to the delightful service en route.

A spacious dressing room and lavatory for women is located on the left side of the coach in front, immediately back of the driver's compartment. This room is fitted as completely as any modern dressing room. In the extreme rear of the Nite Coach is the smoker with four convertible berth seats and the men's lavatory, likewise completely equipped.

PACIFIC GREYHOUND

THE history of the growth of Motor Coach Transportation is largely the history of improved service.

As coaches have become more comfortable, terminals more modern, and service more reliable, coach transportation has grown till it today ranks as one of the great public carriers.

In this respect, the unification of 19 great lines on the Pacific Coast into one system under the name of Pacific-Greyhound is one of the greatest forward steps taken by the industry in recent years.

Motor Coaches appeal to the public for many reasons. They are clean and comfortable. They are convenient. They travel the open country and bring the traveller into close contact with the country he traverses. And lastly, they are more economical. They enable many to enjoy travel vacations who once would have found them out of the question; with same expense they enable the seasoned vacationer to go farther and stay longer.

These advantages have all been available through the companies composing the new Pacific-Greyhound Lines before. They will now be available with even greater convenience to the public.

We congratulate Pacific-Greyhound on their achievement. We welcome them to the family of great motor transportation companies serving the nation.

Use Associated Equi-Fractionated Gasoline and Cycol Motor Oil

IT TAKES ALL THESE 5 QUALITIES TO MAKE GOOD GASOLINE

ASSOCIATED GASOLINE IS Equi-fractionated for

① STARTING
② PICK-UP
③ POWER
⑤ MILEAGE

HERE is a gasoline that really possesses all the qualities for plus-performance that you demand. For Associated Gasoline is Equi-fractionated!

No one quality alone makes good gasoline. This is why.

In refining, gasoline fractions in vapor form are taken off at various temperatures within a scientifically-determined boiling range.

Lighter fractions—at low boiling point—are the ones that assure quick starting and ready pick-up. They are highly volatile. They ignite at once. ◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

But, equally-important heavier fractions—at higher boiling point—are the ones that assure power, speed and long mileage. They burn completely away in your motor, but they burn more slowly.

Thus, Equi-fractionated means that you'll find in Associated Gasoline all these vital properties assembled in correct proportion. Accept this assurance of getting all that your motor requires for finest performance.

Ask the Associated Service-man at any red, green and cream station or garage about this motor fuel of proper balance. Fill up, and test it out today.

FITZGERALD'S—for the advancement of Music since 1892

All the Music You Want—when you want it—on Victor Records

HEAR this lovely music of Rudolph Friml—it speaks eloquently for itself. Some of the selections are orchestral throughout, with solo instruments beautifully featured like the passage for violin in Mignonette. Then there are others in which vocal solos and concerted singing have been blended with the orchestra so effectively as to lift the charming melodies to a peak of loveliness. Such well known selections as Indian Love Call and Totem Tom-Tom, from Rose Marie; Allah's Holiday and Rackety Coo, from Katinka; Something Seems Tingle-Ingling, from High Jinks; Only A Rose, and Song of the Vagabonds, from The Vagabond King, are dear to every heart. Of particular interest is the record devoted to selections played on the piano ... and by the composer too.

BRITISH TAKE REDS IN INDIA

Tommy Atkins Tries Hand in Revolt Section

Peshawar Quiet as Soldiers Capture Agitators

Natives Steal Handfuls of Salt and Run Away

BOMBAY, June 2. (AP)—In the Peshawar, beset by a three-fold threat of civil resistance, wild tribesmen and Communism, Britain today made the outstanding move in the strategy that is advancing her arms across the map of India.

British troops, without warning to the communities, marched into two villages of the northwest frontier, gateway to the Punjab, Charasadda and Prang. It was "Tommy Atkins's" turn to try his hand at stamping out the Reds, who for weeks have kept that district in a turmoil and aided the attacks of the other two disturbing elements.

EIGHT REDS ARRESTED

They arrested eight leaders of the agitation and established martial law throughout the areas. Pershawar City itself today was quiet, as was most of the rest of India, in nearly every section.

Salt raiding came to a virtual end with yesterday's en masse attack upon the Wadala depots, in which police and military charged 15,000 volunteers and 150 or more persons were injured. There were no reports of the use of firearms. The officers belabored the raiders with their bamboo staves, troops stood by, but did not charge the raiders. This kept the casualties to a minimum.

Some of the congress members were turned back, others broke through the embattled salt zone and made off with handfuls of the contraband product.

Today the coming of the rainy season ended salt raids.

TAX RESISTANCE

The raiding was succeeded by a far more serious menace—tax resistance. To meet its eventualities, the government put forth a regulation providing grave penalties not only for refusing to pay taxes, but for inciting to tax disobedience.

Government agents began at once to attempt tax collecting but in most cases found the natives had departed from their lands.

The situation was viewed with great anxiety, as continued maintenance of the tax strike, fiscal observers said, would seriously hamper government revenues at the end of the year.

The increasing boycott on British goods is accepted as a sign of growing solidarity among the supporters of the Mahatma.

It was indicated there is serious doubt in official circles that the government longer will be able to control the situation without military forces aidings civil police.

Couzens Wins in Slander Case

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Freedom from prosecution for utterances in Congress was upheld today by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals in approving dismissal of a suit for $500,000 against Senator Couzens of Michigan.

Howe P. Cochran, tax consultant, contended Couzens slandered him in remarks in the Senate. The court took the view that the constitutional provision giving Congressmen immunity nullified his claim.

TWO KILLED BY TRAIN

PITTSBURGH, June 2. (AP)—A boy and a girl were killed near here today as a Pennsylvania Railroad train crashed into their automobile, stalled at a crossing. The dead were Miss Mary Massaccic, 16 years of age, and Rolland Wasserman, 18. Two companions, Alfred Nieri, 19, and Agnes Carrick, 19, were injured seriously. They may die.

REAL ES

A Word to Investors Who "Diversity"

The next thing to out and out speculation is experimental investing. By this we mean the buying of all sorts of securities for purposes of diversification.

The investor who purchases an unnecessarily wide range of securities is not only experimenting, but is also complicating his estate in a manner that requires constant care. At the same time he is increasing the danger of acquiring unprofitable investments, thus defeating the very object for which he strives, namely, minimized risk.

Many people are misled by the old maxim which advises against putting "too many eggs in one basket." In their effort to follow this advice they go to an unreasonable extreme, buying a little of everything that is offered until their holdings include about every type of investment in existence—good, bad and indifferent. Even the estates of many experienced investors include a surprising percentage of securities which can be liquidated only at serious sacrifice.

Andrew Carnegie, one of the shrewdest financiers of all time, once advised: "Put all your eggs in one basket and then watch the basket." That advice doubtless was given with certain qualifications, and was not intended to apply to all cases. Nevertheless it indicates a very definite and very sound opinion against haphazard diversification.

THE ADVANTAGES OF CONCENTRATED INVESTMENT

Obviously, there are important advantages to be gained in concentrating your funds in one form of investment, provided there is no sacrifice of safety in so doing.

It greatly simplifies the whole situation in relation to the keeping of records and the computing of income taxes, etc., as well as obviating the necessity of constantly watching the market on a long list of securities and following the operations of their respective corporations.

In order to enjoy these advantages, however, it is necessary to select the right form of investment; one which embodies the principles of practical diversification coupled with sound security and every other desirable factor.

All of these factors are provided in the Insured First Mortgage Certificates of the Mortgage Guarantee Company which are obtainable in convenient denominations in two to five-year maturities, to yield 6%.

These Certificates represent pro rata interests in a multiplicity of first liens on select, improved real estate in many different communities of California. The principles of diversification are therefore carried to their limit of practicability. However, if the investor should desire even greater diversification for the investment of any considerable amount of money, his funds may be divided among several of the hundred or more series of these Certificates which the Company has in trust.

SECURITY

Another important feature is the fact that the insured value of the underlying liens can not, in any instance, exceed 50% of the appraisal values of the improved real estate which is pledged as security. These values are established under a very conservative system of operation, by State-approved appraisers, and filed with the State Insurance Department.

Hence these Certificates have back of them the soundest form of security known, namely, improved real estate diversified as to both territory and classification, and always of a valuation more than double the total face value of the Certificates outstanding.

INSURANCE

Over and above everything else is the insurance of both principal and interest, issued by this Company under the Mortgage Insurance Act of California. Back of these Certificates are resources of $90,000,000 and seventeen years of successful experience in the execution of insured mortgage loans.

CARE-FREE

When the Mortgage Guarantee Company puts its policies of mortgage insurance on the liens underlying your investment, it means that every dollar of its capital, surplus and undivided profit stands as your safeguard in addition to everything else; and when an institution of this strength is back of your investment it brings you the peace of mind and freedom from care that cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

As a holder of these Certificates you have absolutely none of the cares and responsibilities of the owner of individual Mortgages, and yet you have even better security, plus the insurance of both principal and interest. Supervision of the pledged properties and all legal and technical details are attended to by the Company. Even the trouble of clipping coupons is eliminated. Interest checks are mailed either quarterly or semi-annually as desired.

THE SOLUTION

If you, like many other investors, have been wondering how to place your funds to advantage under present market conditions, we suggest that you investigate at once the pronounced advantages offered by the Insured First Mortgage Certificates of the Mortgage Guarantee Company, including:

Safety of Principal
Certainty of Income
Freedom from Market Influences
Convenient Denominations
Optional Interest Dates
Choice of Maturities
Re-Investment Privileges
Liquidation Provisions for Estates
Legality for Trust Funds, Banks, Insurance Companies, etc.

ELECTRIC BOND EARNINGS TOLD

Utility Holding Corporation's Net $1.97 for 1929

Interests in Various Power Companies Outlined

Value of $175,000,000 Given to Security Holdings

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—The Electric Bond and Share Company's annual report for 1929, made public tonight, shows net income of $32,511,823, equivalent after preferred dividends to $1.97 a share on the 13,556,404 shares outstanding at the end of the year, and $2.23 a share on the average amount of stock during the period. This compares with net of $14,329,263, or $1.13 a share for 1928, on a smaller capitalization.

The report adds that for the twelve months ended March 31, 1930, the company earned at the rate of $2.14 a common share and $2.31 on the average amount of stock outstanding during that interval.

ACTIVITIES OUTLINED

In addition to the earnings statements, the report discloses information concerning securities owned and the general character of the company's business. At the end of last year Bond and Share owned virtually 50 per cent of the common stock, 76 per cent of the second preferred and 64 per cent of the option warrants of American and Foreign Power Company, Inc., which is the only utility it controls. It also owned 16 per cent of the American Gas and Electric Company common, 30 per cent of the American Power and Light common, 30 per cent of the Electric Power and Light Corporation common and 40 per cent of the common stock of National Power and Light Company. These corporations are referred to in the report as "the client companies" which Bond and Share helped to organize, although it owns no securities of their subsidiaries.

Book value of Electric Bond and Share's investments at the end of 1929 was $799,709,025, and the market value $1,072,517,007. On March 31 book value had increased to $859,113,544 and market value to $1,272,444,806. The balance sheet of the latter date shows current assets of $95,291,684, against current liabilities of $5,448,172.

TRUST UNIT ADDED

The company last October acquired the assets of Electric Investors, Inc., an investment trust. Through this transaction it received a diversified list of securities, the report says, including additional blocks of the common stocks of its client holding companies. Bond and Share acts in a supervisory capacity for these holding companies and their subsidiaries, with the exception of American Gas and Electric, for which a financial service is rendered.

The company invested approximately $47,000,000 in shares of utility and industrial corporations during the market break last fall.

On March 31 last, miscellaneous security holdings of the company had a market value of $175,452,355. Approximately 96 per cent of this total was represented by securities of fifty-five utility, industrial, banking and insurance companies.

Van Pelt Joins Broker House

Walter G. Van Pelt, counsel for some of the leading investment and brokerage institutions of Los Angeles for a number of years, has been elected a general partner of Russell, Miller & Co., in charge of the Los Angeles and Long Beach offices, and John Clark Burgard, formerly a limited partner, has also been elected a general partner and will have charge of the Portland and Seattle offices, it was announced yesterday.

Russell, Miller & Co., is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and operates two offices in Los Angeles. Dean Kennedy and J. B. Speer will continue as office managers of the Los Angeles branches and J. L. Hastings will remain manager of the Long Beach office.

BOAT COMPANY TO PAY STOCK DIVIDEND

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Stockholders of the Star and Crescent Boat Company of San Diego will receive a common stock dividend of $187,000, as the result of a railroad commission decision today, authorizing the distribution. The concern, which operates tug and shore boats in San Diego bay, has $63 000 worth of stock outstanding and assets of $387,896.

EFFECTS OF COPPER CUT IN EVIDENCE

Dividend Rates Reduced by Nevada Consolidated, Kennecott and Utah

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Stockholders of the Kennecott Copper Company and two subsidiaries today felt the effect of the 13-cent copper when dividend rates were slashed.

The Kennecott, which, with its subsidiaries, is the giant concern of the world's copper industry, reduced the dividend on common shares from $5 to $3 annually. The Utah Copper Company and Nevada Consolidated, subsidiaries of Kennecott, halved their rates. Similar action is expected by the Anaconda Copper Company later this month.

Nevada Consolidated adjusted its dividend rate on a $3 annual basis, and Utah Copper Company pared its rate down to $8 from $16. All three companies declared quarterly dividends on the adjusted scales.

The dividend reductions had been expected in financial circles since copper concerns made the drastic cut in price to end the buyers' strike, which had resulted in large stocks piling up. At the 13-cent level, which is only slightly above the cost of production, sales of copper for foreign account in May reached the highest mark in any one month in this history of the industry, and domestic sales boomed.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 2. (AP)—The Utah Copper Company today posted a wage reduction effective June 10, affecting all mine and mill employees. Workers receiving $4.50 a day and over will be cut 50 cents a day, and all those receiving less than that amount 40 cents a day.

Franklin Hopes for Pick-up in Shipping Trade

NEW YORK, June 2. (Exclusive) P. S. Franklin, president of International Mercantile Marine Company, today stated that business thus far this year has not been as satisfactory as for the same period of 1929, but that the management is hopeful the remainder of the year may show an improvement.

"Readjustment of capital structure as authorized by stockholders in June, 1929," said the official, "has materially improved the capital and financial position of the company and has, we believe, been satisfactory to stockholders who have received a dividend of $1 per share paid February 15, last, whereas in the company's previous position, there was a deficit of $20,000,000, which made it impossible to pay any dividends. Since 1914 the bonded obligation of the parent and subsidiary companies has been reduced by $51,000,000 and the company now has outstanding a bonded indebtedness of only $18,000,000."

J. W. Haynes, of C. D. Barney & Co., was elected a director to succeed Thomas B. McAdams. Other directors were re-elected.

Motors to Pay Dividend on New

NEW YORK, June 2.—Directors of General Motors Corporation today declared a quarterly dividend of $1.25 on the new $5 preferred stock, payable August 1 to stock of record July 7. The plan for the issuance of the new preferred stock was approved and the exchange on the basis as previously announced will be made between June 7 and July 26. Shares not exchanged prior to July 26 are called for redemption August 1 at the following prices: $125 for the 7 per cent preferred, $120 for the 7 per cent debentures, $115 for the 6 per cent debentures and $110 for the 6 per cent preferred.

A. B. Purvis was elected a director to succeed the late William McMaster.

HOUDAILLE-HERSHEY EARNINGS POINT UP

CHICAGO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Net earnings of Houdaille-Hershey Corporation for April were well in excess of the net for the entire first quarter, C. L. Barnes, president, today announced. In the three months ended March 31, last, net profits after all charges and taxes were $80,365, or 46 cents a share on 174,849 shares of Class A stock.

OIL TRUST LISTS HOLDINGS

Petroleum Corporation Large Owner of Prairie Oil, Prairie Pipe and Sinclair Consolidated

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Listing on the New York Stock Exchange of the Petroleum Corporation of America, investment trust specializing in oil shares, discloses for the first time the exact interest this company would have in the proposed combination of Prairie Oil and Gas, Prairie Pipe Line and Sinclair Consolidated.

Petroleum Corporation, according to the statement filed with the listing application, owned as of April 30, last, a total of 572,700 shares of Prairie Oil and Gas, 564,900 Prairie Pipe Line, and 79,800 Sinclair. These three blocks constitute a substantial interest in the three companies, and affirm rumors of the active part played in current negotiations by the Petroleum Corporation.

LINE INCREASED

The investment trust, moreover, has materially increased its line of Prairie Oil and Prairie Pipe since its organization. Early in 1929 when the trust was formed, preliminary announcements stated that approximately 300,000 shares of Prairie Oil and 550,000 shares of Prairie Pipe would be acquired. The listing application indicates an increased investment of 272,700 shares in the former and 14,900 in the latter.

Petroleum Corporation, however, is not interested in other oil companies popularly mentioned in connection with the proposed combination. At various times Rio Grande Oil Company, Barnsdall Corporation, Tide Water Associated, Richfield and Continental Oil have been named as parties to the Sinclair-Prairie set-up.

As an investment operation, the men behind the Petroleum Corporation have plainly shown their high regard for Standard Oil shares. Aside from the Sinclair block, which is probably held chiefly for merger purposes, the portfolio only lists stocks of three oil companies outside the so-called Standard group.

UNION RANKED

Of this group, the Union Oil Company rates highly with 12,751 shares owned by Petroleum Corporation. The investment in Shell Union is listed at 20,000 shares and in Mid-Continent Petroleum, 77,600 shares.

Absence from the portfolio of such well-known independents as Texas Corporation, Continental Oil, the Morgan Company; Barnsdall Corporation and others will probably cause some comment. Texas Corporation in particular is usually ranked among the investment oils.

Standard Oil of California is the medium for the largest investment by the investment trust in the Standard group. The list shows a total of 51,000 shares, compared with 45,000 shares in Ohio Oil, the next highest. The investment of only 8300 shares in Standard Oil of New Jersey seems out of proportion considering the size and strength of the company, but two of Jersey's subsidiaries, Humble Oil and Imperial Oil are well represented with a total of 20,000 shares.

If the proposed Standard Oil of New York-Vacuum Oil merger is given legal approval, the Petroleum Corporation will be a substantial stockholder. The trust holds 36,800 shares of Vacuum and 13,000 shares of New York Standard.

Other holdings include Standard Oil of Indiana, a total of 15,266 shares, and Columbia Gas and Electric, 13,125 shares. The latter is a leading company in the natural-gas business.

Phelps Dodge Contracts for Natural Gas

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Louis C. Cates, president of the Phelps Dodge Corporation, today announced contracts have been signed with the Western Gas Company to obtain natural gas for a smelter at Douglas, Ariz., and mines at Bisbee, Clifton and Morenci.

Mr. Cates said the Western Gas Company will extend pipe lines from Lea county (New Mexico) gas fields to Douglas, a distance of 210 miles.

The Calumet and Arizona Mining Company also was said to have signed a contract with the Western Gas Company for fuel to be used at Douglas and at a mine at Morenci.

Finance Editor on Broker Staff

Lyndol L. Young and Company, members of the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges, yesterday announced the association with their organization of Thomas Work, who has resigned as financial editor of the Express to accept his new position.

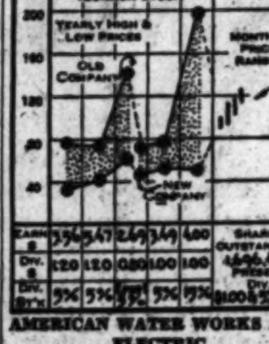
Prior to coming to Los Angeles, Mr. Work was engaged in the investment and brokerage business in Denver, Colo. He was in the army during the World War and after the armistice was on detached service in Paris as a member of the Hoover staff in the American food administration. Later he was manager of the San Francisco office of a New York exchange house.

Net of Pullman Company Drops

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Pullman Company today reported gross revenue from transportation operations in April amounting to $6,247,121 as compared with $6,403,810 for April of 1929. Net after taxes for April 1930 was $165,300 as against $342,301 in April last year.

For the first four months of 1930, gross transportation revenues were $26,037,217 as compared with $26,480,941 a year ago. Net after taxes for the four-month periods was $1,532,196 in 1930 and $2,571,751 in 1929.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



AMERICAN WATER WORKS AND ELECTRIC

American Water Works and Electric is a holding company whose electric operating subsidiaries serve areas in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Ohio and Virginia. These electric interests form the most important of the company's activities, although some 400,000 customers are served with water, the territory lying chiefly in the Middle West and South. Through the purchase of water properties in Cuba, the company has recently entered the Latin-American field. About two-thirds of net income is derived from electric properties, the balance from water works properties.

Net income for the twelve months ended March 31, 1930, amounted to $7,850,553, after maintenance, taxes and depreciation, compared with $6,672,983 for the preceding twelve months. This was equivalent to $3.92 per share on the common stock in 1930 against $3.24 in 1929. This 17 per cent increase continues the steady gains characteristic of the company in recent years, reflecting eletric light and power acquisitions and earnings growth from original companies.

CAPITALIZATIOON

Cons. funded debt, $173,680,400; $6 cumulative first preferred stock, no par, 200,000 shares; common stock, no par, 1,696,405 shares.

Current Data: Vice-President Ross recently denied that the company is contemplating merger with the Standard Gas and Electric.

Rumor of Ship Line Combine Stirred Anew

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Current strength in the stock of American Hawaiian Steamship Company, which advanced today to 25, brings recurrence of reports the company may figure in a consolidation. It also is thought probable a partial disbursement of the mixed-claims awards received from the government will be made in the near future.

Although past reports of consolidation of American Hawaiian with Dollar interests have been denied, present reports lead to the belief similar negotiations are being conducted with the Luckenbach lines.

The latter company operates a fleet of vessels in the intercoastal service, while American Hawaiian occupies a strategic position in the Near West and south sea trade.

Eastern advices to Manheim, Dibbern and Company indicate it is doubtful if a consolidation can be consummated to the satisfaction of American Hawaiian stockholders without an extra cash disbursement of some sort. American Hawaiian had received $2,378,803 in mixed-claims awards from the United States government up to December 31, 1929, for services rendered during the war and an additional sum of $2,409,994 will be paid the company at some later date.

Pipe Concern to Redeem Issue

NEW YORK, June 2.—United States Pipe and Foundry Company has called for redemption July 1, next, all outstanding second preferred stock at $21 a share plus accrued dividends to date of redemption amounting to 30 cents a share.

Second preferred stockholders are offered the alternative of exchanging on or before June 30, next, their holdings for cumulative first preferred stock, bearing the same rate of dividend of $1.20 annually, on a share-for-share basis. The company has some first preferred stock in its treasury and will extend this privilege to the extent of its holdings.

Merger of Soap Units Pending

CINCINNATI, June 2.—Under negotiations now nearing completion, Procter & Gamble Company will acquire James S. Kirk & Co., manufacturers of soap, a closed corporation which operates in Chicago and surrounding area.

Procter & Gamble has had no production facilities in Chicago and the acquisition of this company will afford it an opportunity to increase its business in that district.

TAYLOR MILLING PLANS ADDITION

Grain Elevator Projected for Plant Here

Other Expansion Under Way at Different Points

Directors Meet Today for Dividend Action

Taylor Milling Corporation, following up an aggressive expansion program over the past year, will shortly construct a grain elevator at its Los Angeles plant supplementing its present storage facilities by approximately 120,000 tons of feed, J. Hartley Taylor, president, announced yesterday. The new facilities will cost more than $100,000.

The company is already engaged in the construction of a new and larger warehouse at Monrovia and has found it necessary to build a new warehouse unit in conjunction with its Stockton plant, all of which, Mr. Hartley stated, is due to the increasing demand for the company's products.

Directors are scheduled to meet tomorrow to take action on the July dividend, speculation on which has been aroused in brokerage circles through the recent consistent advance of the company's stock on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. An extra of 50 cents a share was paid in January and current dividends are on a 62 1-2 cents a share quarterly and $2.50 annual basis.

With no bank or funded debt of any kind, the company will have approximately $500,000 cash in the treasury after making the present additions to its permanent assets, according to Mr. Taylor. Cash on hand as of December 31, last, amounted to $300,000.

Operating profits for the first four months of the current year were the largest of any four months' period in the history of the company and were greatly in excess of the same period last year, Mr. Taylor said. Net profits for the full year of 1929 amounted to $507,806 after all charges, including certain nonrecurring charges equivalent to $5.07 a share. Net profits in the final quarter were equal to approximately $1.21 a share.

Taylor Milling Corporation is reputed to be the leading exclusive distributor of poultry feeds on the Pacific Coast and during the past year has expanded its business to include the distribution of its products in Oregon and Washington, where, Mr. Taylor stated, the sales are steadily increasing. The company also covers certain foreign fields.

New Realty Lien Issue on Mart

A new issue of $5,500,000 gold mortgage bonds on the London Terrace Apartments covering an entire block in the Chelsea district of New York City, is announced today by S. W. Straus & Co., through its Los Angeles offices in the Spring Arcade Building. The bonds are priced at $98.16 to yield 6.25 per cent and are due May 1, 1940.

The mortgaged property, according to the announcement comprises twelve apartment buildings on the block bounded by Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, and Ninth and Tenth avenues. The appraised valuation of the property is placed at $16,525,000.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Reports of favorable weather over the Memorial Day adjournment and relatively easy Liverpool cables were reflected in declines in cotton here today. Offerings were not particularly heavy, and after showing net losses of about 17 to 23 points during the early trading, the market became quiet.

Prices were holding fairly steady during the middle of the afternoon, with July selling at 16.04, and the new October contract at 14.70, or about 12 to 23 points net lower.

New Rule for Branch Banks

No more Saturday-night banking will be permitted in the outlying city branch banks under a ruling of the Los Angeles Clearing House Association, which went into effect yesterday. Investigation by the clearinghouse showed the cost of Saturday-night operations has been considerably in excess of the gain in deposits.

Downtown banks are not affected by the ruling. Banks in the central business district are permitted to follow their own inclinations in this respect, and the several branch offices now opening for Saturday-night business will continue.

FUTURE OF SILVER DUBIOUS

Waning Demand for Use as Circulating Medium of Trade Viewed as Ill Omen

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, June 2.—Poor Old Man Silver! He's fought with his competitor, gold, for 2000 years, and he's having a hard time now to stay in the ring.

Silver is at the lowest point ever reached—about 37¼ cents an ounce, as against $1.25 an ounce, at the close of the war.

What's the trouble? In a word, discouraged silver-mine owners find no demand for it. Neither from China nor India nor even from the United States. No silver dollars have been coined in the United States since 1928. The demand for the old "cart wheel" (the silver dollar) is dying out.

Should China, the big silver country, adopt the gold exchange standard, recommended by Prof. Kemmerer, it would be the real knockout blow.

Gold has had no easy time, either. In 1920 it was worth only half as much as it was in 1910. Now, measured in commodities, gold is worth about 50 per cent more than it was in 1920.

But the case of silver is different. It's like an orphan crying in a storm. It may be fighting its last big battle; although there are still some old guard silver champions, who try to believe that Old Man Silver will come back to his former glory.

Racial prejudices may ruin America's foreign trade, warns J. J. Donovan, vice-president of the Bloedel-Donovan lumber mills, Bellingham, Wash.

While on one hand we look forward to increasing our world trade, we wreck our own ambitions by cutting off possible trade relations through tariffs and racial exclusions.

Mr. Donovan pointed out that Japan still resents the exclusion of Japanese from the United States and shows it, not in public demonstrations, but in trade; year by year our exports to Japan are being cut down, while our imports are increasing. In the softwood lumber trade alone business with Japan from the Pacific Northwest last year fell off $44,000,000—a very substantial sum.

Break down the racial bars, or they will break down our foreign trade, declares this western business man.

Mr. Donovan is still very dubious regarding trade with Russia, due to her obvious propaganda to overthrow all bourgeois governments and in view of her nonpayment of American claims amounting to $658,000,000.

But the soviets have insisted for ten years that their counterclaims against the United States and her former war associates more than offset the claims of the Allies against Russia.

China, depressed, discouraged, needs much cautious and delicate handling. But it's the nation whose business expansion will be of major importance to the United States, Mr. Donovan prophesies.

The business go-getter has not as he has been at home. More important in foreign trade is a sympathetic understanding of other peoples, their tastes, temperaments and characteristics. been as successful in foreign lands

STATE CROP CONDITIONS HELD MIXED

Moderately Optimistic Tone Noted in Santa Fe Monthly Survey

Although conditions are somewhat spotted, the agricultural situation in California as a whole is satisfactory, according to the monthly report on agricultural and business in States served by the Santa Fe Railroad, issued yesterday by the company's agricultural development department. Commodities so far placed on the market for the most part have, the report states, found good demand at prices that will make the producers money.

While orange production for the 1929-1930 season is now placed at 25,000,000 boxes compared with 38,705,000 boxes in the previous season, the returns, due to better prices, will be close to those of 1928-1929. The lemon crop is also under that of last year, but the demand is better.

The spotty conditions, the review continues, apply especially to deciduous fruits. Prevalence of pear blight has jeopardized thousands of acres of pear trees, the cherry crop will not come up to previous estimates and both peaches and apricots will be under the official estimates of May 1. There will be a heavy crop of grapes and a fair crop of apples especially in the Watsonville area. Prospects are good for cantaloupes in the lower San Joaquin Valley. Potatoes are moving from the Shafter district and a normal yield is indicated in the Stockton Delta.

Cotton acreage in the San Joaquin Valley has been reduced about 10 per cent, the six central counties having planted 225,000 acres. The wheat crop will be about 10,981,000 bushels. The present outlook is for a larger production of alfalfa and a smaller output of grain hay than last year.

JOINS BANCAMERICA-BLAIR

Robert C. Adams, vice-president, in charge of the bond departments of the Equitable Trust Company and the Equitable Corporation, has been elected a vice-president and director of the Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, Hunter S. Marston, president of the latter institution announced yesterday. Mr. Adams assumes his new duties immediately and will make his headquarters in New York City.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—The strength of foreign issues was the bright note in the bond trading on the New York Stock Exchange today. In contrast with the narrow trading in domestic bonds, the foreign bonds reached higher levels generally as a better demand developed.

The total sales increased extensively, but the first trading day of a new month failed to develop any indication that the temperament of the market is scheduled for an immediate improvement. The market showed strong underlying strength today as it has for weeks, but there was no disposition to climb to higher levels.

Highest grade railroad and public utility bonds were on fairly good demand and prices were firm, but irregularity was displayed by the rest of the domestic list. Prime rails appreciated in value on the movement, but it was in the foreign department that the greatest strength of the day was shown.

Trading was in a wide list of government and industrial bonds of foreign countries and prices advanced generally from ½ to 1 point, with some sensational rises of more than that. Special attention was devoted to German government and corporate issues which were active and strong. South American governments were firm. The heaviest demand was for Japan government 5½s and the bond appreciated ½ of a point.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Will you Share
Power and Light Industry?

Revenues of electric light and power companies in America have increased 493% in the last 15 years; while production has increased 570% in the same period. In 1929 the average consumption of electricity per customer increased about 9% over the 1928 figure, and the saturation point is still far from being reached.

An unusual opportunity to share in the growth and profits of this great industry is offered through United States Electric Light and Power Shares, an investment trust composed of the common stocks of companies producing over 80% of the electric power of the United States.

INVESTORS study their holdings critically in times of financial stress. Anything of which they have the least doubt will probably be sold, even at a loss. The worry of holding on, they fear, may prove more expensive than the immediate loss in letting go.

But investors keep their Southern California Edison Preferred. It causes them no concern. Market fluctuations do not change the intrinsic value of this stable security. Seasoned by the storms and suns of almost a generation, it serenely outrides passing gales.

Check Edison Preferred sales on one of the market's next "Bad Days." You will find them no greater than on an ordinary day. Check Edison Preferred prices. You probably will find them no lower than on an ordinary day.

An excellent security to have at the bottom of your strong box. Dividends are paid by check, quarterly . . . not fabulously high, but famously sure. Shall we mail our new financial folder?

TONE OF METAL TRADE NORMAL

Buying Moderate and Prices Reported Steady

Zinc Status Unchanged; Lead More Favorable

Producers of Copper Again Control Situation

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS

Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix

The metal market has settled down into a quiet and more normal basis with prices unchanged and demand moderate. Copper remains at 12.775 f.o.b. refinery, lead of 5.50 f.o.b. New York and zinc at 4.60 to 4.62 f.o.b. St Louis.

There is no change in the zinc situation. Many smelters are withholding offerings and only small lots are available. It is known that May production is running less than April production and the inclination is to hold off until the figures come out in order to see the direction being traveled and whether the curtailment has been of sufficient moment to make any improvement in the situation. The general condition is that consumption is small, stocks are large and curtailment insufficient.

Better zinc conditions abroad are expected in July as the 30th inst. marks the end of the long-period contract, made in 1918 as a war measure, under which the Australian zinc concentrates have been purchased by the British Board of Trade. It is reported that this contract has cost the government in excess of $20,000,000.

LEAD MARKET OFF

The lead business had dropped off considerably prior to the last drop in price because of unsettled price conditions in London and the feeling that the buyers would like to see the outcome. Thus when the market dropped 10 points, the buying was stimulated. The general rate of lead consumption in the United States is good and shipments during the first four months of 1930 have averaged 64,338 tons monthly, a figure that is actually high under present business conditions.

The more favorable condition of the lead market is indicated by the figures on world production which have just been released and which show the April production to have been 153,633 tons, as against 163,814 tons in March and 162,545 tons in April, 1929. The production drop is a reflection of the lower price which makes it unprofitable for certain mines to operate. The low price of silver, which is so frequently associated with lead, has also caused the lead mines to curtail or stop.

COPPER DEMAND QUIETED

The domestic demand for copper quieted long before the foreign demand and heavy sales of copper continued with the full allotment being eagerly purchased each day. Foreign purchasers have been seeking more copper than they have been able to buy. It is stated that the month of May is going to break all records for export sales and will exceed the former record of 102,250 tons set in May, 1928.

Producers are now in position to await the buyer again. It is roughly figured that in the first three weeks of May sales, foreign and domestic, aggregated 260,000 tons, of which 105,000 tons were for export. The delivery dates were largely June and July, but the percentage that was immediate delivery indicated that the consumers, stocks were very bare.

The heavy demand for copper has not induced the producers to speed up production as it is felt that, while there has been some increase in consumption, it is nothing like that indicated by sales and that the heavy sales have meant nothing much more than the transferring of some of the copper surplus stocks into the hands of the fabricators and out of the hands of the producers.

BUYING RUSH OVER

The manufacturers report that the early rush of buying which they experienced, coincident with the heavy copper sales, is now over and that they are continuing to get orders in satisfactory volume when the present general business, and industrial conditions are considered.

The month of May is going to show the first effects in a material way of the mine curtailment program as this is the month when January and February cutting will be reflected into refinery production figures.

Reports from the custom smelters indicate that there has been a large falling off of copper coming to them since the drop in price. No figures are available as yet as to what this means in relation to total production, but it is believed that a material improvement in conditions will be shown.

FABRICATORS' STOCKS LARGE

It is expected now that many of the fabricators will play their part in stabilizing the market on a lower level than that desired by the producers. They have bought large stocks of copper. Rather than consume these large stocks which they bought at a low price, they can hold them as a reserve and continue to buy from day to day to satisfy their manufacturing requirements and keep the other stocks as a stabilizing influence and an insurance against the producers attempting material price increases.

The estimated consumption of copper in three of the important consuming industries in the United States for the first quarter of the current year, shows an 18 per cent decrease as compared with the last quarter in 1929 and also a falling off in comparison with the first quarter of last year.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Security Prices Turn Weaker on Local Board as Trading Activity Holds Steady Pace

Fractional recessions indicated softening tendency on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday as trading was resumed after a three-day closing interval. Security-First National Bank, Pacific Mutual Life and Claude Neon recorded the sharpest declines, falling back a point each. While the oils were relatively quiet a fair volume of trading crossed the board with the dealings well spread throughout the market.

Claude Neon and Transamerica, each traded to the extent of 3000 shares, headed the activity, while Southern California Edison was the only other issue with a turnover in excess of 1000 shares. The Neon stock, which surprised traders with a burst of activity on the preceding session, on which it was run up 3 points, reacted a point to 40.

Transamerica held within narrow limits and eased 3-8 to 40 7-8. Other issues in the financial group acted in a similar manner. Security-First National ended at 111 3-8, off 1 1-8, and Pacific Mutual Life, which also fell down a point, closed at 84 1-4. Pacific Finance dipped 3-8 to 37 1-8 and International Re-Insurance 3-4 to 44. Citizens' Bank yielded 3-8 to 110 3-8.

Signal Oil and Gas, terms of the new financing for which are expected to be announced today, featured the petroleum group by shooting up 2 points shortly after the opening. The stock later reacted to close at 35 7-8, up 7-8 net. Standard of California improved fractionally, while the other active oils yielded small amounts. Richfield was not traded.

There were no other changes of consequence on the balance of the board with the exception of Western Air Express, which lost 3-4 to 41 on a board lot transaction.

Sales totaled 16,085 shares valued at $712,736; previous day, 21,587 shares valued at $1,009,844.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Despite the lapse of three days during which the market was closed, trading activities on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday fell to one of the quitest levels on record. In common with operations on the senior board only small fractional changes were recorded.

Detroit Aircraft featured with an advance of 7-8 to 9 1-8, a new 1930 top, after a spirited turnover. Electrical Products and United Linen preferred registered fractional gains and were the only other issues in the major list to show improvement. Fokker held steady to 25 3-8.

Chapman's Ice Cream and Claude Neon of New York turned fractionally lower along with Consolidated Steel, which fell back to the bottom price of 7½. Transcontinental Air Transport dipped 1-8 to 9½. Stocks in the penny group were relatively active, Sun Realty showing the greatest change, off 35 cents to 2.30.

Sales totaled 45,975 shares valued at $59,624; previous day, 35,764 shares valued at $104,642.

EXECUTIVE BOND SALESMAN

Our client, an old-established investment banking house, specializing in public utility securities and maintaining offices in Chicago, New York, San Francisco, and Los Angeles, has an opening for an executive bond salesman of the highest type. The man selected must be a good producer and be prepared to take partial charge of the sales force and assume other executive duties.

Remuneration will consist of a liberal salary plus a share of the profits. The position presents a decidedly attractive opportunity for the man who will really work. For an interview, write in detail in strictest confidence or see Mr. Bennett.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Curb prices drifted narrowly today, as speculative enthusiasm continued at low ebb. The three-day holiday failed completely to bring any change in market sentiment. Total sales fell short of 600,000 shares.

Leading utilities, such as Electric Bond and Share, American Superpower and United Light "A," eased fractionally. Central States Electric and American Gas and Electric, recent strong spots, however, held firm. Standard Power and Light gained more than 3 points, while U. S. Electric Power lost a point. European Electric, formed a few months ago, touched 15, a new low.

Some of the specialties were in fair demand. Cuneo Press and Todd Shipyards mounted a couple of points to new high levels for the year.

In the aviation shares, Detroit Aircraft sold up about a point to a new high for the year at 9⅝.

Oils were irregular. Columbia lost a point and Standard of Ohio nearly 3, while Ohio Oil moved up 3 points to 75, a 1930 high.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Investment Counselors for over a Quarter Century

More Than Buying Good Securities

. . . is required to make your capital fully productive.

Successful investment requires more than the selection and purchase of sound securities. No matter what the security, it is most unwise to "put it away and forget about it". Business never stands still. Security values do not remain constant.

Important Developments Are Not Missed

Consideration of this need for keeping informed as to the constantly changing position of your securities results logically in recognition of the value of Brookmire Service. Important developments that affect the standing of investments frequently escape the notice of the individual investor. It is our business to see that they do not escape us, nor our clients. This is one of the reasons why Brookmire guided investment proves successful.

A guaranty of its successful application to your requirements is indicated by a record of experience extending to 1904. An outline of this Service will be forwarded to investors on request.

Debentures Yielding 6.33%
—And Convertible Into Common Stock

Southern Natural Gas Corporation's recently completed main pipe lines bring natural gas from the rich fields of Louisiana to Birmingham and Atlanta. This is the first unit in a gas transportation system which has for its logical market the entire industrial Southeast.

The system now in operation comprises nearly 900 miles of modern pipe lines. Construction now under way is expected to increase the total to 1650 miles of lines by October of this year. This network of fuel supply will cover the most important cities in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi—a territory which is one of the most rapidly developing industrial centers in the country.

STRAUS NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Trustee

We summarize as follows from a letter from the president of the borrowing corporation:

MORTGAGED PROPERTY: This issue is secured by a direct, closed first and general fee mortgage on London Terrace which comprises the entire block bounded by West 23rd and West 24th Streets, Ninth and Tenth Avenues, New York City and twelve apartment buildings being erected thereon. The mortgage is a first lien on the westerly portion of the block covering the entire Tenth Avenue frontage and the easterly portion of the block covering the entire Ninth Avenue frontage. Each of these avenue frontages have a depth of 125 feet on West 23rd and West 24th Streets.

The mortgage is also a lien subject only to first mortgages totalling $5,500,000, on the intervening ten apartment houses fronting on West 23rd and West 24th Streets.

The entire block has been leased by London Terrace Corporation to 23-24 Corporation, which lease is subordinate to this issue. The bonds are the obligation of the 23-24 Corporation and are secured by a first and general mortgage on the lease as well as on the fee.

APPRAISAL: The block with proposed improvements, when completed, has been appraised by Kenneth Slawson Hobbs, Inc., Walter Stabler, Consultant, at $16,525,000, indicating $11,025,000 as security for this $5,500,000 issue, as follows:

Value of Ninth and Tenth Avenue frontages and two buildings when completed (Upon which parcels the mortgage securing this issue is a first lien)		$7,355,000
Value of land and 10 buildings fronting on West 23rd and West 24th Streets, when completed	$9,170,000
Amount of prior mortgages	5,500,000	3,670,000
Total security for this issue		$11,025,000

On the basis of this appraisal, this issue represents less than a 50% loan on the fair value of the property securing it. The total amount of the mortgage securing this issue and of the first mortgages on the interior units is less than 66⅔% of the appraised value of the properties.

RENTAL DEMAND: The Chelsea district is readily accessible from all parts of the city and transportation facilities are immediately available. Recently there has been a decided residential movement to this section and apartments have commanded good rentals and have been in active demand. London Terrace will be a distinctive and thoroughly modern addition to the district and two hundred leases for apartments in the ten buildings now nearing completion are evidence of the demand for the accommodations it will provide.

EARNINGS: The Borrowing Corporation estimates the net annual earnings, applicable to this issue, at $1,208,520—more than 2½ times the greatest combined annual interest and sinking fund charges.

BORROWING CORPORATION: These bonds are the direct obligation of the 23-24 Corporation, of which Mr. Henry Mandel is president and all common stock of which is owned by Henry Mandel Associates, Inc. We have had satisfactory dealings with Mr. Mandel in such operations as the Pershing Square Office Building, The Lombardy, The Tuscany (120 East 39th Street) and the One Park Avenue Building.

SINKING FUND: Through the operation of a sinking fund, $125,000 principal amount of these bonds are required to be retired each year, beginning in 1933, leaving a balance to be paid May 1, 1940 of $4,500,000.

We recommend these bonds. Call or write for CIRCULAR 34-I

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Following is the complete official list of transactions in stocks on the Chicago Stock Exchange today:

Stock sales today, 262,500 shares. Bond sales today, $45,000.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (AP)—The mixture of market news emanating from Wall street today gave traders little on which to base operations. Turnover at 44,581 shares was fair, but operators took little interest in western stocks, except to further lighten accounts in some issues where sponsorship failed to support former hopes. Cash turnover was $966,758.

In this respect Atlas Diesel suffered somewhat. Only 300 shares were sold, but there was no support, and these 300 shares drove the price to a new 1930 low at 24¼. This was coincident with a showing of 77 cents a share earned for the first quarter, making the current return in earnings well above 12 per cent, with the yield from the $2 above 8 per cent. Golden State Milk also went unsupported, hitting a new low at 31¾, a loss of 1¾. Paraffine, however, advanced 1¾ on investment demand.

Fireman's Fund showed the effects of good sponsorship, recovering from its recent dip to rise 3½ points. The buying was brisk.

Utilities moved but little, price changes at the close being fractional. There was no news to influence buying or selling in the group.

Oils also held to a narrow price range. There were a few small gains and a few losses, including Shell, at a new low of 20⅝, down ⅛.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR OCEAN MAIL SERVICE.

Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., May 15, 1930.—Proposals will be received at the Office of the Second Assistant Postmaster-General in the City of Washington until 12 o'clock noon, June [illegible], by ocean mail service on the route hereinafter described, for a term of [illegible] years beginning at a date specified by the contractor, but not sooner than [illegible] (17) months nor later than twenty-five (25) months from the date of the award of contract, pursuant to the Merchant Marine Act, 1928. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Route No. 51—From Portland (Oregon), to Yokohama, Kobe (Japan) and Shanghai (China) to Manila (Philippine Islands) including service to any other ports at which contractor's vessels may [illegible] call, on a schedule satisfactory to the Postmaster-General of approximately [illegible] trips during the first year of the contract term and not less than [illegible] (12) nor more than eighteen trips [illegible] during the remainder of the contract term. The contractor will be required to operate in performance of service on this route new combination passenger and cargo vessels of Class 4, capable of maintaining a speed of 16 knots at sea in ordinary weather, and of a gross tonnage of not less than 10,000 tons, with first-class accommodations for not less than 135 passengers and with refrigeration space of approximately [illegible] cubic feet; the contractor to [illegible] three (3) of such new vessels built and put into operation within twenty-five months from the date of the award of contract, and two (2) additional such vessels built and put into operation within [illegible] months from the date of award of contract. The contractor [illegible] the Postmaster-General may agree [illegible] operation of additional vessels of [illegible] and/or other classes. Bond required with bid, $5,000. The accepted bidder will be required to execute a contract with a bond of $100,000. The mileage of the outbound voyage by the shortest practicable route between the ports specifically stated, shall be the mileage for the purpose of bids and of payment for service. The service to other ports at which the vessels may voluntarily call is to be covered by the pay based on said outbound mileage of the route specifically stated. However, the route may be changed as hereinafter provided. The contractor for service under this advertisement will be required also to carry on return trips [illegible] mail of United States origin [illegible] from foreign countries as [illegible] any U. S. military or naval [illegible] and empty U. S. mail bags, such [illegible] to be covered by the pay based on the outbound mileage. By mutual [illegible] of the Postmaster-General and the contractor, contract may be terminated on or after five years from date [illegible] by like mutual agreement [illegible] of pay may be changed to accord with legislation hereafter enacted by [illegible]. At such times as the Postmaster-General shall require, the contractor [illegible] evidence satisfactory to the Postmaster-General of its intention and [illegible] to place in service the vessels required within the time or times specified. In the event of failure so to furnish [illegible] evidence, the Postmaster-General may annul the contract. In case vessels are taken from the route by authority of the United States for national defense or during any national emergency, [illegible] become unavailable for operation on the route because of force majeure, the Postmaster-General and the contractor may agree upon the suspension of service or termination of the contract without penalty for failure of performance or liability upon either party. The Postmaster-General and the contractor may agree upon the construction and operation of higher or lower class vessels and for a greater or smaller number of vessels than those specified. By agreement of the contractor and the Postmaster-General, any vessels constructed in fulfillment of the contractor's obligation under this advertisement may be operated on any other American foreign trade [illegible] mail route, the mail pay for any such operation to be governed by the [illegible] of service on the route over which the vessel is operated. In case of failure of the United States Shipping Board before the time fixed for the beginning of service upon the route advertised to authorize a construction loan for the building of new vessels required to be put into operation thereon, the contractor may be relieved from the obligations of the contract by giving written notice of such intention to the Postmaster-General before the time fixed for the beginning of service on said route and the contract shall be null and void. In the event of default by the contractor with respect to any of the provisions of the contract, the Postmaster-General may impose fines or other penalties, or may annul the contract. Bids submitted in response to this advertisement shall be subject to any legislation that may be enacted by Congress before the award of contract with respect to the acceptance of proposals for service under the Merchant Marine Act, 1928. Circulars containing the complete advertisement, detailed information and proposal forms may be obtained from the Office of the Second Assistant Postmaster-General, Washington, D. C.

WALTER F. BROWN,
Postmaster-General.

Wheat Futures Point Down on Bearish News

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Reported ideal conditions for the new wheat harvest in Texas and for ripening the Oklahoma crop, did much today to slide the wheat market downgrade. There were also advices of heavy to light rainfalls in Canada, affording relief from the effects of dust storms. Besides, a halt in export demand for wheat from North America was apparent, and friends of higher prices were disappointed because of only 1,580,000 bushels decrease in the United States wheat visible supply.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at nearly the day's bottom level and 1⅛@1⅜c lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅜@⅝c advanced, oats ¼@½c up and provisions 5@12c off.

In connection with the outlook for rapid progress of harvest operations in the Southwest, forecasts were current that the harvest would be general throughout Oklahoma by the 15th inst., tending further to bring about sharp setbacks in wheat values was the fact that although rains in Canada were not as copious as needed in some sections, the downpours elsewhere were ample to take the edge off of aggressiveness on the part of buyers. Considerable attention was likewise given reports of general rains in Australia, assuring good germination and stooling for the Australian crop as a whole, even though Australian moisture reserve is still below average.

Temporary lagging of wheat prices at Liverpool today counted at times as a weight on the market here, notwithstanding that Liverpool closed at a rally.

Corn and oats an upward price trend all day.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, June 2. (AP)—Interest appears to be a little stronger on 48-50's quality domestic wools, but 56's remain a dull grade. A few sales of 56's were closed during last week but the volume sold was very small in comparison with volume of 48-50's moved. Receipts of domestic wools during week ending May 31 amounted to 5,767,000 pounds, as compared with 4,330,100 pounds the previous week.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

That the deep sands at Santa Fe Springs and Signal Hill are dwindling surprisingly low was indicated yesterday with the report of a completion in each field.

The Union Oil Company finished at 7870 feet its Farwell No. 15 well at Santa Fe Springs, and it started off with a twelve-hour test gauging 300 barrels a day.

In the Signal Hill field the Dabney-Johnson organization completed its No. 51 well at 7270 feet, and only got thirty barrels of oil in twenty-four hours.

Starting New Test

While making no announcement of promising indications in its Shepard No. 1 wildcat, in Casitas Pass, north of Carpinteria, the Standard Oil Company has issued authorization for the beginning of a second well on that structure, to be known as Shepard No. 2. The first hole is down 2775 feet. The new hole will be 1000 feet northeast of the first test. The Shell Oil Company and several other operators are drilling or planning to drill tests in that district, but not close to Standard.

The Standard's new wildcat, known as Irvine No. 1, on a small island in Newport Bay, is down 450 feet, without having found anything of note.

In the old Inglewood field the company is down 2500 feet in Vickers No. 124, and is reaming to set casing at 2554 feet in Los Angeles Investment No. 163. Both of these wells are expected to finish within the next 200 feet.

Nothing Exciting

While there is considerable stir about the prospect of a deep sand in the old Torrance field, there seems to be nothing important upon which to build up rosy expectations.

The Superior Oil Company, which recently started deepening an old hole on the east side of the field, is reported to have picked up some oil sand at about 4800 feet, but a similar sand was found several years ago by the Shell organization and one or two others, and there proved to be more water than oil.

Down in the lower end of the district, in the Lomita area, where quite a number of wells proved to be great disappointments when the field was originally developed, a revival is being staged, with the prospect of drilling on several properties. The most impressive evidence, however, is the fact that none of the big companies is investing good money in searching at Torrance for deeper production.

Drilling Ahead

After having obtained a satisfactory water shutoff in its Del Rey No. 1 well at Venice, the Union Oil Company started drilling ahead into what is characterized as a shallow sand at about 3500 feet. Yesterday the drill has penetrated a few feet beyond the point where the test was made, and it was apparent that the crew would proceed for some distance.

There is considerable interest in this well, because the Ohio Oil Company tested what is thought to have been the same formation, in its well farther to the east, and found it unproductive. In the Ohio test there was said to have been a dearth of gas pressure, while the Union is reported as having plenty of gas.

Finishes Shallow Well

The Shell Oil Company, which is working ten strings of tools in the Ventura-avenue field, has just completed there its Taylor No. 52 well, at a depth of 4920 feet, the output gauging 1230 barrels a day. This well is a little deeper than several other shallow zone wells recently finished on the same lease, but they are all pulling from the same sand, it is believed.

In Tar Sand

It was reported yesterday that the Olympic Corporation's Hearst No. 1 well in the Calabasas district was drilling ahead in tar sand at 4700 feet.

Nearly Its Quota

The Signal Hill oil field surprised the industry yesterday by turning in a twenty-four-hour report showing that it has curtailed its flow to 90,000 barrels a day, against an allowable of 89,000 barrels. The deep zones are putting out 65,000 barrels daily and the balance is coming from the intermediate and upper zones.

Venice Applications

Another group of applications to drill for oil in Venice was recommended to the City Council yesterday by the City Planning Commission, and were referred to the City Planning Committee for action. The successful applicants are George W. Dickerson, H. C. Finkle, Edgar K. Brown, William K. Theis, William G. Dickinson, P. La Barbera and Lillian M. Mathews.

New Texas Arrangement

Local oil operators who are participating in the production curtailment program, will be interested in knowing that all wells in the prorated area of the Howard-Glasscock fields have been placed on a daily flat rate of 125 barrels each, regardless of their potential production, making the daily allowable pipe-line runs 20,000 barrels during June.

This is a reduction of 6000 barrels daily from the May allowable. As soon as the recommendation of the advisory committee is received the Texas Railroad Commission is expected to issue a new proration order.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The week opened with a very moderate supply of cattle, which fact, coupled with a strong demand from all interests, resulted in a strong to 25c higher market on nearly all killing cattle. In-between cows, which suffered greatly last week, sold at the full advance with spots showing even more gain. Bulk of receipts were of California origin but shipments from the Imperial Valley were very light. A few loads of Arizona and Colorad steers were also offered.

A load of 1240-pound grass and cake fed steers from Central California topped at 11.40 and two loads of 940-pound fed Arizona steers brought 11.25. Two loads of 1013 to 1047-pound Santa Rosa Island steers cashed at 11.15. About a load and a half of 1112-pound Colorado steers turned at 11.00, with a half load of 982-pound weights at 10.00. Several loads, including straight grass steers, Imperials and Arizonas, averaging from 713 to 1087 pounds brought 10.25@10.75. Several loads of 878 to 1087-pound Mexican steers brought 8.60@9.75 with a few down to 8.00.

Desirable heifers cashed at 9.00@9.50 with plainer kinds down to 8.00 and below. Odd head and small lots of medium to good cows brought 7.75@8.25, with bulk of common to medium kinds going at 6.25@7.50. Low cutters and cutters ranged from 3.00@6.00 with some strong weight cutters up to 6.25. A few young bulls sold up to 8.00 with bulk of medium kinds at 6.00@7.50 and cutter kinds down to 4.00.

CALVES—Receipts were moderate and under the strong call for killing stock the supply was quickly cleared at steady to 50c higher rates, the in-between calves and vealers showing the most gain. A few selected calves sold up to 14.00 with bulk of medium to good vealers going at 12.00@13.50. Heavier weights and plain vealers sold at 9.25@11.50 with culls down to 7.25.

HOGS—Light receipts and improved demand following the holidays brought a favorable reaction in hog values. Yesterday's upturn amounting to 25@40c. Little change was shown on the small supply of packing sows. A load of 197-pound Nebraskas with freight benefit went on an order at 11.30, while practical top of the market stood at 11.25, paid for two loads of 177 to 186-pound New Mexico and Colorado butchers. Seven loads of Colorado, Nebraska and Utah hogs averaging from 162 to 213 pounds cashed at 11.00@11.15 with a load of weighty Nebraskas unsold after noon. A few 228 to 233-pound butchers cut out of loads made 10.50 with desirable weight trucked-in hogs at 10.25@10.50. A few packing sows sold up to 8.50.

SHEEP—Receipts were plentiful and plain quality of offerings made a slow market. Nothing approaching top quality was available and good to choice lambs are quoted to around 8.50. Bulk of receipts were lambs and ewes from San Clemente Island with two decks of medium 73-pound native trucked-in lambs, which sold at 7.50. Nearly 1400 of the island lambs averaging 56 pounds went to a big packer at 6.10 with two decks of buck lambs at 5.50. A deck of 76-pound yearling wethers made 6.00 with aged wethers at 4.00. About 1100 island ewes scored 3.85 and averaged 83 pounds with about four decks of feeder type ewes at 3.00 and a sort at 2.00. Some aged bucks cashed at 2.50. Effective yesterday new crop lambs classified as lambs and yearlings or lambs of or closely approaching the yearling age as yearlings.

Industry Units Merge in South

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Consolidation of seven southern chemical and industrial concerns into the Swann Chemical Company was announced today.

The head of the consolidation is Theodore Swann of Birmingham, who sponsored and developed most of the participating concerns. He started in 1917 by adapting the then new commercial idea of electric furnaces to the manufacture of manganese. The concerns consolidated are the Federal Phosphorus Company, Federal Carbide, Federal Fertilizer, Jax Plant Food Company, Southern Manganese Corporation, Southern Manganese Mining and Southern Manganese Land Company.

Zenith Radio Shifts Policy

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Reversing its policy, the Zenith Radio Corporation today licensed the Utah Radio Products Company to use its automatic and remote radio control which Zenith had held exclusively in the radio field for the last year and a half.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Zenith company, Eugene F. McDonald, president, said it had been decided to follow the policy of the Radio Corporation of America and license competitors with patents held by the Zenith company on a royalty basis. Other firms will be licensed by Zenith under the policy now adopted.

Atlas Diesel in Earnings Jump

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Atlas Imperial Diesel Engine Company, in a report covering the first quarter of its fiscal year ended February 28, last, shows profits of $125,545 after operating expenses and Federal taxes. This compares with $86,290 earned in the corresponding quarter of 1929 and with $101,190 reported in the same period of 1928.

Profit for the 1930 quarter is equivalent to 77 cents per share on 161,985 combined shares of Class A and Class B stock outstanding. After payment of $80,992 dividends on these stocks, there was transferred to surplus account the sum of $44,553, increasing total surplus as of February 28 to $1,011,443. Of this amount $546,113 appears as special surplus, which figure is being gradually reduced as earned surplus increases. Per share profits of 77 cents in the 1930 period compare with 53 cents a share on the same share capitalization in the corresponding quarter of 1929.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

VI

Y, sin embargo, el sueño infantil del chiquillo Carlos se realizó, y, pasados muchos años, cuando era ya hombre famoso y acaudalado, volvió a la villa de Chatham y compró la casa que había sobre el Cerro de Gad (And yet the boyish dream of little boy Charles came true, and many years later, when he was a great and wealthy man, he came back to Chatham town and bought the house upon Gad's Hall). Muchísimos sueños se realizarían si la gente estuviera dispuesta a trabajar para realizarlos tanto como trabajó Carlos Dickens (A good many dreams would come true if people were willing to work as hard to bring them true as Charles Dickens did).

Carlos y su hermanita Fanny iban en la población a una escuela de externos, donde un anciano y bondadoso maestro de pelo blanco les enseñaba a sumar largas hileras de números y a deletrear Constantinopia sin un solo error. Carlos estudiaba tan asiduamente, que el maestro le dio un premio y elogió sus temas (Charles and his little sister Fanny went to a day school in the town, where a kindly old schoolmaster with white hair taught them to add long rows of figures and to spell Constantinople without a mistake. Charles studied so hard that the master gave him a prize and praised his compositions).

ENESIS BACKED BY ADVENTISTS

iteral Creation Accepted by Convention

ook Forward to Early Return of Christ

rohibition Law Criticised as Having Faults

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (AP)—Acceptance of the Genesis record of literal creation in six twenty-four-hour days and an attack on the Darwinian and other theories of evolution featured a statement presented today during the sixth session of the Seventh-Day Adventists world conference here.

The statement was prepared by Prof. G. G. Kretchmar of Walla Walla College, Washington, and presented to the educational council of the conference for approval.

"We accept the Bible as the revealed word of God, and believe that the Genesis record of a literal creation is an inspired record of a historical fact," Dr. Kretchmar's statement read, "we utterly repudiate the implication that man originated from any lower form of life. We look forward to the soon coming of Christ, which will usher in the final restoration of nature to its original perfection."

The prohibition laws were criticised as "faulty" by Milward C. Taft, general counsel of the conference and prominent in Vermont politics. Mr. Taft expressed the opinion that the cause of temperance might be bettered by more enlightened legislation and public education leading toward self-government.

Parents "buried in the world's business" were blamed for juvenile delinquency by Prof. Arthur Spaulding in an address before the parents' meeting.

Delegates were urged to oppose Sunday blue laws by the Rev. F. C. Gilbert of Washington, D. C., in a talk before the religious liberty council.

LOMA LINDA SCHOOL PROGRESS REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Dr. P. T. Magan, president of the College of Medical Evangelists, Seventh Day Adventists institution at Loma Linda, reported to delegates to the world conference of the church, in session here, that such rapid strides have been made at the school it now is the largest medical foundation on the Pacific Coast.

"Men of enormous wealth have set their hand to help our medical work," he said. "Today, one man not of our faith, M. W. K. Kellogg, has set over in trust the sum of $2,000,000 for a foundation for medical research."

It is believed part of the sum is designed to continue experiments with the Coffey-Humber cancer extract as Kellogg is known to be interested in that work and Dr. Magan has been active in co-operating with the co-discoverers of the extract.

Dr. Magan traced the history of the Southern California college from its inception in 1915 to the present. When founded, he said, it was the smallest institution of its kind in the United States and has grown until it rates twenty-fourth in the world conference of the church. Approximately 500 have been graduated, Dr. Magan reported. Of them, 150, or nearly one-third, are engaged in medical missionary work.

Deputy Collects $2500 Taxes on Arizona's Grass

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) June 2. (AP)—Edward Jolly, deputy treasurer of Coconino county, returned today from "the strip," bringing with him $2500 in delinquent taxes collected from Utah cattlemen on cattle grazed on Arizona ranges.

Jolly was commissioned by county authorities recently to make a foray into the strip, which lies between the Colorado River and the Utah boundary, to collect $5000 in delinquent taxes from cattlemen. He was told to bring back the money or enough cattle to balance Coconino's books.

Coconino county authorities decreed that cattle fattened on Coconino grass in the spring should be taxed whether they belonged to Utah or Arizona cattlemen.

Hoover's Land Group Exercises New Authority

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—President Hoover's commission on conservation and administration of the public domain today held its first meeting since receiving Congressional authority to carry on its work.

The commission, composed of twenty-one persons from all parts of the country, will recommend to the President policies to be followed in handling grazing lands, mineral and oil fields and water sheds, including the advisability of turning these lands over to the States.

James R. Garfield of Cleveland is chairman of the commission.

Tornado Rips Over Nebraska

BROKEN BOW (Neb.) June 2. (AP)—A tornado which struck Merna, Neb., today destroyed a Catholic church, a section of the high school and eight residences. No injuries were reported.

The storm came from the southwest, accompanied by heavy rain and hail extending over a wide territory.

HONEYMOON JOKE LEADS TO TRAGEDY

Denver Bridegroom Kills Friend When Latter Poses as Bandit in Dark

DENVER, June 2. (AP)—A short-lived honeymoon ended here last night in the death of a man whom police believe to have been a practical joker, following a supposedly "faked" hold-up.

Everett E. Stewart, 26 years of age, who was married in Colorado Springs one minute past midnight Sunday morning, fatally shot his friend, Cornelius W. Maloney, 38 years of age, when Mrs. Stewart screamed "help! police! hold-up!" as she walked through a small passageway in the rear of a rooming-house while Stewart stayed behind to park his car. Hearing the words "stick 'em up," followed by his wife's cry for help, he turned and fired three times, a bullet piercing Maloney's chest and resulting in his death in a local hospital forty-five minutes later. An unidentified man, according to Stewart, was with Maloney, but fled when the shooting started and has not yet been located.

Stewart told police that about a year ago he and his wife, then Miss Alta Schneider, were held up and robbed in the same neighborhood and that since then he had carried a revolver for protection against any similar attempt. Mrs. Stewart was released by police but Stewart was held pending further investigation.

Police believe the fatal shooting resulted from Maloney's desire to play a prank on Mrs. Stewart.

'Solitary' Given Convict Suspect

SAN QUENTIN, June 2. (Exclusive)—Peter H. Clum, 29 years of age, sentenced from San Diego county for assault to rob and assault with a deadly weapon, was placed in solitary confinement by Warden Holohan late today as the accused assailant of Ted War, 28, Fresno burglar, stabbed yesterday as the prisoners stood in line for the dining hall. War named Clum, but said he could not explain the motive for the attack. He is reported recovering in the prison hospital.

Liquors Seized on Federal Ship

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—High-grade liquors valued at $62,000 were seized by customs officials today on board the American Diamond Line freighter Ambridge at Hoboken, N. J.

Inspectors discovered the liquor in the hold underneath cargo consigned to Baltimore and Norfolk.

The Ambridge, owned by the Shipping Board, arrived last Friday from Antwerp. The Treasury Department has started an investigation.

Northcott Still in Improvement

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, June 2. (AP)—Gordon Stewart Northcott, sentenced to hang for the Riverside county "chicken-ranch" murders, is continuing his recovery in the prison hospital here from an attack of appendicitis.

Dr. Leo L. Stanley, resident physician, said it is still undetermined when Northcott can be returned to condemned row. His appeal is before the State Supreme Court.

COURT BACKS AWARD FOR SUNKEN VESSEL

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (Exclusive)—The United States Circuit Court today upheld a Seattle District Court decision awarding $70,000 as a maximum to the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company for loss of its steamer Floridian off the Washington coast in September, 1928. The vessel was rammed by the Admiral Fiske of the Pacific Steamship Company in a fog.

OPEN SHOP AIM TOLD SESSION

Communities Must Accept Problem, Says Perry

Californians on Program at Duluth Convention

Five-Day Week Will be Up for Discussion Today

DULUTH (Minn.) June 2. (Exclusive)—The necessity of each community accepting the individual problem as a municipal question today was stressed by Edgar R. Perry of Los Angeles, a delegate to the fifteenth annual American plan open shop conference in this city.

The conference opened its sessions today with about 100 business executives of the country in attendance as delegates. It will continue through Tuesday and Wednesday. A. C. Rees of Salt Lake City is presiding during the conference activities.

COMMUNITY PROBLEM

The industrial problem cannot be settled until it becomes the individual problem of each community, Mr. Perry said. The solving of the questions through municipal participation will mean the cessation of business disruptions and upheavals.

Other speakers at the opening sessions today were: Paul Eliel of the industrial association of San Francisco and George S. Parsons of San Diego, Cal. Mr. Perry will speak at meetings of business clubs in Duluth tomorrow.

SUBJECTS DISCUSSED

Subjects taken up during the opening discussions included the development of human interest in industry, settlement of all disputes by peaceful methods and the protection of employees against the hazards of old age. In addition the delegates reported on open shop trends in their individual communities and open shop contractors' problems in the building industry.

The proposed five day week will be discussed by delegates at the opening of the conference activities tomorrow morning. The group is expected to take no stand on the question at this time.

STYLE PUTS RADIO SETS LOW DOWN

Smaller Models Shown as Kind Discriminating Fans Will Use This Year

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) June 2. (AP)—Tiny receivers, not much more than knee high, some of them even smaller than that, will greet radio fans this year.

Vieing with the first trade show display of television apparatus by two manufacturers, an apparent trend toward a decrease in the size of the receiver console was sharply apparent at the opening today of the annual preseason exhibition and convention of the Radio Manufacturers' Association.

Three feet is the average height of the new set, with the design intended to fit into the small apartment and into the nooks and corners of more commodious living quarters.

Television for the experimenter as well as early models of commercial sound and sight receivers mark the initial presentation of such apparatus to the trade.

Anticipated large displays of auto radios did not materialize, few such models being shown.

Fitts Has Part in San Leandro Cherry Festival

SAN LEANDRO, June 2. (Exclusive)—Dist.-Atty. Fitts of Los Angeles county, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, tonight helped San Leandro American Legion Post, No. 117, launch its annual six-day cherry festival by installing the king and queen for the affair.

Fitts flew north for the occasion and was greeted by officials and members of the post at Oakland Airport. After the cherry festival inauguration he was guest of honor at a meeting of district officials, newspaper editors and county leaders at San Lorenzo Inn.

Roberts Sworn as Member of Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia was inducted into office today as an associate justice of the Supreme Court. The bench again has its full membership of nine for the first time since February. Roberts succeeds the late Justice Sanford of Tennessee.

Simple ceremonies, following form laid down years ago, attended the ascension of the new justice to the highest court.

Justice Roberts stood at the desk of Clerk Charles E. Cropley, who read the commission and administered the oath.

Blanton Again Storm Center

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Within an hour after his return today as a member of the House, Thomas L. Blanton of Texas, famous for his legislative vicissitudes, once more became a storm center.

Sworn in over the protest of Representative Clancy, Republican, Michigan, he sat silent while the House proceeded at once to consider a resolution by Clancy providing for inquiry into some aspects of the Blanton campaign in Texas.

Finally the resolution was referred by a vote of 148 to 138 to a committee. On the roll call Blanton voted "present."

PLANS FOR NEW TERMINAL PEND

Fireproof Case Oil Depot on Harbor Board Slate

Estimated Cost of Project Set at $625,000

Move Prompted by Growing Export Business

BY WALDO DRAKE

A 1000-foot case-oil terminal, costing in excess of $625,000 and absolutely fireproof and modern in design and equipment, is planned by the Harbor Department. Case-oil exports have swelled so rapidly in the past year, according to Acting General Manager George F. Nicholson, that a second unit, more than double the capacity of the terminal now under construction at Berth 181, Wilmington, is already a necessity.

Definite action authorizing preliminary work on the second unit, which will extend across Berth 180, is expected to be taken by the Board of Harbor Commissioners at tomorrow's meeting. The port's parcel gasoline and kerosene trade is growing so fast that more than 425,000 cases were exported via municipal docks in March, 1930, against only 272,788 cases in March, 1929. The Harbor Department is meeting the need for additional terminal facilities temporarily by using the transit sheds at Berths 59 and 60, outer harbor, but with completion of the 1000-foot terminal at Wilmington, all loading will be centered on that pier.

The unit now under way, to cost $275,000, will be ready for operation about August 10, next, while the second section, costing $350,000, is scheduled for completion about December 15.

LINER HEIYO MARU DUE ON MAIDEN CALL

Nippon Yusen Kaisha's last new liner, the $4,000,000 motor ship Heiyo Maru, is due on her maiden voyage this morning, bound for South America. She has 400 passengers aboard, of whom most are Japanese, passing through to colonization projects in Brazil. The liner is the fourth built and put on this run since October, last, of a $25,000,000 building program. The other three are the $7,000,000 liners Asama Maru, Chichibu Maru and Tatsuta Maru. Passengers include Lothar Persius, one-time vice-admiral in the imperial German navy; Capt. Christopher Tangen, veteran Pacific master, and Frederick C. Woodrough, writer. Capt. Tuji Goto, formerly on the Anyo Maru, is commander.

George Armes is due from San Francisco today to close for management of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation. He is expected to leave the 6th inst. for New York, where his and other bids will be opened the 15th inst., on four liners for the Panama Mail Steamship Company. Rumors afloat yesterday were that the latter, on completion of the new fleet, would place some of its older liners on the run between New Orleans and Panama. Clay Hutchison, local manager, said it was the first he had heard of it.

Passengers from ports harboring the Mediterranean fruit fly, whose luggage had to be examined, numbered 3473 during May, a local record, according to A. P. Messenger, in charge of plant quarantine. The highest previous number had been 2600. Several globe-girdling liners swelled the May figure.

Panama Mail liner Ecuador sailed for Central America and New York last night with 125 passengers, of whom forty embarked here. She loaded 1000 tons of Los Angeles cargo, including oil well machinery.

J. W. Trefry, freight traffic manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, who was stricken in San Francisco with an attack of acute appendicitis last Saturday and was operated on at St. Luke's Hospital in that city, was yesterday reported well on the way to recovery. During Mr. Trefry's convalescence, Lassco freight offices will be in charge of James Kennedy.

Lassco's freight staff is also temporarily operating minus the services of A. P. Nott, terminal superintendent. Mr. Nott, suffering from a severe heart attack, has been ordered confined to his bed for a month.

Christian A. Jensen, president of the East Asiatic Company, Inc., is due here from San Francisco Thursday for a business survey prior to the arrival from Copenhagen on Saturday of the 16,000-ton motor liner Amerika, on her maiden voyage. The Amerika is the first of three sister liners being built expressly for the European-Pacific trade by the Danish East Asiatic Line. While here Mr. Jensen will be the guest of Walter F. Wilkinson, freight manager for Balfour, Guthrie & Co.

Hamburg-American Line's motor ship San Francisco will be brought in from North Europe this morning by Capt. Heinrich Stocker with thirty-three passengers and 6000 tons of cargo for Coast ports. She will be the last arrival before the joint operation of the European-Pacific fleets of Hamburg-American Line and North German Lloyd, recently merged.

Arnest Compart, coxswain on the Coast Guard cutter Tamaroa, was reported lost overboard in a heavy sea Saturday off San Diego. The craft operates out of the southern port and no details have been received here, except that Compart has relatives in Los Angeles.

Portuguese of San Joaquin in Spring Festival

TULARE, June 2.—About 3500 Portuguese from various parts of the San Joaquin Valley participated in the annual three-day spring festival of the Tulare T.D.E.S. Society, which concluded this evening with a grand ball and fireworks display. Miss Mary Foster is ruling the fete as Queen, being crowned in a pretty ceremony yesterday morning, following a street parade. Two bands and three drill teams were in the line of march. Father M. A. Abrantes of the local Catholic Church crowned the Queen. A barbecue luncheon again today and auction of live stock in the afternoon will be other features.

Salesman Tried for Girl Attack

FRESNO, June 2.—Accused of attempted assault upon Mollie Lehman, local girl, and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Charles Isbell, Los Angeles salesman, went to trial in Superior Court here today.

The asserted offenses took place on the night of December 8 after Isbell picked Miss Lehman and another girl up in his automobile. The Lehman girl jumped from his car while it was in motion and was severely injured.

While Isbell was at liberty on bail he fled to Baltimore, where he was rearrested and returned here. The witnesses who testified today included the Lehman girl, Deputy Sheriff Bacon and Drs. Wiese and Milholland of this city and Neubacker of Hanford.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Crazy That Way." A comedy of youthful love and all its problems amusingly portrayed by Joan Bennett and Kenneth MacKenna.

California, Main nr. 8th—"High Treason." A highly imaginative description of war in 1940. Made in England and featuring Basil Gill.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"All Quiet on the Western Front." A mighty drama of war and its effect. This is one which should not be missed.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"The Divorcee." A daring and well-defined exposition of the modern woman in which Norma Shearer gives one of the finest performances.

Figueroa, Fig. at Santa Barbara—"The Benson Murder Case." More of S. S. Van Dine's delicately divulged murders astutely analyzed by William Powell.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine—"Ways to Strength and Beauty." A German picture combines the aesthetic with the athletic to promote better health.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Dangerous Paradise." Nancy Carroll and Richard Arlen, both "and themselves" down beneath tropic skies. Not too good.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Wide Open." Edward Everett Horton in another of his familiar comedies.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Boulevard—"Caught Short." Rooming-house revels by Polly Moran and Marie Dressler.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Arizona Kid." A sequel to "In Old Arizona," in which Warner Baxter wields a gay guitar in a devilish fashion.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Light of Western Stars." Out where the West begins there is romance for Richard Arlen and Mary Brian.

Palace, Broadway bet. 6th and 7th—"Devil May Care." Ramon Novarro swashbuckling and singing both in a Napoleonic romance.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Safety in Numbers." Buddy Rogers led along the great white way by five of the Follies' fairest.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Be Yourself." Fannie Brice is up to her old tricks again.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Soldiers and Women." Another robust romance of the usual sort presenting Grant Withers and Aileen Pringle.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Cuckoos." One laugh after another is had at the expense of these two clowns, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Across the World With Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson." Amazing incidents of these travelers' expeditions to the South Seas and Africa.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th—"The Big Pond." An ingenious comedy which provides Maurice Chevalier with plenty of opportunity to display his popular personality.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Devil May Care."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Sweet Mama." Alice White turns good samaritan for a change, but all in the spirit of fun.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Bride of the Regiment." A noble romance is broken up by a laughing bandit and there is trouble all night long. Some beautiful coloring. Walter Pidgeon and Vivienne Segal.

Westlake, 636 Alvarado—"The Light of Western Stars."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Eleventh—"The Outsider." Reviewed in today's Times.

Biltmore, Fifth and Grand—"Strictly Dishonorable." A New York success about bohemian romance, which may or may not prove disappointing. Starring Margaret Perry.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Brothers." A sure-fire stage hit in which Bert Lytell returns to the theater in two brothers.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine nr. Hollywood Blvd.—"June Moon." Ring Lardner and George S. Kaufman's comedy on the problems of song-writing returns by popular request.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th—"The Last Mile." Reviewed in today's Times.

Mason, Broadway near First—"The Philanderer." Reviewed in today's Times.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Wound Stripes." A war nurse finds Gethsemane in a tragic drama. Interesting but only fairly sympathetic.

President, Broadway at Eighth—"The Whispering Gallery." Ghosts get into the old house and there is a murder besides, if you like to be scared. With Evan Thomas.

Vine Street, 1615 Vine—"The Great John Ganton." George Fawcett makes a welcome return to the stage, but in a somewhat time-worn dissension between capital and labor.

VARIETIES

Follies, 5th and Main—Burlesque.

Conference on Changed Weir Plans Called

REDLANDS, June 2. — G. S. Hinckley, consulting engineer, J. J. Prendergast, president of the Bear Valley Mutual Water Company, and other officials of the Water Conservation Association, which is planning a weir to be built across the mouth of Santa Ana Canyon for the conservation of water, conferred here today with contractors regarding a change that has been made in the plans.

When the bids were opened at Riverside a week ago it was found that some of them were favorable enough, in the neighborhood of $71,000, to permit of the inclusion of a tunnel to carry the water from the weir to the spreading grounds instead of the open and covered conduit that was first planned. It was decided to ask five of the lowest bidders to bid on the building of this tunnel through the shoulder of the mountain, and these bids will be opened the 11th inst. At that time the contract will be let for the weir, for the intake box, and also for the tunnel or conduit to carry the water to the spreading grounds.

It is believed that work can be started immediately and that it can certainly be finished before the rains start in the fall.

Desert Palms Club to Build Unique Theater

PALM SPRINGS, June 2.—Plans have been instituted for the construction of a unique open-air theater at the Desert Palms Club near this city for the presentation of plays based on old Indian legends of the region. The new club, on the paved highway between this city and Indio, is scheduled to open on Thanksgiving Day.

In discussing the plans for the outdoor amphitheater, Harry L. Lewis, chairman of the board of governors of the club, stated that it would not interfere in any way with the annual Desert Play staged in Tahquitz Canyon at the Palm Springs city limits, as it will be for members of the Desert Palms and their friends only.

The little outdoor theater, according to present plans, will be semicircular in construction, following the ideas of the tribal council chambers of ages ago revealed by excavations of Indian ruins in the Southwest. The borders and walls will be decorated with copies of Indian pictographs from caves and canyons of the vicinity.

The stage itself will be permanently embellished with cacti and other plants indigenous to the desert region which will serve as a colorful background to the presentations to be staged.

Formal ground-breaking ceremonies for the Desert Palms Club were staged late in April. The club will have a central administration building surrounded by residential bungalows, with an elaborate layout of buildings, courses and courts devoted to different sports.

Delano School Bonds Carried

DELANO, June 2.—A bond issue for $14,000 for improvements for the Delano Union grammar school was carried to a special election held today at the West Side School. The vote was 156 for and 39 against.

The Cecil-avenue school will be enlarged with two class rooms and furnished and the heating plants of both that school and the West Side school will be remodeled and enlarged.

New desks for the fourth and fifth grades on the Cecil school will be purchased.

Two Captured After Hold-up

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 2. (Exclusive)—Robbery charges were entered tonight against two men captured after the hold-up of a grocery and market at 2100 American avenue. The prisoners gave their names as Emil Orlemunder, 47 years of age, and Charles E. Van Ness, 36, both of San Jose.

Police report that Orlemunder, flourishing a pistol, held up F. E. Wager's grocery and A. E. Wright's meat market, obtaining $80, after which he escaped in a car driven by Van Ness. Wager, the grocer, pursued in an automobile, and reported the other car's number. It was located, and a squad under Lieut. McClellan captured Orlemunder and Van Ness in a room at Ninth street and Pacific avenue.

SACRAMENTO CRASH SERIES KILLS FIVE

SACRAMENTO, June 2. (AP)—Five persons were killed and twenty-seven persons are suffering from injuries as the outgrowth of a series of automobile accidents occurring near Sacramento over the week-end. Congested streets and highways due to the heavy travel during the two-day period is held largely responsible for the unusually high number of mishaps. The dead: Ernest Meins, 72 years of age, retired baker, Sacramento; Mary Bianco, 14, Rocklin; Melvin A. Due, 16, Roseville; Mrs. Dora Engledon, 45, Stockton; Ambrose N. Foster, 63, Eureka.

RADIO FLOWERS BLUSH UNSEEN

Many Aspirants Kept Off Air for Fans' Sake

Poets, Singers and Funsters Try to "Crash Gates"

Program Arrangers Have Job Calling Entertainers

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Frank McCoy, editor of Diet and Health in The Times, and Jennie Durkee, instrumentalist.

World-wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The thousands of radio owners who sit industriously turning a dial at times push their chairs back with murder in their eyes. Just at the moment they cannot get what they want.

But if they only knew what feature directors throughout the country have saved them from. Not a day passes in the average studio that tragedians of ancient vintage do not plead to turn their wares upon a defenseless audience; that correspondence school sopranos, saxophonists and "I was the life of the party" funsters plead, threaten and cajole overworked program arrangers to let them bring their message to radioland.

Poets crash the gates with manuscript, not a poem in a carload; fond mothers drag in perfectly groomed and imperfectly trained children as a gift to the waiting world; ballad singers who between divorces insist on singing love songs yearn to throttle the air with their perfect understanding of love. It is small wonder at times that, despite the proverbial eternal vigilance, some self-appointed gift to radio manages to elude the feature director long enough to appear on the air.

"You Ain't Heard Nuthin' Yet" is particularly true of the freighted argosies that these radio violets that bloom to blush unseen seek to launch through the loud speakers of the land. If Gen. Sherman had been a radio feature director his conclusions would have been the same.

DIAL HIGHLIGHTS TODAY

KHJ at 5 o'clock this afternoon features Domenico Savino, conductor-composer, as guest conductor of Columbia's "Mardi Gras." Six of his arrangements and three of his compositions will be included. Renditions will be by the Columbia combined dance and symphony orchestra of forty-four pieces. Several soloists, not yet selected, will take part. Boy Scouts will all dial KHJ at 6:30 tonight when a special Boy Scout radio feature, entitled "A Day in Camp," will be presented. It is an all-boy program, filled with Scout marching songs and bugle calls. The presentation covers an entire day's activities in a Scout camp, from reveille to taps. "Jo and Vi" at 6 tonight discovers Jo trading automobiles with an old hoss trader. The trader stings him and Vi tells him plenty. Gene Byrnes at 7 tonight titles his half hour the Padded Cell Revue. Plenty of comedy is promised. At 8 p.m. the KFRC Ice Carnival celebrates the annual Lake Tahoe dog race while 9 tonight features the Don Lee Concert Orchestra in thirty minutes of musical numbers based on historical events, including the songs of Napoleon's time, the Queen of Sheba and Samson and Delilah.

ANOTHER TREAT

KFI at 7 p.m. finds Eva Olivotti, Arthur Lang and the North American Ensemble in half an hour of the songs of America. Songs typifying its harvest fields, metropolitan streets, the stage and colleges. Another Adohr musical treat at 8 tonight when Romberg's "Blossom Time," with Alexander Gray and Nina Tonelli in the leading roles, is heard in its entirety. Under Maestro Pietro Cimini a special score of the operetta is being arranged. Iri Hunsaker and Rose Dirman will be included in an all-star cast. This series is acquiring a fandom of its own.

KECA in its N.B.C. chain program at 6 p.m. opens with the spirited strains of the "Indiana State Band March." Cesare Sodero will lead a forty-voice chorus and orchestra in Haydn's oratorio work, "Achieved Is the Glorious Work" from "The Creation." At 6:30 familiar figures in the field of vaudeville will hold your dial with Graham McNamee, master of ceremonies. At 9:30 tonight Jeanne Dunn, soloist with the Ray Van Dyne Orchestra, promises an hour of melodized emotion for the heart and feet, while somnambulists should dial at 10:30 for sleep-producing exercises.

KNX at 8 p.m. brings the Pyrol orchestra, Bill Hatch's String Quartet and the Piano Twins in an hour of melodies. At 9:30 tonight Walter Ferner, cellist; Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto, and Nell Sheridan, accompanist, in a repertoire that may hold your dial.

KFPWB, besides an excellent concert at 8 tonight, features the main boxing event from the Olympic Auditorium at 9:30 p.m. As usual, at 2:10 this afternoon the baseball game between Los Angeles and Hollywood will be broadcast.

TWINS TO RECEIVE U.C.L.A. DIPLOMAS

Stella Ella and Della Bella Haverland

BOWL WILL BE SCENE OF GRADUATION

Class of 997 Students to Complete Their Studies at Westwood Campus

Culminating four years of activity, 997 members of the graduating class of the University of California at Los Angeles will receive diplomas at the eleventh annual commencement exercises to be held in the Hollywood Bowl the 20th inst.

Prominent among those graduating at this time will be the Misses Stella Ella and Della Bella Haverland, twin sisters, and the only twins in the graduating class.

Senior week will be inaugurated with the baccalaureate sermon to be delivered by Rev. George Davidson of St. John's Episcopal Church on Sunday, the 15th inst. The sermon will be preceded by an academic procession of seniors in caps and gowns.

On Tuesday, the 17th inst., Dr. E. C. Moore and his wife will extend a formal farewell to the graduates at the faculty senior reception. In the evening the men and women of the graduating class will hold their senior banquets at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Wednesday will be class day. The traditional senior ball will be held Thursday evening at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel. Senior week will be concluded with the commencement exercises at 5 o'clock at the Hollywood Bowl.

PREACHER OBSERVES NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

Surrounded by some of his old cronies, Rev. Jacob B. Leedom, for forty years a Methodist Episcopal preacher in Nebraska and one-time presiding elder of the Omaha district, celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. H. Maddren, 2039 Victoria avenue. Mr. Leedom reads without glasses, hears acutely, goes anywhere he likes and still thrills with the joy of living. If he feels as good as he does now he intends to go to Pennsylvania next fall to visit some of his childhood scenes around Kittaning where he was born in 1840. He has been here since 1907.

COLLIER DENIES "RECORD" BIAS

Prejudice Plea on Judge in Contempt Case Answered

Editors' Hearing Continued Until Next Monday

High Court May be Asked for Writ of Prohibition

Hearing of the contempt charges filed against the publisher and two editors of the Los Angeles Record was continued yesterday until next Monday at 10 a.m. by Superior Judge Collier after a brief court session during which the jurist made answer to an affidavit of prejudice filed by the respondents.

Following his categorical denial of prejudice or bias, Judge Collier announced that in his opinion such a question could not be raised in a contempt proceeding. However, he said, his ruling on this point was reversed by the District Court of Appeal and the matter is now before the Supreme Court. He continued the hearing to give counsel for the respondents an opportunity to apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition which will require that the hearing await the ruling of the high court until the prejudice point be disposed of.

PREJUDICE CHARGED

The newspaper men, H. B. R. Briggs, publisher; Gilbert Brown, editor; and Rodney Brink, managing editor, based their affidavit of prejudice on several grounds, outstanding of which were that Judge Collier is interested in the action, that he is biased and can not give a fair trial in the matter, and that he had advised the Bar Association on the matters involved.

After having the clerk swear him in, Judge Collier dictated his reply in open court. He did not confine himself to the usual formal phraseology in which legal denials are couched. He requested Mr. Briggs to stand, before he began his reply, "so that I can look you squarely in the eye when I say certain things that I am going to say this morning." The publisher complied with the request and looked the jurist squarely in the eye.

To the assertions that he is interested in the action, that he is biased and prejudiced, and that he has given advice to the association, Judge Collier said, "that is absolutely and unqualifiedly and wholly false. The falsity of that statement (as to giving advice to the association) could have easily been ascertained upon inquiry of me or of any member of the association."

JUDGE SURPRISED

The judge said he had been surprised and even hurt because of the filing of the affidavit. He wished that counsel for the respondents would have come to him with the attorneys for the Bar Association before filing such an affidavit. William H. Neblett, of McAdoo, Neblett, O'Connor & Clagett, representing the newspaper men, arose and said that he had sought to do that very thing, had discussed it with J. Karl Lobdell, one of the attorneys for the association, but the latter finally informed Neblett that he would have to file the affidavit in the usual way. The court absolved Mr. Neblett of any charge the court may have had in mind.

Judge Collier went through the entire affidavit and made answer, point by point, entering his denials to assertions of bias or prejudice. That he would be the recipient of support from the bar association if its plebiscite now being conducted gave him the favorable vote in his seeking re-election he admitted. He devoted considerable time to expressing his views on the bar association and its activities in the election of judges. He wanted the support of the members of the association, was proud of it if he could have it, and if he could not have it he would not seek re-election. He felt, he said, that the brethren of the bar who work with a judge, come in contact with him professionally and socially, are far more able to take the measure of his fitness to sit on the bench. However, he, and he alone, would conduct his campaign. If the bar association wished to help, fair enough; he would welcome its support just as he would welcome the support of any reputable organization in the city.

LET LAW GOVERN

But as far as any support affecting his conduct of trials and handling of cases, he said: "If I try this case it will be tried on the law and the evidence that is before me, and nothing else, and with no regard to a plebiscite, to a newspaper, or anybody else but my conscience and my knowledge of the law, and my God. And I want you to understand that."

CHARITY CASES REDUCED

County Report Shows 450 Decrease During Month; Families Obtaining Aid Number 13,000 in April

A substantial reduction in the number of charity cases taken care of by the county is shown in figures submitted to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by W. H. Holland, superintendent of charities.

According to Holland, the first sixteen days in May saw a reduction of 450 cases as compared with a similar period during April, with a consequent reduction of $17,538 in expenditures. Holland expressed the opinion that the figures for the balance of May will show an even greater reduction in the number of cases and expenditures.

The figures were revealed in a request of Holland for an emergency appropriation of $200,000 to carry the department through the balance of the present fiscal year.

While Holland made no comment on the figures he submitted to the board, they were taken by many to mean that the unemployment situation locally has passed and that conditions are showing a steadily increasing improvement over April.

During April, it was said, some 13,000 families were receiving aid from the charities department, this figure being 4000 in excess of the number of families normally receiving help from the county.

While the number of reductions reported yesterday is not considered a large one in proportion to the total number of cases, it was pointed out that continued reduction of cases on the same scale will result in a return to normal conditions in the department within six or seven months.

The board approved the appropriation of $200,000 to cover emergency expenses of the department until July 1, when the new county budget will go into effect.

SHULER CASE HEADS LIST

Supreme Court to Hear Argument on Habeas Corpus Dealing With Jail Release This Afternoon

First case scheduled for argument, a habeas corpus proceeding started by Rev. R. P. Shuler, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, South, after service of fifteen days of a twenty-day County Jail sentence for contempt of court is due to come before the State Supreme Court some time this afternoon.

Admission of a class of 165 applicants for licenses to practice law and hearings on twenty-seven motions will precede the Shuler case. The motions make up the first order of business at the afternoon session, to be followed by thirty-eight calendared cases, headed by the Shuler action.

Shuler will attend the session, it was stated at his office. He bases his case, as stated in a petition, on two points, namely:

First, that the contempt complained of having been committed outside the presence of the court and consisting of a speech or speeches assertedly reflecting upon or concerning the court and two or more of its judges, it is beyond the power of the court reflected upon to punish the petitioner for contempt, and,

Second, that the petitioner having served more than five days in jail in pursuance to the judgment and having tendered the amount due upon the fine, $100, is now being unlawfully restrained of his liberty. It is argued that the court has no power to impose consecutive sentences in contempt cases.

Whether or not the pastor must serve the remaining five days of his sentence hinges upon the decision of the Supreme Court.

Other cases on the afternoon calendar are Marsh vs. State Bar; Barbee vs. State Bar; San Diego and Coronado Ferry vs. R. R. Cornish; McClintock vs. Powley; Spears vs. State Bar; Aydelotte vs. State Bar, and Townsend vs. State Bar.

Tomorrow's calendar opens with two criminal cases, followed by the Ventura County Harbor District against the Board of Supervisors. The criminal cases are those of Pedro Magsaysay, sentenced to hang for murder, and James Dawson, charged with forgery and a previous conviction of a felony.

The Supreme Court will conclude its June calendar Friday. Chief Justice Waste will preside. Associate Justice Shenk will not be present. He is in the East.

THOUSANDS SEND LISTS IN CONTEST

More Than 30,000 Papers Now Being Checked for "Times" Star Prizes

More than 30,000 lists of words formed Southern California's answer to the Los Angeles Times' star puzzle contest which closed last Saturday. One hundred and twelve cash prizes totaling $3200 with major awards of $1000, $500 and $250 will be competed for in the lists that contain the greatest number of English words formed from the letters contained in the star.

A corps of checkers and clerks commenced early yesterday morning the task of classifying the lists. Following the allocation of lists into divisions each group of words will be closely checked and tabulated until the winning papers are found.

According to officials in charge of the contest, it is impossible now to name a date on which the winners will be announced because of the fact that every precaution is being taken to assure an accurate check of every list submitted. Progress of the contest will be told in the columns of The Times.

As soon as the names of the persons winning the major prizes are known they will be announced in The Times and the list of winning words will be published.

BRITISH NAVAL EXPERT TO VISIT PORT SOON

Vice-Admiral V. H. S. Haggard, C.B., C.M.G., R.N., one of the royal navy's foremost authorities on strategy and tactics, will arrive at the port on July 10 aboard the light cruiser Despatch for a week's visit. Admiral Haggard has just relieved Rear-Admiral Cyril Fuller, ordered to duty at the Admiralty at Bermuda, as commander of the British West Indian squadron and is making an inspection tour of stations under his jurisdiction. Departing here on July 15, the Despatch will visit Monterey before proceeding to British Columbia ports.

JANITORS GET DIPLOMAS IN FIRST SCHOOL OF KIND

Janitor-engineering last night took its place officially among the trades recognized by the Board of Education, when twenty-seven graduate janitors received their scrolled diplomas at commencement exercises of the Frank Wiggins Trade School. The diplomas are for trade proficiency and certify that the holders have completed the prescribed course in janitor-engineering and have served successfully in the trade for six months.

Believed to be the first of its kind in the history of education in this country, the class was organized at the insistence of the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, in co-operation with the Southern California Telephone Company. The latter, through Alex Rennie, general building supervisor, recruited twenty-seven janitors from its branch buildings and entered them as a class at the school. That was seven months ago.

Since matriculating for the so-called postgraduate course, the "students" have received training in the fine art of waxing and oiling floors, wielding the mop and broom, and the operation of high and low-pressure boilers. Last week they "brushed up" in their studies and passed their final examinations, preparatory to receiving their diplomas last night.

The exercises last night were conducted in the club rooms of the telephone company, 1912 South Grand avenue. H. A. Campion, principal of the Wiggins Trade School, presented the diplomas and delivered the graduation address, and the students' boss, Supervisor Rennie, served as chairman.

GOEBEL SOON WILL ESSAY PARIS-NEW YORK FLIGHT

Angeleno Trims Ship for Dangerous Westward Passage of Atlantic, So Far Unachieved by Man

[Copyright by Los Angeles Times and North American Newspaper Alliance]

Paris to New York nonstop by air!

The 3606-mile journey over the Atlantic and barren northern lands that so far has thwarted Europe's bravest airmen and led some of them to ocean graves will be attempted for the first time by an American—Col. Arthur C. Goebel, pioneer Los Angeles pilot of daring long-distance water-and-land conquests.

Goebel will soon be ready to go. He will take off from here for Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in the giant low-winged monoplane Yankee Doodle, especially constructed for the trans-Atlantic hop.

The preliminary flight across the continent will be swift. There will be no attempt made to break the nonstop or one-stop coast-to-coast record but Goebel will take advantage of this cross-country trip to make a final check on the ship's fuel consumption and performance.

TO SHIP PLANE

As soon as he lands in New York Goebel and his mechanic, Carl Spangenburger, also of Los Angeles, who will go East in another ship, will remove the wings and the propeller from the plane lash it to the deck of a liner for shipment to Havre, France.

Instead of having the Yankee Doodle moved by train to Le Bourget Field, Paris, the point selected as the take-off for the ocean flight, Col. Goebel plans to assemble it at Havre and fly to Le Bourget.

A few days after he lands at Havre, Goebel expects to be at Le Bourget ready to point his craft's nose westward into the hazardous winds of the North Atlantic that have brought disaster to so many.

For at least thirty-two hours he expects to be up there alone, captain of his ship, pilot, navigator, radio operator and mechanic—all in one.

Low over the water, if fog or storms do not drive him upward, the daring flyer expects to match wits with the elements and coax his giant monoplane onward into the face of the head winds that blow continually from west to east at fifteen to twenty-four miles an hour. The winds are stronger higher up, so Goebel plans to stick as close as possible to the ocean's surface.

If ship and man come through it will mark the culmination of three years of planning and work.

EMULATES LINDBERGH

Since Col. Lindbergh blazed the way eastward from New York to Paris Goebel has had a heart set on bringing to his country the honor of connecting the two great cities by a westward passage.

He has observed the ill-fated attempt of Europeans, fully aware that they had to fight the winds that prevail around the world from the west, but he went ahead with his plans.

And these plans are not based on a theory but on actual experience, gained in one of the most daring flights on record.

On August 16, 1927, at 12:37 p.m., Goebel opened the throttle of his monoplane, the Woolaroc, at San Francisco and twenty-six hours and seventeen minutes later brought it to earth at Honolulu—the winner of the Dole race across 2437 miles of the Pacific without a glimpse of land.

That time he was accompanied by Lieut. W. V. Davis, who helped navigate besides operating the plane's radio.

ONE OTHER SURVIVOR

Only one other plane finished that race. Three craft bearing seven persons crashed somewhere in the Pacific.

In that flight Goebel met face to face the prevailing winds that have taught flyers westward routes are the hardest. And to further his conviction, Goebel took off from here on August 19, 1928, with the late Harry Tucker as a passenger, landing in New York after eighteen hours and fifty-eight minutes aloft to complete the first nonstop transcontinental flight ever made from west to east.

On the return trip from New York a few days later the pilot fought west winds again and was forced down in Arizona.

LIFE AND DEATH

With these two major experiences of long-distance flying Goebel set to work on the details of his coming attempt. There were hundreds of things to be considered, things which to the layman would mean little, but to the airman who trusts his life to a motor and wings they spell the difference between success and failure, life and death.

His mind made up, he placed an order on February 28, last, with the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation at

LEWIS READY WITH DEFENSE

Start Set for Today if Denied Instructed Verdict

Court Grants Continuance Due to His Illness

Wife Confers With Him But Silent on Meeting

S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation now on trial before Superior Judge McLucas on a jury bribery charge, probably will begin his defense today. This announcement came from the defendant, who is acting as his own attorney, after all of yesterday morning's session had been spent in legal argument.

No court session was held yesterday afternoon because of the sudden illness of Lewis, who arose as court convened and asked for a short continuance on the ground of sickness. The motion was not opposed by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello and Jones, who are prosecuting the case.

Mrs. S. C. Lewis

Lewis, seeking an instructed verdict from Judge McLucas, began his argument last week and then continued through most of yesterday morning. He was answered by both Costello and Jones and was again on his feet citing cases when Judge McLucas called the noon recess.

ILLNESS REPORTED

It was shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon that Lewis informed the court that he was ill and the rest of the argument went over until this morning. All of the legal battle which has raged since last week has been in the absence of the jury of eight women and four men.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Lewis, who returned to this city from a visit in Texas at about the time

JULIAN ISSUES SUBMITTED

New Plan to Hasten Trial May Decide Fate of Those Accused in Usury Cases

A move that may result in the dismissal of all of the Julian usury cases, which include thirty-eight defendants, was made yesterday in Superior Judge Aggeler's court, where sixteen men are on trial for conspiracy to commit usury in connection with the so-called Julian stock pool No. 1.

Digressing from tedious efforts to get its documentary evidence into the record through the medium of various witnesses, a process that has been only moderately successful despite three weeks' work, the prosecution, under agreement with defense attorneys, yesterday afternoon offered in evidence documents on which it stated its case mainly relies.

The defense immediately objected on the ground that the evidence offered is immaterial, in that it does not prove a public offense.

The issues thus brought before the court will be argued at length during the next few days. They constitute a practical resume of the entire stock transaction. When the argument is done, a ruling by the court that the evidence offered is immaterial will mean the practical dismissal of all the cases. A contrary holding by the judge will indicate he believes there is evidence to support the indictment and the prosecution then will continue its efforts to get the material in evidence.

After the new plan of action was adopted, the trial was technically continued until next Thursday, allowing the sixteen defendants to go about their business while their attorneys stayed to argue the legal points. Former Judge John Perry Wood opened the defense argument.

OUR home town boys are doing well in literature.

One of the most charming and interesting books ever written about a California subject has just come out . . . "Capistrano Nights," by Father S. John Sullivan, the priest in charge of the old Mission at San Juan Capistrano, and Charles Frances Saunders.

A welcome relief from the stock California story about the bold bandit, the tinkling guitar and the delectable senorita named Dolores, the stories contained in this book are as much a part of the old mission as the swallows nesting under its eaves.

Quaint little tales about Acu, the old Indian sacristan; the story about Donna Polonia, who prayed for rain and had to be rescued from the flood; how she lost an earring which San Tiradito found for her.

PRAYERS OF CHILDREN

There is an interesting chapter on the prayers of the California children of that day. A contrast from the horrible suggestion contained in our "Now I lay me" childhood prayer. When I was a child, that line: "If I should die before I wake," always gave me gooseflesh.

Here are two of the prayers at bedtime:

"Con Dios me acuesto
"Con Dios me levanto
"Con la gracia de Dios
"Y la del Espiritu Santo."

"With God I lie down; with God I arise; with the grace of God and the Holy Ghost's."

Another one:

"A mi cama de canto a canto
"Que no llegue cosa mala
"Mas que Dios
"Y el Espiritu Santo."

"To my bed from edge to edge let no evil come; only God and the Holy Ghost."

STAGE-COACH DAYS

Another book which fascinates me is the one written by Capt. William Banning and George Hugh Banning on the old stage-coach days of the West. The name of the book is "Six Horses."

It recaptures the legends and traditions of the old stage days which were slipping away from us. In a certain way it is the story of the West as well as the story of the stage-coach days.

There is one chapter that enthralls me—where Capt. Banning explains the technique of driving stage teams and the subtleties thereof.

AN AUTHOR WHO KNOWS

As most old-time Californians know, Capt. Banning is the son of Gen. Phineas Banning, a famous whip, and is himself one of the finest six-horse drivers now living. In defiance to gasoline buggies, the captain still drives his spirited triple team along the California roads hitched to a coach. Every summer he goes into camp on one of the old California ranches and makes the old days live again.

Bank Bandits Riddled by Bullets in Running Street Battle With Police and Citize

WILD WESTERN SCENE ENACTED

Manager Opens Fire as Robbers Depart

Other Officers and Police Join in Affray

Fugitives Fight Till Both Are Shot Down

Two bank bandits lay in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital last night hovering between life and death, riddled with bullets in a spectacular running gun fight which ensued when the pair held up the West Side State Bank at Washington street and Vineyard avenue shortly before noon.

The robbery and gun fight participated in by the bandits, citizens, and police would have done credit to the old western frontier days. Rifles, pistols and "saps" were brought into play, whining bullets winged their way down the streets and alleys, windshields were shot away, bullets crashed through wind wings and fenders of automobiles, tore splinters out of fences, buried themselves into telephone poles, automobiles were commandeered and wrecked, trails of blood marked the course of the battle—and above all were the screams of women, the shouts of men, the howling of sirens on the bank and police cars.

BADLY WOUNDED

In the end, one of bandits, Benny Moya, 23 years of age, lay on a hospital bed, shot through the head back of the eyes, his left arm shattered by a bullet, and the other, Jesus Cana, 28, occupied an adjoining bed, with several bullet holes through his chest and his right hand partly torn off by another bullet. Assistant Chief Police Surgeon Sebastian said both men have a chance to recover.

There were four or five customers in the bank, which occupies the building on the southwest corner, when the two bandits walked in. They carried pistols, and were unmasked. One covered F. F. Miller, the manager, who occupied the fenced-off booth at the front. The other moved back along the tellers' cages and herded the other employees and customers.

ORDERED TO SHOOT

"Give me all the money you have!" the first bandit commanded Miller.

"Stick up your hands and if you make a move I'll kill you," the other told Mrs. Lillian Collins, and employees, and C. J. Millerburg, a patron of the bank.

W. P. Sharp, teller, began handing out bills to the first bandit, who complained that Sharp was too slow. Some words were exchanged and the second bandit told the first to shoot Sharp. After getting the money, $717 in bills, the bandits ordered all in the bank to face the wall. They hurried out. One of them in his haste thought he was slipping one bundle of bills amounting to $300 in his pocket, but it fell to the floor.

As soon as the bandits were gone seized a rifle and ran to the alley down which the bandits were going in an automobile they had parked out in front. He fired several shots, one taking effect in a rear tire. The bandits turned toward Washington street again when they reached Harcourt. They crashed into a truck and crippled their own car, which they immediately abandoned.

BATTLE BEGINS

Paul A. Grand of 2005 Harcourt street was approaching Washington street in his roadster when the bandits took it from him at the point of their drawn guns. Just at this moment A. R. Collins, assistant cashier of the bank, who had been across the street at the time of the hold-up and had taken the rifle from Mr. Miller, drove up on the running-board of another car. He saw the bandits at Grand's car and hurried over. Levelling his rifle, he ordered them to throw up their hands.

The answer of the bandits was to open fire on Collins. He ran behind an automobile, firing, his shots shattering the windshield of the roadster and apparently hitting Cana. The bandits had trouble with the roadster and went only a few feet in it, one of them continuing to exchange shots with Collins.

They abandoned the car and hurried back toward the alley. Collins had run out of ammunition. A crowd had gathered and along came J. B. Jennings, Culver City constable. He sauntered over and engaged the bandits in conversation. The pair were out in the street, apparently at a loss to know just what to do, and holding their guns under cover, ready for action.

Jennings did not let them know he realized what was up and who they were. He stepped off, pulled his gun and whirled on the men, ordering them to throw up their hands. Instead, Moya brought his automatic into play and the battle was on. Jennings's bullets clipped here and there, through the wing of a parked car, a fender of a truck. The bandits were again on the run. One of them, apparently seriously hurt, crawled into a yard and lay down. Moya continued on over back fences and hid. Jennings was joined by Detective Lieutenant Swindle, who lives near by.

It was during this lull that the police from Wilshire station came on the scene. One officer came upon Cana, put him out with a clip over the head with the butt of his gun. Detective Lieutenants Moore, Barr, Mailheau and Carr were in action. Moya was found hiding in a yard half a block down the street. Moore shot him through the head, but even as the officers closed in on him the bandit turned on his back and attempted to do more shooting.

Moya gave the name of Jack Sanchez, of 2123 Corley street, Denver, but a check of his fingerprints convinced the officers that he is Moya. He has been arrested in Los Angeles before on a vagrancy charge and suspicion of forgery, but never was convicted.

The West Side State Bank was robbed once before, when, on January 21 of this year, a bandit walked in and took $600 from Collins.

In the presence of Olds and others, Rosenberg said that he talked with Mrs. C. A. Morris, owner of the Ameco. "I told her she was overloading the boat," Rosenberg said, "and she replied that they had to on Sundays and holidays, as they were the only days they had in the week, the others not amounting to anything."

Rosenberg also declared that he was on the Freedom during the rescue and that the waves were not high enough to have swamped the Ameco had the boat not been overloaded.

SEARCH FOR HULL

Efforts to locate the sunken hull will be continued today, with the county game patrol boat Cobra leading, aided by a Coast Guard cutter and tender. The Cobra with heavy grappling hooks and cables dragged the sea bottom all day yesterday. C. E. Smale, deep-sea diver, is aboard the vessel, along with L. F. Hyde, his assistant, and Deputy Sheriffs Croushorn and Ayres. Smale is ready to go down to the vessel and search for bodies as soon as the wreck is found.

Investigation of the disaster by the grand jury or the office of the District Attorney will await the Coroner's inquest and the completion of the extensive inquiry now being conducted by Capt. Bright.

Announcement of this decision of the county authorities came yesterday after a conference between Bright, Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart, and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordan.

INQUEST DEFERRED

Coroner Nance is withholding the date of the inquest until all matters are cleared up and the investigation by Federal authorities is completed. Jordan will attend the Coroner's inquest and hear the testimony that is brought before that body. From this hearing definite decision to take the matter before the grand jury will be made.

City officials of Santa Monica are following closely each step of the investigation and the tragedy was a matter of discussion at the Council meeting yesterday.

REGULATION FAILS

Previous attempts at regulation of the fishing boats operating in Santa Monica Bay, Mayor Michel said in talking of the Memorial Day capsizing, have been met with the assertion that maritime laws already in existence cover every phase of the situation.

"If the forthcoming investigations reveal that the city should take a hand in controlling fishing and other pleasure boats using the Municipal Pier," Michel said, "we will proceed immediately with the enactment of the necessary regulatory ordinances."

Commissioner Morton, head of the Public Works Department, suggested the city might issue operators' franchises and put into effect such regulations as would insure against a repetition of the Ameco disaster.

JULIAN ISSUES TO BE SPEEDED

argument centers are the original stock-pool agreement and another agreement executed forty days later. By the terms of the first agreement the pool investors agreed to buy 64,517 shares of Julian stock for $1,000,000, and gave S. C. Lewis the right to begin the repurchase of the stock at the end of forty days. When the forty days elapsed, however, Lewis did not commence repurchasing the stock, but by the terms of the second agreement agreed to pay $3 more per share for the stock than he had originally agreed if the pool operators would keep it off the market for thirty days more.

The prosecution asserts that the second agreement, in relation to the first, constituted a usurious loan; the defense contends that it amounted to nothing more than a repurchase agreement.

The move to shorten the usury trial, if possible, came after twenty-two defendants in the second Julian pool had appeared in Judge Aggeler's court yesterday. Their trial originally had been set to commence yesterday morning. Special Prosecutor Stafford asked to have the case continued until some time in July, indicating that he thinks that it will take several more weeks to conclude the present case. Judge Aggeler, however, continued the second case for only two weeks.

In answer to a question from the court, Stafford said that the State's evidence in the second case will be practically identical with that offered in the case now on trial.

COLLIER DENIES "RECORD" BIAS

reporter for the Record, were disposed of briefly.

In a formal statement issued last night the McAdoo law firm pointed out that under the code a judge against whom an affidavit of prejudice is filed has five days within which to do one of two things: file with the clerk his consent that the action be tried before another judge, or file his written answer denying his disqualification. In the latter event the chairman of the judicial council appoints a jurge to pass upon the disqualification.

The statement, after stating that Judge Collier's ruling and testimony given in court yesterday do not follow such procedure, closes: "Whether or not a writ of prohibition will be sought from the upper courts will depend upon whether Judge Collier files within the five-day period one of the written statements required by law. It is our opinion that any application for a writ of prohibition filed prior to the expiration of the five-day period will be premature. Under the law, Judge Collier has the right, within this five-day period, to file either of the written statements required by law, which, if he does, will reverse his position of this morning, holding that the provisions of Section 170 are not applicable to contempt cases."

Burbank for his new craft. It is similar in general design to that purchased by Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh for long-distance nonstop high altitude flying.

The craft is known as a Lockheed Explorer. It resembles in flight a giant hawk. Its wing spread is nearly fifty feet. The blue oval fuselage rests on a single yellow wing, is not connected by wind-resisting struts and tapers off from the size of the motor at the nose to a tail light no larger than a silver dollar.

Within this fuselage are gasoline tanks, control wires, a network of fuel and instrument tubes, and one open cockpit placed aft near the tail for Goebel.

On the nose is a Pratt & Whitney Wasp engine. This motor is used extensively by the Army and Navy and powers many service fighters. Goebel expects to force it to 1800 revolutions a minute at the start from Paris and to cut the speed down gradually as his fuel load lightens.

Within the plane's cockpit is everything the flyer will have to manipulate and consult—a standard set of controls; a complete set of flying instruments that will tell him his direction, air speed, drift, climbing angle, altitude, how much fuel he has, how fast his engine is running, and what time it is; a radio receiving and sending set; gasoline valves controlling the flow of fuel from tanks to the motor; an emergency pump; maps, charts and navigation bubble sextant.

Into the craft, streamlined perfectly from nose to tail, have gone many of Goebel's own improvements. He ordered tankage for approximately 800 gallons of gasoline, a load that will weigh more than 5000 pounds.

Great care has been taken by the construction engineers to place these tanks so that when they drain in flight the lightening of the load will not throw the craft off an even keel or place the weight in sections that will make flying difficult at full weight.

Exact dimensions of the Yankee Doodle, how the gasoline tanks are divided, and some of the navigating instruments he will use are being kept secret by its owner. He feels that because the things he has learned about heavy loads, navigation and other important factors in long-distance flying came to him only through experience, he should guard this knowledge for this coming climax to eight years of working and flying.

FUEL IN BODY

Some of the 800-gallon load of gasoline, however, will be carried in the wings, but the major portion will rest directly above the wing in the bullet-like fuselage. Intricate valves will control the motor supply that will be forced through the pipes by a motor-driven pump.

The plane's exact speed has not been computed by Goebel. It is expected to be able to attain a maximum of 165 miles an hour. For the last month he has practiced at night the P. V. H. Weems system of aerial navigation, under the direction of Harold C. Gatty, the man who taught Mrs. Lindbergh the same system, which is the one she used on her husband's recent record-setting transcontinental hop.

Greece Honors Friend in Need by Last Rites

With full State honors Christopher C. Thurber, managing director of the Near East Relief in the Greek area for the past ten years, and associate of the late Dr. Harwood Huntington of 419 South Lorraine Boulevard, was buried by the Greek government at Athens yesterday, according to a cablegram received at the local offices of his organization. He died at Athens Saturday following an apoplectic stroke.

Thurber visited and lectured in Los Angeles in 1924, after having suffered the bastinado at the hands of Turks, who resented his single-handed removal of 7500 children from the interior of Turkey during the massacres and deportations of 1923. In recognition of this feat the Greek government decorated Thurber with the Greek Cross of Valor.

OESTERREICH'S WIDOW BONDED

Court Grants Jail Release on $50,000 Bail

Accused Starts East to Mother's Funeral

Trip Halted by News of Burial Service

News dispatches from Milwaukee, Wis., which told of the burial and funeral services there yesterday of Mrs. Magdalena Morschel, mother of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, will result in the latter leaving the train at Albuquerque, N. M., and returning here, according to her attorneys.

Mrs. Oesterreich, who, with Otto Sanhuber, is charged with the murder of her husband, was released from the County Jail late yesterday under a $50,000 bond, and left on the Santa Fe Chief to be present at the last rites of her mother.

Permission to make the trip east under bond was approved by Superior Judge Hardy earlier in the day after hearing the arguments of Attorneys Geisler and Willner, who urged that their client and a defendant in the coming murder trial be granted the request.

TRIP DECIDED ON

Information that the funeral and burial had taken place was relayed to Mrs. Oesterreich and her attorneys at the railway station just a few moments prior to her departure. At that time, it was understood that the services had been delayed pending her arrival.

Following a hasty conference between Mrs. Oesterreich, who is accompanied by Attorney Willner and Netty Yaw, a deputy Sheriff, and Attorney Geisler, it was decided to continue to Albuquerque, where a message was expected from a sister in Milwaukee. The party will leave the train as soon as definite information is received that the burial is over, Geisler said.

At the time Judge Hardy granted permission for the trip to Milwaukee, which carried the direction that the deputy Sheriff be in the party, he granted a continuance of the Oesterreich-Sanhuber trial, which was scheduled for yesterday, until the 11th inst.

HUSBAND SLAIN

Oesterreich, wealthy garment manufacturer, was shot to death in his Los Angeles home on the night of August 22, 1922. The case was unsolved until April, last, when Sanhuber was arrested. He is asserted to have confessed to living in secret rooms in the Oesterreich homes in Milwaukee and Los Angeles for eleven years because of a strange fascination for the woman and to have told of firing the fatal shots when he feared that Oesterreich was about to harm her during an argument.

Both Sanhuber and Mrs. Oesterreich subsequently were indicted by the grand jury and charged with the murder, although Sanhuber is asserted to have assumed responsibility for the killing.

Blimp Captain Leaves for New Duties in East

Lieutenant-Commander Karl Lange who, at the controls of the Goodyear blimp Volunteer for the last year, has given Southern Californians a close-up of lighter-than-air aviation, left for Akron, O., yesterday morning from Grand Central Air Terminal aboard a T.A.T.-Maddux air liner.

Lieut. Bud Campbell will take over the duties as chief pilot of the blimp here. Lange went east to become chief operations officer at the Akron Goodyear airship base.

During the year Lange has flown the Volunteer in California he has made extensive meteorological studies in preparation for the trans-Pacific Goodyear-Zeppelin line that is scheduled to start operations in 1932. He also trained six men who last week passed their examinations as lighter-than-air pilots.

Col. Arthur C. Goebel and Goebel's parents accompanied Lange in the Volunteer from the local Goodyear airship dock to Grand Central.

Graft Accusations Recanted By Death Note

District Attorney Will Press Inquiry, However

The death of George M. Doney, Lynwood Police Chief, who was found shot to death in his automobile Sunday morning with a revolver clutched in his hand, will not deter the District Attorney's investigation into asserted graft among police and officials of that city, Blayney Matthews, chief of the bureau of investigation, announced yesterday.

At the same time Capt. William J. Bright, chief of the Sheriff's homicide investigation detail, announced that his office has closed its investigation into the man's death, being convinced that Doney ended his own life.

LAID TO REMORSE

Doney is believed to have fired a bullet into his own heart a few hours after he had been questioned by Tom Cavett, District Attorney's investigator, and Arthur Veitch, Deputy District Attorney, who are conducting an inquiry into Lynwood affairs. Doney was brought to the District Attorney's office on Saturday night and made a lengthy statement to the officers involving others.

According to Chief Investigator Matthews, Doney apparently regretted making the statement and decided to end his own life.

The man left several notes. Two short ones were in the form of wills leaving his property to his wife and young son. The other note repudiated the statement he had made at the District Attorney's office, asserting that it was untrue and adding that it was not made of his own free will.

RECANTS CHARGES

This note reads:

"To the District Attorney's Office: I told you a pack of lies. The men of this police force are all OK. I was the crook, so drop that statement your man got out of me, because they are square guys and never take a nickel from anybody that I know. This is the truth, so help me God. ——— never paid me or no one else one cent, so drop any charges you have made.

[Signed] "GEORGE M. DONEY."

"P.S. I did not make that statement of my own free will, anyhow."

HAVING MORE MOTHERS AS TEACHERS PROPOSED

Advocating the employment of more married women, especially mothers, as teachers in public schools, Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the Institute of Family Relations, told members of the City Club yesterday that hundreds of thousands of young women now engaged as instructors of youth not only are unfitted in many ways for their positions, but that they also are being deprived of the opportunity to marry and become the mothers of the kind of children who would be an asset to civilization.

"Mothers are experientially prepared to teach children as well as to conduct classes in which the business of home making might and should be taught," said Dr. Popenoe.

Discussing the California law which requires the passing of three days between application for a marriage license and the date of issue, Dr. Popenoe said the results of the law have been generally good.

"One effect of that law has been a decrease in divorces," said the speaker. "The State has lost about 15,000 marriages which would have been consummated under the old law, many of them through abandonment of the proposed marriages on the part of the parties concerned and many through the removal of the parties to other States because of a desire to escape publicity."

Dr. Popenoe explained that the institute which he represents is a philanthropic, nonprofit organization and that all advice is given free to married persons or to those contemplating marriage.

BRIG. BELL BACK FROM CONCLAVE

Salvation Army Leader Discusses Plans for 1931 Assembly in This City

Democracy in the ranks of Salvationists, the direct outgrowth of the action of the high council in London last year, was in evidence at the Golden Jubilee Congress held last week in New York City, according to Brig. James C. Bell, who returned here last night. The officer stated that Los Angeles is to have the 1931 congress, and that Commander Evangeline Booth has promised to preside.

The Angeleno officer went to New York pledged to bring the 1931 congress here. Thousands of California poppies, with the legend "California Invites You," were worn by thousands of delegates. The advertising won.

Brig. Bell and Brig. Boynton, one of the West, the other of the East, acted as guard of honor to the commander-in-chief in the great parade. Commissioner Adam Gifford assisted at special services at the Battery, in New York.

The brigadier stated that plans are going forward for the 1931 congress. These plans probably will include great pageantry depicting the growth of the Salvation movement in the West, as well as throughout the world, he said.

R-100, the star British airship, recently flew 3000 miles in fifty hours.

GOVERNOR'S CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Eleven Hundred Present at Ratification Dinner; Many Addresses Made

Gov. Young's campaign for reelection was formally launched last night at a ratification dinner held at the Alexandria attended by about 1100 persons. Delegations from Southern California counties were present.

Marshall Stimson presided as toastmaster and Albert E. Sherman introduced the Governor. Short addresses were made by various supporters of the executive prior to his address. Among them were John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of Southern California Women's Law Enforcement League; John R. Quinn, Susan M. Dorsey, Joseph Schenck, John S. Horn, Mrs. Anne E. Chapline, past president of the woman's auxiliary of the American League; Mrs. D. G. Stephens of Santa Monica and representatives from Southern California cities and towns.

Gov. Young stressed the ideal of a State conducted along purely business lines and said that this had been his effort since his election. He said that while Southern California had half the population yet they had but 1 per cent of the water and pledged his aid in helping solve this problem. He said that more than $9,000,000 had been spent or allocated for paved roads in this section and declared that every interstate highway leading from Los Angeles will be paved by 1932. He declared that until the discrepancy has been made up four times the amount of secondary highway will be built here as against the north.

He touched on prosperity and business conditions and said he believed the State is slowly returning to a prosperity crest which will be permanent.

He left for Oakland immediately after the meeting but will return later in the week.

PLANS FOR NEW HOTEL ANNOUNCED

Skyscraper Structure to Adjoin Garden of Alla Will Involve $1,800,000

The Central Holding Corporation will begin construction work within thirty days on a limit-height hotel at the southwest corner of Crescent Heights Boulevard and Sunset Boulevard, it was announced yesterday. The project, including land and building, involves an expenditure of $1,800,000.

The hotel will contain 295 rooms, both singles and of apartment type. Plans are being prepared by Architect Gilbert Stanley Underwood. The hotel is to connect with the Garden of Alla property, which the company recently acquired and which now is being remodeled. This latter work represents an investment of $800,000 in land, building and alterations.

Property acquired for the hotel site has a frontage of 303 feet on Sunset Boulevar', 220 feet on Crescent Heights Boulevard, and 385 feet on Havenhurst avenue. The hotel building will consist of a main structure and two wings and is to adjoin the court of the Garden of Alla, which w'l be operated in conjunction with the hotel.

Plans provide for a hotel of most modern appointments. The main lobby, lounging rooms and dining-room will be located on the first floor. A supplementary dining-room will be located on the roof in connection with a roof garden.

Vast Concourse of Friends Attends Obsequies of Chief of Large Oil Interests

Funeral services for George F. Getty, prominent oil operator who died Saturday at the family residence, 647 South Kingsley Drive, were conducted yesterday at First Methodist Church, Dr. E. E. Helms officiating. Interment was at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Nearly 1000 persons attended the services at the church, and hundreds of beautiful bouquets and floral wreaths bore evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Getty was held. Active pallbearers were F. V. Gordon, Rush M. Blodgett, H. P. Grimm, E. Kluth, L. R. Richard, F. V. Williams, H. A. Clarke and Paul Whitney. Honorary pallbearers included:

WORK SUSPENDS

During the hour of the funeral services, the California oil companies in which Mr. Getty was interested, as well as subsidiary companies in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, suspended work.

Recalling various incidents in the life of Mr. Getty, Dr. Helms paid tribute to his friend as a man of high ideals, "whose business philosophy was to help his fellow-beings."

"With Mr. Getty the making of money was incidental," said Dr. Helms. "He was a self-made man, but he did not earn his position in the financial world through trickery. He spent his money, not on personal luxuries, but in productive enterprises. He never retired, but was active to the last. His integrity and his good will to humanity constitute for him an enduring monument."

Mr. Getty, who was a native of Grantsville, Md., was 76 years of age and had been a resident of California since 1905.

STUDIO EXPANSION PLANS WILL INVOLVE MILLIONS

An improvement program involving $3,500,000, which will bring the total plant investment in excess of $30,000,000 for the First National Studios at Burbank, was announced yesterday in New York by Jack L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production of Warner Brothers, which operates the former studios.

Warner's announcement in New York verifies reports printed exclusively in The Times recently that all of the executive offices of Warner Brothers soon will be removed to the First National plant.

The new building program is to include the doubling of stage space at First National, in addition to the construction of a new administration building containing 500 offices as well as forty-two new cutting rooms.

The new building program is scheduled to begin on or about July 1, next, finishing about January 1, 1931.

At present there are sixteen sound stages at the First National lot.

AQUEDUCT PLEA SUBMITTED

Metropolitan Water District Chairman Asks That Congress Speed Boulder Dam Work

Drawing attention to the recent action of the city of Los Angeles in voting a $38,800,000 water bond issue to meet its needs pending the bringing in of Colorado River water ten years hence, Chairman Whitsett of the Metropolitan Water District has filed with the Congressional Committee on Appropriations a statement setting forth the necessity of immediate construction work on Boulder Dam as essential to the Colorado River Aqueduct project.

The Whitsett statement is to be considered today by the Congressional committee before which the $10,600,000 Boulder Dam appropriation now is pending.

Drawing attention to the fact that Colorado River water must be developed and transported to the cities of Southern California as the only means of sustaining growth and future prosperity in those centers of population, Mr. Whitsett assured the Appropriations Committee that the Metropolitan Water District is prepared to assume its share of the power purchases necessary to assure the return to the government of the moneys invested in the construction of Boulder Dam.

NEED POINTED OUT

Chairman Whitsett says in part to the committee:

"The bonding capacity of the Metropolitan Water District is now $346,650,167, and is estimated by the above figures to be around $500,000,000 by 1940, yet less than the present bonding capacity of the Metropolitan Water District is more than sufficient to build the Colorado River Aqueduct, estimated to cost around $225,000,000, if no additional cities join the district.

"The Colorado River Aqueduct is being designed to carry 1500 second feet of water, enough for the domestic needs of 7,500,000 people, and will cost less per capita than the Owens River Aqueduct cost when it was built.

"Los Angeles, by a majority of 9 to 1 on May 20 voted $38,800,000 to procure and distribute sufficient water to fill the present aqueduct and take care of the growing needs of its population until Colorado River water can be brought in.

"Those caring for the water needs of Los Angeles realize that when the Owens River Aqueduct is used to its full capacity it will only bring to that city enough additional water to take care of its present trend of growth until about 1940.

READY FOR TASK

"That the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California is prepared to finance and construct the Colorado River Aqueduct is foreshadowed by the following events:

"On May 6, 1924, the citizens of Los Angeles voted 4.3 to 1 to authorize its officials to contract with the United States government for Boulder Canyon power for pumping water from the Colorado River across the intervening mountains to Los Angeles.

"On June 2, 1925, by a vote of 5.4 to 1 the citizens of Los Angeles authorized the expenditure of $2,000,000 to start the investigations and surveys for the Colorado River Aqueduct.

"Since voting the $2,000,000 five years ago, the work to find the most economic route over which to construct the Colorado River Aqueduct has been pushed diligently forward. The Metropolitan district when organized took over this work and will be in a position to call its bond election as soon as the Boulder Dam is started."

MANY TO ATTEND JUBILEE LUNCHEON

More than seventy reservations were made yesterday for the water jubilee luncheon tomorrow noon in the Biltmore as a mark of appreciation of the unified spirit demonstrated by the citizens of Los Angeles in putting over the recent water-bond campaign.

Sponsored under the joint auspices of Mayor Porter, the citizens' water committee and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the luncheon is being held to urge continued co-operation by the citizenry in supporting matters of vital need to the city's future development and prosperity. Mayor Porter, Joseph Scott and Chamber President Austin will speak.

Preparations are being made to care for more than 200 persons.

PROJECTS ADVANCED

The City Council yesterday adopted the final ordinances for the improvement of Mannix Drive from Kirkwood Drive to a point 2020 feet easterly and for the improvement of Country Club Drive at Fourth avenue.

Today's Bible Text

Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean things; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.—2 Cor. vi:17, 18.

BARNUM BEHIND

And now it turns out that even Barnum was slow. Four and a half are born every minute. This is where we get our wet drivers.

CACTUS POINTS

"Rarest Cactuses Shown," says a headline of the Cactus and Succulent Show at the Ambassador. Possibly to give the folks from Missouri a jab!

IOWA NOT IOU

An Iowa man has perfected a new kind of wheat that looks like barley and tastes like oats. Just one more product for him to sell to raise the price of a one-way ticket to Los Angeles.

AIR CASTLES

And now an airplane has been invented with "seats for sixteen, beds for four, a kitchen with a refrigerator and full dining-room service." About all that is needed now to make it a complete home is a divorce or two.

SEEING LOS ANGELES

A tower 600 feet high and equipped with a telescope of 200-mile range is to be erected for visitors to see Los Angeles. Just wait till some of the wise-crackers get hold of this. However, the height is necessary to see the Hollywood stars.

OF ALL THINGS

Mayor Porter of Los Angeles sent a telegram to Mayor Thompson of Chicago to say, "Los Angeles takes pride in knowing that the Santa Fe has brought it two hours closer to Chicago." Of all the things Los Angeles has to take pride in the Mayor succeeded in picking out the one with the most reverse English. At least, let us cling to the nebulous hope that "Big Bill" had to pay the charges.

SERIOUS STUDENTS

College youngsters have been accused of about every crime under heaven from irreligion to conviviality, and many folks believe it. Now comes word that when Dr. Gilkey and his course of biblical literature were to be discontinued at Amherst on account of no funds, 95 per cent of the students entered a vigorous protest. Somebody has been "all wet" about the students of colleges and it does not seem to have been the boys themselves.

POET LAUREATE

When a New York barkeeper can become the poet laureate of England, almost anything is possible. And yet that is what has happened. And when the ex-barkeeper refuses a cask of Canary wine, one of the perquisites of his office, here is something else again that will bear deep consideration. He evidently depends on something else for his inspiration.

When John Masefield, 17 years old, was handy man about the saloon of Luke O'Connor in Gotham, nobody suspected him of being a successor to Tennyson. Possibly such shifts in life can begin only in America.

Born in Liverpool, England, drifting to America as general roustabout on a ship, singing on the streets of Manhattan, it was while operating as barkeep that he read Tennyson's "Mort d'Arthur" and had the divine fire kindled. Later he was stirred by Chaucer in Yonkers and finally landed in his native country to look for work in Fleet street, the Bohemia of the literati.

Masefield, steeped in democracy, submerged in the common, was naturally acceptable to the head of a Labor government who picked him for the post left vacant by the death of Dr. Bridges.

Masefield is not the only English poet who has been discovered in America. Tradition has it that Kipling was first found in America. And later the Britishers realized how closely they had come to losing a jewel. Some think that Kipling should have been chosen as laureate instead of Masefield.

Being made poet laureate may not be the best thing for John. It sometimes clips the wings to be put on a pedestal. However, the $500 a year stipend may come in handy!

THE AMECO DISASTER

Results of the official investigation of the capsizing of the pleasure-fishing boat Ameco and the attendant heavy loss of life need not be anticipated in order to declare that the disaster shows an urgent need for new legislation to plug a hole in the marine-inspection requirements. It is evidently inconsistent that vessels over fifteen tons burden should be carefully and rigorously limited in their carrying capacity, while vessels of smaller size may lawfully crowd aboard as many as their owners or operators see fit. There should be Federal inspection for all vessels carrying passengers for hire, no matter what their size.

There seems to be no doubt whatever that the Ameco was overloaded, and there may have been other reasons for the capsizing of the vessel in the comparatively mild sea that was running last Friday. Certainly a wholly seaworthy vessel would not so behave even if her theoretical capacity was slightly exceeded—there is supposed to be a margin of safety in such matters. Other boats reported no distress. The investigation now on foot will, or should, go thoroughly into all phases of the situation. The public has a right to demand that the conditions which brought about such an accident be made plain, so that proper safeguards may be taken to prevent a recurrence.

Pleasure fishing in the waters of Southern California is one of the great attractions of the region, and for its own sake it should be made safe. The fishing public cannot be, and does not expect to be, guarded against every possible hazard or contingency, but no more probability of accident should be offered it than in any other form of recreation, or at least any extra hazard should be clearly understood.

In personnel and efficiency, the steamboat-inspection service on this coast, and particularly at Los Angeles Harbor, is said to be excellent. Its lack is power. Presumably with the additional duty of inspecting such small craft as the Ameco given it, it would require additional men, which likewise would require Congressional action, but the cost would be small in comparison with the benefit.

While Congress is now in session, that session is drawing to a close, and it probably would be impossible to get the subject considered before the December seassion. In the meantime, it would be well to consider whether some sort of unofficial inspection system may not be practicable. There are a number of owners and operators of these pleasure craft. For their own protection against loss of business, they would do well to form an association which could require from its members adequate guarantees of safety and adopt rules that would bring it about.

Presumably Congress, in adopting a minimum limit of 15.1 tons for the jurisdiction of steamboat inspectors, considered that smaller vessels would be devoted to purely private purposes, commercial fishing and the like, and would have no one on board not reasonably familiar with the sea and with sufficient knowledge of the nature of the risk to keep himself from harm. It is plain this theory does not work out in practice. It may still be sufficient for private vessels, but it does not properly safeguard the many small boats which serve the public.

There is not, it seems probable, anything which the city, county or State can do to improve matters, marine regulations being an exclusively Federal concern. In the main, this exclusive Federal jurisdiction is probably a good thing, since mixed regulation seldom works well and frequently results in no regulation at all. But it has its disadvantages, and one of them is the inability to act quickly to meet an emergency which requires changes.

To recapitulate, if the Ameco had been under proper regulations, there is every reason to believe that her unseaworthiness would have been detected and corrected and that she would not have put out from her pier with an overload. But the steamboat inspection service was not at fault since her size put her beyond its reach. That service is not, of course, infallible, and it may make an occasional mistake, but certainly it does reduce hazards in a great degree and there is no reason for loss of confidence in it; but on the contrary every reason for an extension of its activities. The remedy for the situation lies with Congress, but until that body can be induced to act, recourse must apparently be had to voluntary co-operation of boat owners.

If this is not forthcoming and if there are any more disasters of the kind that overtook the Ameco, the pleasure-fishing business of Southern California may become a liability rather than an asset.

CROPS POOLED WITH BRAINS

What one great productive industry has accomplished other farming interests should be able to do also, if growers generally pooled their crops with brains, as have the cultivators of citrus groves in California. Without waiting for remedial legislation from Congress or spending funds to advertise their hardships, thirty-seven years ago the orange growers formed a citrus union to right the wrongs from which they were suffering.

As a result of their own self-helpful efforts, the California Fruit Growers' Exchange today represents 12,000 citrus fruit growers, or 75 per cent of the California citrus crop. It averages the highest returns for the grower and enjoys the lowest marketing costs of any agricultural industry in America. During 1929 the exchange sold regularly in carload lots to wholesale buyers in more than 900 markets. In the last five years it has developed a European demand which in 1929 accounted for a million boxes of oranges and grapefruit. For every dollar of sales less than 3 cents is spent for service.

From this thirty-seven-year struggle for independence every orange grower reaps inestimable benefits. The 25 per cent of still unaffiliated growers, but for the stamina of those who bore the burden and heat of the fight, would today be in the same plight as were the orange growers before their organization was undertaken. Some old residents still remember the time when pioneer citrus growers were at the mercy of the commission houses, when a dollar a box was a rare and unprecedented return, when too often the accounts presented showed the grower "in the red;" owning a citrus grove in the gay nineties was regarded as a sporting gamble for millionaires.

All that has been changed and now the smallest as well as the largest grower of citrus fruits in California receives, as a rule, a better return on his investment of capital and labor than he could find in any other agricultural or horticultural undertaking. Through voluntary co-operation the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is able to distribute its expenses over 20,000,000 boxes of fruit and no unnecessary profit is taken from its returns. It has funds in hand to maintain an aggressive sales organization. It has inaugurated the fresh orange fruit soda fountain drink which last year consumed 2,709,700 boxes of oranges and lemons.

These are but a few of the successes for the orange grower to be scored to the good offices of the exchange. A full story of the struggles and triumphs of this thoroughbred American organization in the growing and marketing of crops would form a valuable study for any potential soil co-operative.

The citrus men did it without any State or government funds to bolster their credit and started with only their own meager savings, pooling, however, be it noted, their crops with brains and good will. It will be interesting to chronicle their future achievements when they are 100 per cent organized.

COAL

The United States furnishes 40 per cent of the 1,300,000,000 metric tons of coal used in the world. Uncle Sam wipes the sweat from about half of the brows of the human race and keeps them from freezing at the same time. In his own country he is a big Tom Sawyer who sits down while nature's boys whitewash his fence for him.

NOT TO MORROW

In running for Congress in New Jersey, Mr. Morrow suggests a plan whereby the dry States may remain dry and the wet States be wet. Mr. Morrow may discover that he is Mr. Yesterday on this matter.

THE LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

NAPOLEON, by force of arms, filled the museums of Paris with art treasures which now attract the learned and the would-appear learned—three distinct classes, if you please—from all over the world. Multimillionaires are doing the same thing for Los Angeles by the more peaceful and less expensive method of outright purchase. Already bibliophiles from all over the world are coming to the Huntington Library to study manuscripts and unique volumes there. Even students from Newcastle are coming here for coals—bibliophiles of England are coming to study the history of English literature. For the Huntington Library is said to excel even the British Museum in unique items of English literature up to the early part of the sixteenth century; and the library of W. A. Clark, Jr., is said to outrank any other in Dryden material, besides containing about $5,000,000 worth of other rare books.

And there are hundreds of people here who pick up rare books when they get the chance or specialize on some certain kind of books. At least one man here is trying to get a copy of every book published in Los Angeles, no matter what its subject. He thinks that nothing will better hold up the mirror to the changing life of the city than these samples of what interested us in various stages of our civic career. A good many are trying to make similar collections of California material. Then there are collectors who want everything Bret Harte wrote, in first editions, or everything Mark Twain wrote, or everything any other noted writer wrote. Not long ago we were visiting Hamlin Garland when a letter came to him from a New York man, beseeching him to sell him a copy of his first published work, a little pamphlet-like book which hadn't sold very well at the time it was published. At that time Garland clutched his forehead in despair because they wouldn't sell at 50 cents each, but if he only had enough of them now he could get rich selling them at $50 each.

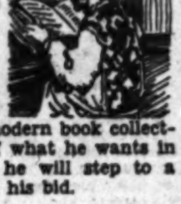
Speaking of Census Figures

Of all people who are up in dates and floor you with 'em, flat, students of rare books are the most surprising. Now that census figures interest everyone, for instance, Walter Lewis Burn, who has collected a good many books for the Huntingtons, the Clarks and other prominent local collectors, takes our breath away with the remark that in 1810 Albany, N. Y., was the largest city in North or South America and threatens to bring United States Census Records to our office to prove it. Burn was born in Albany (though not in 1810,) but moved to Los Angeles as soon as he could, after which the New York town appears to have lost heart and given up the race. While he lived in Albany, though, the library treasures of New York State, since removed to Columbia University, were there, and though Burn was educated to be an artist, and is one, he became such an ardent lover of books that instead of starving gloriously as an artist he has had to spend a great deal of his time in conference with wealthy Angelenos who wish to leave behind them priceless monuments of treasured tomes.

Mrs. Huntington Paid Own Bills

"I have spent many a twilight hour with Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Huntington in their home," Burn says, "making selections for their library. There the great financier was only Edgar to his loving wife and they vied with each other in securing certain treasures, paying their own book bills. They selected many an item, too, which was sent to Archer Huntington for the Hispanic Museum Library in New York."

Huntington was like the man who took a button he liked to a tailor and asked him to sew a suit on it. If he came on a fragment of some book which was not for sale anywhere he would instruct his scouts all over the world to look for other fragments and thus many "unique items," as collectors call books which cannot be duplicated, are in the Huntington Library. Burn recently got wind of an "item" he was seeking in Tierra del Fuego, down near the big toe of South America, and cabled for it. Even air mail is too slow for the modern book collector—if he hears of what he wants in London or Rome he will step to a telephone to make his bid.



Clark's Jewel Box

Besides his great gifts to music, W. A. Clark, Jr., has gathered a carefully selected collection of books which, those who know say, some day will astonish the world. When still a youth he started picking up books and he probably knows his books better than does any other great collector. It is told of one famous collector that he paid a high price for a Samuel Johnson "item" which he wished to add to his Ben Jonson collection—not knowing one from the other. But Clark has intimately lived with his books and lovingly has housed them in what probably is the loveliest little library in the world.

The Book Fish

Many a visitor to the British Museum has stared at the book fish, a huge cod caught, the accompanying legend says, June 23, 1626, which was found to have swallowed a book by one John Firth, which lies beside it, still well preserved despite the fact that it must have sojourned for a good while in the belly of a seagoing fish. Having eaten some very dry codfish balls during Lent, we would not think of doubting this story. But we pass it along because of the light it may shed on history, as well as on the enterprise of book collectors. Maybe it wasn't a whale but a codfish which snapped up Jonah, mistaking him for a bookworm.

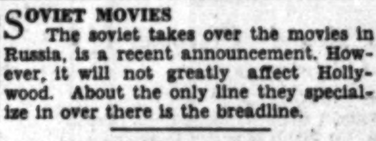
But this, as the feller said when he heard bearded badinage in a vaudeville turn, is mere hairy persiflage. The point of this story is that Los Angeles, the greatest city touching the Pacific Ocean and the romance capital of all the world, the clearinghouse for world travelers and adventurers, is an exceptionally good place in which to find rare books, and some of our collectors have started something which will be of inestimable value to us later on.

SOVIET MOVIES

The soviet takes over the movies in Russia, is a recent announcement. However, it will not greatly affect Hollywood. About the only line they specialize in over there is the breadline.

MACHINE AGE

Uncle Sam uses more electric juice than all the rest of the world put together. Others use juice of another brand.



TOO SOFT

By James J. Montague

A botanist discloses
  That science, pretty soon,
May give us spineless roses
  To scent the air of June,
That in the leafy bowers
  There shortly shall be born
That miracle of flowers,
  A rose without a thorn.

This meddling science, heedless
  Of burdens we should bear,
Has made the orange seedless,
  And plucked the prickly pear,
And now is contemplating
  Additions to our ease,
By presently creating
  A race of stingless bees.

Our sires faced toil and trouble
  As on through life they strode,
Their backs were bended double
  By many a grievous load.
But scanty were their guerdons,
  They labored day and night,
And yet it was their burdens
  That taught them how to fight.

The rose repays the scratches
  Which frequently we get
Among the briar patches
  Where she is to be met.
And when all work and worry
  Is gone and past and done
As on through life we hurry,
  We'll miss a lot of fun.

Dr. Millikan's Echo

SANTA MONICA, May 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is remarkable how some of our reputed scientists can draw on facts hundreds or even thousands, of years old, and make use of them to advance theories which assume to be new, for which they take the credit to themselves.

Dr. Millikan, if the news reports are reliable, says that the matter and energy dissipated by the stars are not annihilated, but become the stuff of which new stars and worlds are made. Of course his reference to annihilation sounds at least fifty years old, while the rest is merely an epitome of the Nebular Theory long since developed by Swedenborg, Kant, Herschel and Laplace. Then, again, nearly 2000 years ago, St. Peter wrote: "But we look for new heavens and a new earth according to His promises."

Dr. Millikan speaks of a process of "degeneration and regeneration." Too bad he didn't just say: "Man's natural depravity because of original sin, and his regeneration by water and the spirit, known to Christians for 2000 years, have their counterpart in the material universe."

Through a process of transformation Dr. Millikan gives the material universe, at least, a prospect of "immortal life." But St. Paul said of our material bodies: "The dead shall rise again, and we shall be changed."

There are sayings in the Scriptures to the effect that "knowledge shall be increased" and that "they shall all be taught of God," but I think that Dr. Millikan and his friends might acknowledge that of the "things old and new" advanced in his theory, the "old" predominate.

More Motes and Beams

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It was amusing at a meeting of Hindu sympathizers at Trinity Auditorium to see Americans indicating indignation against England for not allowing Hindus to manufacture salt, when they themselves are not allowed to make a little home brew. Also it seemed very inconsistent that they should pass a vote of censure on Ramsay MacDonald for not granting Hindus independence, when America refuses to give Philippines independence. It should be remembered that if India were granted independence, the lower castes, and especially the 60,000,000 untouchables, would not be in the least free, they would be more subject to the cruelty of the Brahman caste than they are now. An untouchable allowing his shadow when passing to fall upon a Brahman would be liable to assassination. People should make themselves better acquainted with conditions in India before passing an opinion. To compare Gandhi's salt-making to the Boston tea party is ridiculous.

Eyes Front For Dial Phones

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Applaud our Congressmen, I would say, if they had done nothing more this session than to put the dial telephone into discard.

When I protested the change of my phone to the dial system, the philanthropic telephone company assured me the change was being made for the good of its patrons. There were so many wrong numbers called by the other system. Help us! If the trained operator cannot arrive at accuracy, what can we expect from an untrained public?

The dial phone is noisy, it is slow. And unless you have good eyesight it is a nuisance to operate. Can you imagine the telephone company employing a switchboard girl who had failing eyesight? Yet armies of telephone patrons must run for their reading glasses before they can dial a number. Ordinary around the house or on the street eyesight won't do. Our bespectacled Congressmen found this out and revolted. Why should we others submit to so real a hardship?

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Woodshop?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The woodshop at the Owensmouth Evening High School, 6925 Topanga avenue, Owensmouth, is always open to people of the community for whatever purpose they may use it. Some of the students make boxes for their running boards, to be used when camping. Only two or three evenings are required, and a folding table for camping can be made in four or five evenings. Plain surf boards, too, are quickly made; and it is a community boast that toboggans made in the Owensmouth High School woodshop were the fastest at Big Pines last winter.

There is an oil stone grinder, free to the public for sharpening tools and knives to chop chicken feed. All people of the community are welcome to the use of this shop, which is open on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Free advice and instruction are given by J. E. Bangerter, an experienced woodshop man.

WOMEN RANCHERS

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

Attention has been directed recently, in discussions in the federated clubs, in newspaper and magazine articles, to the great number of women who are going in for agriculture—university-trained, professional, cultured women who are proud to call themselves "ranchers" and who live up to the term in its best sense.

One woman who has been president of many prominent clubs, who is a social leader, wealthy, traveled and skilled in several arts, is managing a ranch of more than a hundred acres. She says that in this pursuit she finds expression which she did not find in either music or painting. Her corn rows sing to her, her flower gardens of phlox, hollyhocks and larkspur paint pictures and the planting of a seed which springs up is like the unfolding of a poem.

Another one, who is a lawyer, a bank director and who one day may be judge, raises turkeys and chickens and watches her walnut and orange trees as if they were growing children and revels in it, raves about it and succeeds so well at it that people exclaim, "How does she do it?" She explains in just three words. "I love it!"

And that enthusiastic affection which women have for the nurturing of young, growing things is what seems to differentiate them from the mere male rancher. Perhaps Eve did not stay in the Garden of Eden long enough to show what she could do along horticultural and agricultural lines, but with the multiplicity of garden clubs, nature clubs and rural conventions made up almost solely of women, that legendary apple orchard will flourish again, no doubt, and woman, through her industry, will restore what her indiscretion once lost.

WIN A PRIZE

BY GREENVILLE TALBOTT

Three prizes will be awarded for the three best reviews published each month by the Writer. The prizes are $15 in cash plus subscriptions. Contestants can select any book published within a year on any subject found helpful or significant.

The reviews should not contain more than 400 words, including title of book, name of author and publisher, date of publication and reviewer's full name and address.

For full information, without cost or obligation, write to the Writer, College House, Harvard Square, Cambridge, Mass.

(If you are interested in science and research, you should read the prize awards announced tomorrow, under the heading, "Win a Prize.")

COTTON

Cotton is the overcoat of a seed that is planted and grown in the Southern States to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy. The fiber varies in color and weight and the man who can guess nearest the length of the fiber is called a cotton man by the public, a fool by the farmer and a poor business man by his creditors.

The price of cotton is determined in New York and goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought. A buyer working for a group of mills was sent to New York to watch the cotton market and after a few days' deliberation he wired his firm to this effect: "Some think it will go up and some think it will go down. I do, too. Whatever you do will be wrong; act at once."

Cotton is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer and left in the field in the winter.

You can and you can't; you will and you won't; be damned if you do, and be damned if you don't.

SOLITUDE

Beside a lonely mountain grave
  The wild sweet lilac bends its sprays,
White as a slowly drifting cloud
  That high above the canyon strays;
Tracing a shadow on the ground,
  A cool, deep shadow where the grass
Sways lightly on its beaded stems,
  As little silent footsteps pass.

No sounds are here to mar the peace
  Enveloping the nameless mound,
Save those of whispering winds that come
  To stir the leaves upon the ground:
The far-off cry of frightened bird
  That dots the infinite blue sky,
Or lifting branch of some great pine
  That breathes a sad elusive sigh.

SAVE—AND PAY TAXES

As an indication of the providence of the American people, the insurance department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out that it paid in 1928 more than $5,000,000,000 for insurance protection, a national safeguard against the devasting effects of fire, accident, disease and death.

But at the same time it points out, in a bulletin on insurance taxes, that the forty-eight States took from policyholders nearly $100,000,000—to be exact $92,178,971.

This levy was made on the ground that it was necessary to pay for supervision and regulation but, as a matter of fact, only $3,956,708 was spent on State insurance departments. The rest went for general public expenses. Out of every dollar collected from the policyholders, 4.29 cents was paid for service to them. The remainder, 95.71 cents, went to pay the public bills. The thrifty were taxed as citizens and property owners and taxed again as policyholders. They were not aware of it, perhaps, because the assessment was levied upon the insurance companies, but the money came out of their pockets.

ATTACK SUSPECTS SOUGHT

Two men are being sought by deputy sheriffs following reports made yesterday by Velma Cole, 20 years of age, 3723 East Fifth street, Belvedere, that she was attacked in the Montebello Hills early Sunday morning by a man who was escorting her home from a dance, and by Mrs. E. Wakefield, 848 Via Somonte street, that she was the victim of an attempted attack. Mrs. Wakefield, according to a Sheriff's report, accepted a ride with a strange man and fled when he attempted to attack her.

ROCK INQUIRY SOUGHT

A request that the City Council conduct an investigation covering the operation of a rock products plant at 3710 Frederick street, declared to be a residential neighborhood, was filed yesterday by Horace E. LAND DAMAGES AWARDED TO P.E.

Judge Haslett Gives Ruling in Long Beach Row

Sum of $298,740 Granted for Right of Way

Company Had Asked Court for $1,039,000

Damages amounting to $298,740 are awarded to the Pacific Electric Railway Company for the land of its sixty-foot right of way on American avenue from Anaheim to Willow street, a distance of 7850 feet, in a decision of Superior Judge Haslett handed down yesterday at the end of the condemnation proceedings brought by the city of Long Beach. While the company loses the land it is still permitted to maintain tracks on the avenue.

The trial of the case was held in November, last. Written arguments were submitted two months ago after which Judge Haslett took his decision under submission.

Under the ruling of the court the railway company is awarded $100,000 as the value of its land and $198,740 for structural changes and an amortization fund for future upkeep. During the progress of the trial the company asked $1,039,000 of which $613,000 was sought : the value of the land and the balance for structural changes, loss of revenue and for a fund for future upkeep of its tracks.

The city of Long Beach asked that no damages at all be awarded the railway company on the theory that the use of the street for its tracks would be reserved and that structural changes could be compelled under the police power of the municipality.

Taking of the railway land will give sixty more feet for relief of traffic on the highway, which, when approved, will be a little more than 100 feet wide all told. However, the street-car tracks will still be in the street, but on its level.

SMOKING IN FOREST TO BE BANNED

County Ordinance Ordered Providing Heavy Fine and Jail Term for Offenders

On motion of Supervisor Wright the Board of Supervisors yesterday instructed County Counsel Mattoon to prepare an emergency ordinance prohibiting smoking in county forest and brush areas during the summer season.

The ordinance will be similar to one in effect last year, and will be enforced through County Forester and Fire Warden Turner's office. Violation of its terms will be punishable by fine not to exceed $500, imprisonment in the County Jail for not to exceed six months, or both.

It is expected the board will adopt the ordinance at its Monday meeting and that it will go into effect immediately. Similar regulations against smoking during the months of greatest fire hazard will be in effect in the Federal forest areas, it was said. The county ordinance will apply to all forest, brush and grass lands outside incorporated cities and within the jurisdiction of the county.

Enforcement of such laws in the past is said to have caused a material reduction in the number of fires occurring during the summer months.

Of Interest to Women

Society

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the lovely events of the day will be the wedding this afternoon of Miss Mary Louise Wattles, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gurdon Wallace Wattles, to Wilson Dunlap Byrans of Omaha, the ceremony to take place in the gardens of the lovely Wattles estate in North Curson avenue, Hollywood, at 4:30 o'clock with Rev. C. Rankin Barnes officiating. Mr. Wattles will give his daughter in marriage.

Three lovely young matrons, Mrs. Glenn Llewellyn Ritter (Margaret Wattles,) sister of the bride, Mrs. David Fall and Mrs. John Francis Ohmer, Jr., will assist as matrons of honor while Glenn Llewellyn Ritter will serve as best man. Mrs. Joseph Graner is to sing "O Promise Me" and "At Dawning" during the ceremony and the Hollywood Trio, with Mrs. Celeste Nellis Ryus at the piano, will furnish the wedding marches. Many lovely prenuptial affairs have been given in honor of Miss Wattles and Mr. Bryans. Saturday evening following a rehearsal and tea at the Wattles home, Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Ohmer, Jr., (Virginia Dymon) entertained the wedding party with a dinner at their home in Stanley avenue, Beverly Hills, white spring flowers and a profusion of greenery being used in the decorations of house and dinner table. Covers were arranged for the hosts, Miss Wattles, Mr. Bryans, Mr. and Mrs. Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. David Fall and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graner. Mr. Bryans and his bride are planning to be at home after July 15 in Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Ohmer are coming out from their home in Dayton, O., the latter part of this month and will be the house guests of their son and daughter-in-law, and their charming young children, John Francis Ohmer III and tiny Letetia Ann Ohmer, now almost 4 months of age.

Engagement Told

Miss Vivian Martha Miller, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Miller of 516 Arbor Vitae street, Inglewood, revealed her betrothal to Karl R. Koeppel, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Koeppel of Coronado Beach, at a beautifully appointed dinner-dance given last week by the Kappa Tau Gamma Sorority.

The smart Deauville Beach Club at Santa Monica was the setting for this elaborate affair. The announcement of the engagement of Miss Miller, who is the vice-president of the sorority, was a complete surprise to the guests.

The party was in honor of four new pledges of the sorority, including the Misses Shirley Kelly, Ruth Peck, Lucille Brown and Florence McBride.

Previously informed of the secret, Miss Katherine Forker, president of the sorority, arranged the decorative plan to match the gown worn by Miss Miller, a becoming imported model of poudre blue and pink. Pink roses and blue delphinium were used and the engagement was revealed in baskets of flowers which concealed hearts on which the names of the couple were inscribed.

The table was banked around with palms, reserving an exclusive corner of the supper room for the party. Mrs. Clarissa Mosher, sorority mother, chaperoned the group.

Miss Miller has set June 29 as the date of the wedding, which will also be her mother's birthday anniversary. The engagement is the culmination of a romance which had its inception when both were students at Inglewood High School. Both were graduated from the class of 1928. Many courtesies are planned in honor of these popular members of the younger set.

In Own Home

Mrs. Gertrude Ross, composer-pianiste, who has been passing the winter at Villa Carlotta during the absence of her talented daughter, Miss Corinne Ross in New York City, is at home again at her charming studio home in the hills near the Hollywood Bowl. As the summer always attracts great musicians to Hollywood, Mrs. Ross's home at 2064 Glencoe Way is often the rendezvous of most interesting groups, with the gracious Chatelaine as hostess.

Prenuptial Shower

One of the lovely prenuptial affairs of the week was the bridal shower given Monday evening by Miss Ellyn Thorin at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Thorin of Palm Grove avenue, honoring Miss Eleanor Linder, who will become the bride of Frederick Furber Card, the 31st inst. The guests were Mmes. Samuel Corbett, John Carter, Harry Rhino, Elwood Loos, Harry Johnson, N. Barnes, Emmet Sandberg, Walter Karamer, Carl Torin, Richard Collard, Frank Crippen and the Misses Leora Hinkley, Edith Vermillion, Evelyn Hershon, Jean Blynet, Naomi Jones, Margaret McGrath, Alvera Toman, Iva Martin and Catherine Caley.

Summer Plans

Members of Phi Mu Sorority at the University of Southern California will journey to the four corners of the world this summer, according to their enthusiastic plans which will materialize at the conclusion of the semicentennial celebration on the Trojan campus.

Miss Bonnie Jean Lockwood is to accompany her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Lockwood of Glendale, on a trip to Alaska. Miss Lockwood, prominent on the girls' debate team at the university, was one of the ten senior co-eds to receive the honor scroll for being an outstanding student.

An educational trip around the world with the floating university will be taken by Miss Muriel Gantz, while Miss Barbara Black will pass her vacation touring Europe. Three members of the sorority who will visit New York during the summer are Miss Florence Nickel, Miss Margaret Sullivan and Miss Katharine Weir.

Phi Mu members who live in other States will return to their homes for vacation. Miss Marie McClintock will go to Kansas and Miss Virginia Monosmith to South Dakota, while Miss Francesca Robinson will return to her parents in Tennessee and Miss Shirley Morgan will spend a large part of her vacation at the home of Miss Anne Richman in Colorado.

The lure of the ocean beaches will draw Miss Abbie Shoemaker and Miss Josephine Hefferlin to Balboa for the summer. Montana is to be the destination of Miss Tacoma Winkler and Miss Beth Vasey plans her vacation in Arizona.

Smart Affair

Mrs. Rafe C. Chaffin and Mrs. June Paschall were hostesses at a beautiful spring bridge luncheon, choosing the Women's Athletic Club for the setting.

Eighty-five guests were seated at one large E-shaped table with the color scheme of yellow, blue and green table covering, with groups of yellow and blue candles.

Announce Engagement

One of the interesting events of recent date was the native hula and luna given Sunday by Miss Gladys Klunk, the occasion serving to announce the engagement of her sorority sister, Miss Frances Snyder, to Richard Farley of Huntington Park, the affair taking place at her home in Pasadena.

Decorations were all carried out in lapa, hibiscus and coconut leis, the hostess greeting her guests in native Hawaiian costume, giving each guest a real flower lei.

Dinner was served on a grass mat in the patio, the menu including only native foods, while the news was told by cards in the grass skirts of miniature dolls, which formed the place cards, ukuleles being the place favors. Guests included members of Lambda Sigma Tau Sorority of which hostess and honoree are also members. Miss Snyder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Snyder of Hollywood and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Farley of Denver. No date is set as yet for the wedding.

Novel Party

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rameson of 1853 Buckingham were hosts at a novel friendship party last evening, the guests gathering at the Rameson home and motoring to the Uplifters Club for the formal dinner-dance. The table was beautifully decorated with a blanket of spring flowers and the place cards were unique and colorful, each bearing the favorite expression of the guest.

Those included were Messrs. and Mmes. Philip Corin, Leon L. Riley, E. J. Crowley, R. J. Tearney, Robert Lerch, Misses Dorothy Fleming, Rose Crowley, Jeanne Mae Gephardt, Ramona Rameson, Helen Burley and Frank Pierce, N. J. Hartman, Frank Smith, Billie Rameson and Willie M. Kemp.

To Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Verdinand Perret of Los Angeles and St. Louis, sailed yesterday for Honolulu aboard the City of Los Angeles on a belated honeymoon trip.

Mrs. Perret was formerly Miss Gertrude Rose Gaupel of St. Louis, the wedding taking place here March 22, with Rev. Martin C. O'Malley officiating. The bride is a former pupil of the Sacred Heart Academy at Maryville near St. Louis, while Mr. Perret is the son of the late Jules Perret and Mme. Perret of Saverne, France. He received his schooling at the Royal and Imperial College at Hagen, Germany, majoring in art abroad, as well as at the Stickney Memorial School of Fine Arts in Pasadena, where he was a student of Prof. C. P. Townsley, associate of William M. Chase of New York and London.

Mr. and Mrs. Perret will return to their Los Angeles home after their trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

TROTH ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

Los Angeles Girl to Become Bride

[National Illustrated News syndicate]

Miss Jane Telfair Kaltenbach

OF MUCH interest to her many friends in Southern California is the announcement made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ernest Kaltenbach of Greystone, Cranford, N. J., of the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Jane Telfair Kaltenbach, to Roger Williams Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Aldrich, no date being set as yet for the wedding.

The news was told at a beautifully appointed tea with which Miss Kaltenbach entertained Friday afternoon, the guests including classmates at Miss Hartridge's school in Plainfield, from which Miss Kaltenbach is to be graduated next month. Silver hearts concealed in corsages of lilies of the valley and orange blossoms bore the names of the betrothed.

Miss Kaltenbach belongs to one of the old families of Los Angeles, being the great-granddaughter of the late Mrs. Juana Achey Neal and granddaughter of the late Telfair Creighton of this city and Mrs. Creighton of La Jolla. Her mother, formerly Miss Juana Creighton, was one of the belles in her girlhood here, her marriage to Mr. Kaltenbach taking place in 1910.

Mr. Aldrich is an alumnus of Stevens Institute of Technology and of the Harvard School of Finance.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHOCOLATE POUND CAKE

One cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar, the yolks of five eggs, the whites of five eggs, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a cupful of grated chocolate, two cupfuls of flour, one-fourth of a cupful of cooking sherry, one cupful of citron, or other candied peel, cut in small pieces; cream the butter, gradually add the sugar, and continue the creaming. Beat the yolks of the eggs until thick and lemon colored and add them to the mixture. Sift flour with the salt, and beat it in a little at a time, alternating with the cooking sherry. Add the citron and beat well. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and dry, then fold them into the mixture. Pour the mixture into well-oiled baking pans, place in a slow oven and when the cake begins to rise, gradually increase the heat to a moderate oven.

BURNT ALMOND ICE CREAM

Two cupfuls of milk, two cupfuls of cream, one cupful of sugar, the yolks of six eggs, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Beat the yolks of the eggs, add the sugar to them, then add the milk. Pour into a double boiler, and cook until a soft custard has formed. Allow to cool. Blanch and chop one cupful of almonds. Caramelize four tablespoonfuls of sugar, add the chopped almonds, and when cold pound to a powder. Add this to the custard mixture with one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, fold in the whipped cream, and freeze.

MUSHROOM POTPOURRI

Take one lamb's kidney, remove all the gristle and outer skin, cut in rather thin slices, wash and dry, and saute in melted butter for about five minutes. Remove from the butter and keep in a warm place. Saute twelve mushrooms that have been cut in slices, melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, then slowly add to the mixture one and one-half cupfuls of tomato puree, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of onion juice, one-half teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and a little pepper, cook the mixture in a double-boiler until thickened, then add the mushrooms and the kidney slices, and cook for ten minutes longer. Pour the mixture onto a hot platter, and garnish around the outside with cooked and seasoned rice.

MINT FRUIT COCKTAIL

Place in a serving glass one tablespoonful of freshly cut fruits, pineapple and strawberries, or raspberries are a good combination. Over the top of these fruits arrange three whole sections of grapefruit on the outer edge, and three whole sections of orange inside of that, having the curved side uppermost. The grapefruit sections should be marinaded in mint syrup for an hour or so. Pour over all a tablespoonful of mint syrup and place in the center a sprig of mint.

MINT SYRUP

Cook one-third of a cupful of sugar with two-thirds of a cupful of water for five minutes and pour it hot over one-fourth of a cupful of green mint, let stand until cool, add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, strain the mixture before using.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

ACID FRUITS DO NOT CAUSE ACIDOSIS

The belief of many people that acid fruits cause acidosis is readily disproven by testing the blood of patients who are on an exclusive acid fruit diet. Patients using nothing but orange juice will show an increased alkalinity of blood as long as they remain on the orange juice and, in fact, the more orange juice they use at one time the more the alkalinity seems to increase.

Countless experiments have convinced me that there is not the slightest excuse for believing that acid fruits have any effect, whatever, in creating acidosis. The fruit acids, such as citric acid, malic acid and tartaric acid are quite different in chemical composition from the acids in the body which produce acidosis.

The fruit acids may be considered natural acids and they are combined with alkaline forming elements. When these acids are digested they are oxidized and nothing remains but carbon dioxide and water. This releases the mineral elements which were combined with the acids, and produces a greater alkalinity of the blood.

The normal state of the bodily tissues is alkaline, and whenever this protective alkalinity becomes lessened the body becomes very susceptible to a variety of diseases. The body is never really acid until after death, but bad eating habits will reduce the normal alkalinity. I have never found a superior method for increasing the alkalinity of the blood than to use an exclusive citrus fruit acid for a time. When no other food is used, the elimination of toxic acids and material proceeds with great rapidity and, at the same time, alkaline substances are added so that the blood regains its normal alkaline balance.

If the rash appears on the skin when using citrus fruits, it is because of the poisons coming out through the skin in such large quantities that temporarily some of the pores are blocked, and rash and irritation result. This will disappear in a short time and even such skin diseases as eczema and psoriasis will quickly vanish. If the fruit diet is persisted in and nothing is given to retard the skin elimination by the use of ointments which repress the poisons in the body, I do not know of any food which has such a definite, beneficial result on the body as as the citrus fruits, and in no case can it be said that they produce acidosis.

The safe rule is to always use the fruits by themselves, and if you do this there is no disease where acid fruits are contra-indicated. The alkalinity of the blood will always increase; the hemoglobin or color of the blood will increase day by day toward normal. Thousands of laboratory experiments have confirmed this opinion. Remember, orange juice every day chases acidosis away.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

HOW SHARP EYES WERE FOOLED

E'en those in cleverness most schooled
By simple tricks are often fooled.
—Carol the Meadow Lark.

Reddy Fox knew that Carol the Meadow Lark and Mrs. Meadow Lark had a nest on the Green Meadows. Mrs. Reddy knew it. Old Man Coyote knew it. Redtail the Hawk knew it. Whitetail, the Marsh Hawk, knew it. You see, it was no secret. Anyone just listening to Carol as he poured out the joy of his heart would have known just what it was that made him so joyous. So, as I said before, it was no secret. But the location of that nest was a secret. Yes, sir, that was a secret and a well-kept secret.

"I don't suppose it is of much use to look for Carol's nest, but just the same I am going to try it," said Reddy Fox to Mrs. Reddy. "There is nothing gained without trying. A nestful of young Meadow Larks would taste as good as anything I could think of."

Mrs. Reddy grinned. "I wish you luck, my dear," said she. "I have already searched the Green Meadows several times for that nest. Perhaps your eyes are sharper than mine. Anyway, I wish you luck."

Reddy hid on the edge of the Old Pasture, where he could look across the Green Meadows. He saw Carol mount up in the air singing, for Carol does this sometimes. Then Carol dropped back in the grass. Reddy took careful note of just where that place was. He didn't go over there then, however. He remained in hiding. Presently Carol flew over to a post—a fencepost—and for some time he sat on this, telling all the world how happy he was. When finally he flew, dropped down in the grass very near the place where he had dropped down before. Reddy grinned.

"Of course," said Reddy to himself, "that nest isn't there. I know Carol well enough to know that he never would make the mistake of flying directly to his nest. But I also know that that nest is not a great distance from that spot. It is near enough for Carol to walk to. The thing to do is to search in a circle around that spot."

So Reddy came out of his hiding place and started across the Green Meadows. As he drew near the place where Carol had disappeared in the grass he began to move very carefully. He would take a step or two and then stop to look and listen. Presently the very thing that he expected happened; Carol took to his wings and came out of the grass at a point some little distance from where he had dropped down into the grass. Reddy grinned triumphantly.

"That nest is right over there somewhere," said Reddy. "All I need do now is to hunt very carefully around that place where Carol left the ground."

So Reddy made right straight for that spot. As he approached it he moved very cautiously indeed. Yes sir, he moved very cautiously. He looked to right; he looked to left. With every step or two he stopped to look, listen and smell. He knew when he reached the spot where Carol had been squatting in the grass. Carol had left a feather or two there. From that spot Reddy began working out in all directions. He was positive that Carol's nest, with Mrs. Carol on it, was not far away.

In this Reddy was right. As a matter of fact, twice Reddy passed within easy jumping distance of Mrs. Meadow Lark. Twice he looked straight at her and didn't see her. Yes, sir, Reddy looked straight at Mrs. Meadow Lark and didn't see her. The reason was that she kept perfectly still and her feathers were so nearly the color of the dead grass that it was difficult to tell grass from feathers. So in the end Reddy had to give up. When he got home Mrs. Reddy said nothing at all. She merely grinned.

HONOR HEAPED ON UNIVERSITY

King of Spain Sends Envoy to Trojan Celebration

Titled Spaniard to Observe U.S.C. Organization

Awards to Musicians Mark Semicentennial Fete

Visconde and Viscondesa de Casa Aguilar arrived yesterday afternoon direct from Madrid to attend the semicentennial celebration of the University of Southern California. The Visconde de Casa Aguilar is the personal representative of the King of Spain and was sent as a delegate to attend the university's fiftieth anniversary.

VISCONDE de CASA AGUILAR

"We shall remain here but one week," the distinguished Spaniard said, "but we consider the visit as one of great importance. We are engaged in building a university city in Madrid and while here hoped to see many things that will be helpful in the creation of our own school."

WELCOMING GROUP

Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the university, welcomed the titled couple. He was accompanied by Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Dr. Julio Endelman of the Trojan college of dentistry, and Allejandro Vice-Consul for Spain in Los Angeles.

Visconde de Casa Aguilar is dean of the dental school of the University of Madrid, is an officer of the French Legion of Honor, Knight of the Order of Alphonso XII and XIII, and is the dental and oral surgeon to the royal family, as well as enjoying the personal friendship of the King.

TROJANS REWARDED

Awards for "distinct musicianship and service" were a feature of the music program presented by the Southern California Musical Organizations at Bovard Auditorium last night. The entertainment was a part of the semicentennial week celebration, and was given under the direction of Harold Roberts. The awards, pins, sweaters, and plaques were given students and co-eds who have performed in the Trojan band, glee clubs and the university orchestra, receiving the distinction

GROUND BROKEN FOR CALTECH

Million-Dollar Dormitories Begun With Steam Shovel

Student Body President at Throttle of Machine

More Than 1000 Persons See Unique Ceremonies

PASADENA, June 2.—Directed by the hand of Charles Dickerman, student body president, a giant steam shovel today bit off the first bucket of earth excavated in the construction of California Institute of Technology's $1,000,000 group of dormitories.

More than 1000 persons, including students and friends of the institute, gathered at noon to witness the ground-breaking ceremonies on the dormitory site, located on East California street between the Guggenheim aeronautics laboratory and Hill avenue.

The new dormitory group will consist of four connecting student living-houses, which will accommodate 300 undergraduate students. Future plans call for erection of a duplicate of this $1,000,000 dormitory group on San Pasqual street and for two $200,000 graduate living-houses north and south of the $600,000 Athenaeum, faculty headquarters now nearing completion on Hill avenue.

Ultimately it is expected that the social and living quarters on the institute campus will represent an expenditure of more than $3,000,000.

FOUNDER TO BE HONORED

Designed in Mediterranean style by Gordon B. Kaufmann of Los Angeles, three of the four units in the new dormitory group will be named for their donors, L. D. Ricketts, Joseph P. Dabney and R. R. Blacker. The fourth, Fleming House, will bear the name of Arthur H. Fleming, institute founder, whose friends endowed the building in his honor.

Use of the giant steam shovel was decided upon as more befitting a scientific institution than the pretty silver hand shovel tied with ribbon that usually is selected as the tool on such formal occasions.

Although Student President Dickerman admitted he had practiced steam shoveling for two hours Saturday instead of studying for final examinations, more than 100 of his fellow - engineering students felt moved to shout advice at him while he struggled with the big levers.

STUDENT DROPS PUNCH

A slight yet mirth-provoking accident marred the solemnity of the exercises when Sidney Zipser, past student body president, became so nervous that he dropped and broke a large beaker of chemically pure punch that was supposed to have been smashed against the first shovel of earth.

Zipser, however, refused to allow the resounding laughter to interfere with the performance of his duty, so, clutching the two halves of the beaker, he ran toward the shovel and hurled them at its iron jaws while the red liquid dripped from his hands.

Roscoe Downs, president of the senior class, spoke briefly following the ground breaking.

Murder Suspect in Prison to be Brought Back

SAN BERNARDINO, June 2.—Wanted since August 16, 1928, on a charge of murdering Jesse Bowles, 22 years of age, at Victorville, A. N. Morsette is now in custody in Jefferson City, Mo., and will be brought to San Bernardino on a charge of first-degree murder, according to Sheriff Walter A. Shay.

Morsette is in the Missouri State prison under sentence of two years, after conviction on a charge of grand theft, according to information reaching Sheriff Shay. A hold order has been placed against him by local authorities and he will be returned here at the expiration of his term.

Morsette and C. V. Davis, alias West, according to the latter's confession to officers who arrested him in Los Angeles the next morning, went to a filling station in Victorville where Bowles was employed, and attempted to rob him. The intended victim resisted and was shot in the abdomen.

Davis declared that Morsette fired the shot and officers are inclined to agree with his version of the affair. Davis was convicted of murder and is serving a life sentence in San Quentin.

Giant Implement Breaks Ground at Caltech

As more in keeping with the atmosphere and traditions of a technical and engineering institution, ground-breaking ceremonies at the California Institute of Technology yesterday for the $1,000,000 group of dormitories were featured by the use of a steam shovel, instead of the usual small spade, while an added appropriate touch was given by the punch, a synthetic concoction. Charles Dickerman is seen at controls of shovel. Sidney Zipser poises the bottle of punch (just before he dropped it) and Roscoe Downs poses in left foreground.

GIRL DROWNED AT DEL MAR

Miss Margaret Moiss of Los Angeles Loses Her Life, Despite Efforts of Fiance to Rescue Her

SAN DIEGO, June 2.—An inquest into the drowning of Miss Margaret Moiss, 19 years of age, 3739 Glen Franco street, Los Angeles, in the ocean at Del Mar yesterday, will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m., Coroner Kelly announced today. Fred Saldido, also of Los Angeles, who was to have married the young girl within a week, was overcome while attempting to rescue his bride-to-be and was dragged to shore unconscious by Life Guards John Mondigo and Howard Fenstermaker.

The drowning of the girl plunged the party of week-end merrymakers who accompanied the pair from Los Angeles into mourning. Saldido, weak from his battle with the surf, was rushed to the Scripps Memorial Hospital, where he is recovering today. Miss Moiss was bathing in the surf when she apparently got beyond her depth. She was unable to swim and her screams attracted the party on the beach. Saldido, a poor swimmer, friends said, rushed into the water in an effort to save his sweetheart. Meanwhile life guards and spectators rushed to the scene.

C. W. McIntyre of Rancho Santa Fe was one of the first to enter the water. He brought the girl to shore after a terrific battle with the waves. Efforts of Dr. Thomas Davis of Del Mar and the La Jolla police to revive her proved futile. Deputy Coroner Harry Leech is investigating the tragedy for the Coroner's office. He ordered the body of the victim to the La Jolla Funeral Home.

LAGOON DRAGGED FOR BODY OF DROWNED YOUTH

VENTURA, June 2.—Authorities today were dragging the Point Mugu Lagoon at the Japanese fish camp to recover the body of John Craig, 22 years of age, of 2104 Park Grove, Los Angeles, who was drowned Saturday night while fishing for sharks off the narrow open bridge across the slough at the fish camp.

According to friends who were with the youth at the time, he probably slipped off the loose planking of the bridge when he got to his feet to allow two automobiles to cross the narrow passageway. The tide, coming in fast at the time, carried the body toward the gun club up the lagoon, but efforts to locate it have been in vain.

Deputy Sheriffs Freeman Bliss and William Suytar were called to the scene by Al Willson of Los Angeles, who was in the fishing party, with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hundergord, also of Los Angeles, and their sons, Norman and John.

Willson and Bob Campbell, another of the party, dragged the lagoon all Saturday night with Sheriff's officers. The work continued yesterday with the same result, and today Deputy Sheriffs Carl Wallace and Pablo Ayala were continuing the search.

The drowned youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Addison Craig of Los Angeles.

GRADUATION PLANS MADE AT CALTECH

Dr. Millikan to Confer Degrees Upon 152 During Exercises Friday

PASADENA, June 2.—Degrees will be conferred on 152 California Institute of Technology students at 4 p.m., Friday the 13th inst., when the annual commencement exercises will be presided over by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the executive council, and addressed by Dr. John P. Buwalda, professor of geology, whose commencement topic will be "The Geological Sciences and Human Progress." The exercises will be held on the campus, between Gates and Dabney Halls.

Dr. Millikan will confer degrees on approximately 100 bachelors of science, thirty-two masters of science and twenty doctors of philosophy. The commencement chaplain will be Rev. Edward Archibald Thompson, pastor of the First Congregational Church, of this city.

On Thursday afternoon, the 12th inst., Class Day exercises will be held, followed by a garden party in honor of the graduating class at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gates, 1025 Arden Road.

FINAL SERMON ANNOUNCED

MAYWOOD, June 2.—Rev. R. E. Sherer, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church here since it was organized, will preach his final sermon next Sunday. After that time a supply minister will fill the pulpit until a pastor is called for the position.

MOVE MADE TO SAVE ADOBE

San Bernardino Historical Society Would Preserve Old Cota Home in Chino Valley as Landmark

CHINO, June 2.—Seeking to preserve the pioneer landmarks of Chino Valley, an effort is being launched by George Beattie, president of the San Bernardino County Historical Society, to have the old Cota home here preserved as a county landmark. The home, situated on a hill, is said to be an excellent type of adobe homestead. It was built in 1839 by Juan Bandino, and now is greatly in need of repairs due to the inroads of termites and weather.

Mrs. Julia S. Fuqua, local pioneer, has presented to Beattie for photostatic preservation documents of value relating to the early history of San Bernardino county. Mrs. Fuqua is a great-granddaughter of Juan Nepomuceno Alvarado, the last mayor domo of San Bernardino Asistencia.

When 2 years of age, Mrs. Fuqua was taken by her parents to Colton to be baptized in the Church of Agua Mansa, practically all trace of which has disappeared, except for a mound of earth where the church stood.

Route of the pioneer Butterfield stages through Chino Valley is being sought by Beattie, and other members of the county historical society.

Tooth Infection Leads to Death

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, June 2.—Funeral services were conducted today for Albert D'Arcy, 31 years of age, of 16232 Vanowen street, who died following the extraction of several infected teeth. Interment was in Forest Lawn, Glendale.

For the last few days of D'Arcy's life several surgeons unsuccessfully combated a serious blood poisoning which set in. D'Arcy leaves a widow and a daughter.

He was a member of Paul Revere Masonic Lodge which had charge of the funeral rites.

Traffic Victim Dies in Hospital

SAN DIEGO, June 2.—Charles Burt, an ex-service man, died in the County Hospital today from injuries he received last week in a traffic mishap in National City, Deputy Coroner Harry Leech announced. Burt received the injuries which caused his death when his head struck a sign post on a National City highway, police said.

The victim was riding in a car driven by Cedric McConaha of 1986 Logan avenue, it was said. Burt, in some manner, either fell from the car or protruded his head beyond the side of the machine, causing it to come in contact with the signpost, officers stated.

An investigation disclosed that McConaha was driving the car at high speed, according to police. An inquest will be held later. A check of traffic accidents here discloses that nine were injured during the week-end, according to police.

MANIAC WIELDS KNIFE ON VICTIM

Santa Barbara Man Stabbed Just Above Heart

Attacker Asks Him Rate of Pay and Then Thrusts

Police Hunt Assailant of Charles Ortega

SANTA BARBARA, June 2.—Local police are searching the town for a maniac with a knife who stabbed and seriously wounded Charles Ortega, 30 1-2 South Quarantina street, in the 600 block on Montecito street in the early hours of this morning.

Ortega, returning home, was accosted by the man, who stepped from behind a pile of lumber and started walking with him, asking "How much do you make a day?" Ortega replied that he was earning $3.50 a day. His assailant, declaring: "I make more than that," removed a long knife from his belt, and plunged it into Ortega's left side, just above the heart.

As Ortega fell to the sidewalk, his assailant fled, making no attempt to rob him.

Ortega was rushed to St. Francis Hospital by Detective H. S. Colt. He gave a good description of his assailant and a search was launched by police immediately.

Ortega declared he had never before seen the man, and that the latter apparently had not been drinking.

AVIATORS TO TRY FOR NEW SPEED MARK

William Brock, Edward Schlee Hope to Break All Transcontinental Records

SAN DIEGO, June 2. (AP)—William S. Brock and Edward Schlee, famous aviators, will attempt a flight from Rockwell Field here to Jacksonville, Fla., and return about the 10th inst. to smash the transcontinental speed records east and west, now held by Lieut. James H. Doolittle and Maj. Theodore Macauley, the Chamber of Commerce announced today. The chamber is making all local arrangements for the flight at the request of Brock.

A feature of the double transcontinental record-breaking flight will be the broadcasting by radio of the progress of the plane both ways.

The westbound speed record is held by Lieut Doolittle, who flew from Pablo Beach, Jacksonville, to Rockwell Field, 2079 miles, in 21 hours and 20 minutes in September, 1922. The eastbound record is held by Maj. Macauley and achieved in August, 1920. Macauley flew from Rockwell Field to Jacksonville in 19 hours and 10 minutes with one stop at Kelley Field, Fort Worth, for fuel.

Brock and Schlee first attained international prominence in 1927 when they flew from Detroit to Tokio, a distance of 12,295 miles. They took off from Harbor Grace, N. F., August 27, 1927, and reached Tokio September 14.

City Clerk of El Monte Drops Dead in Shed

EL MONTE, June 2.—Bradford B. Moore, City Clerk here since 1916, was found dead in a shed in the rear of his home at 11 a.m. today by his son, Andrew, assistant cashier of the Southern County Bank. Moore's body was discovered after Street Commissioner L. P. Keller had telephoned young Moore that his father had not appeared at the usual time at the City Hall.

The son said when he left home at 8 a.m. his father was operating an electric washer in the shed, and appeared to be in usual health. Dr. E. D. Farrington said Moore had been dead about an hour and indications were that he had died of a stroke of paralysis. An autopsy will be conducted. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Deer to Feast Wives of Elks

REDONDO BEACH, June 2.—The Deers' organization, formed among women relatives of the local Elks' lodge, will entertain Thursday for Elks' ladies of Compton, Pasadena and Anaheim. Preparations are being made for about 120 visitors. A musical program in charge of Mrs. Katharine Schaeffer will follow the luncheon in the Elks' Home dining-room. Mrs. Marvin Wick, president, will preside. Mrs. John French is chairman of general arrangements.

HANDLESS VETERAN CARRIES ON

McGonegal Becomes Bell Postmaster

Charles C. M. McGonegal

BELL, June 2.—If the same determination displayed by Charles C. M. McGonegal, 34 years of age, veteran of the World War, in refusing to allow the loss of both of his hands to be an insurmountable handicap, is shown in his administration of the local postoffice, that office is due for an enviable career. McGonegal officially assumed his duties as postmaster today, following nine months of waiting for governmental red tape to untangle the questions which arose regarding the eligibility of a man without hands to serve in that capacity. The appointment was confirmed recently by the Senate.

GRENADES EXPLODED

A member of the First Division, McGonegal was among the first to reach France and served there for eight months before he received the injuries which deprived him of his hands. He was in a raiding party, he said, out to destroy a nest of machine guns. As he went forward, a grenade in each hand, he was stunned by the high explosives of a heavy barrage and both of the grenades went off in his hands.

After his discharge from a war hospital in this country, McGonegal said that he realized that he could not allow the loss of his hands and forearms just below the elbow, to wreck his life and he lost no time learning to manipulate the hooks which must serve him in their stead. Sometimes he would stay up until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning practicing and he still learns new tricks with the hooks every day.

PILOTS PLANE

Just as an idea of what he has accomplished, he drives a machine, without any extra appliances or devices, about 17,000 miles a year. He pilots a plane and, although the Department of Commerce thus far has refused him a pilot's license, he says that he will put up a fight before he gives up the determination to have a pilot's license just for his own personal pleasure in flying. He fishes, hunts, swims and rides horseback and while he hasn't become a golf fan, he is considering seriously entering the lists any day now.

DEXTEROUS AS ANYONE

His manipulation of the hooks which serve as hands is almost uncanny and as he talks he nonchalantly reaches into a vest pocket for a cigarette, dexterously lights the match, picks a piece of lint from his coat sleeve, stops for a moment to reach for the telephone, mops his brow with a handkerchief (the first day as postmaster was a bit hectic,) handles paper and letters as easily as a person with two hands, writes and in every way proves that he has not allowed his affliction to cramp his style.

McGonegal is commander of the Los Angeles County Council of the American Legion. He was a machinist before the war and never has worked in a postoffice before. Today between messages of congratulation from far and wide and the confusion of embarking upon a new career, he said that he found things a bit nerve-wracking, but still he insisted that, in spite of everything, he "is having a lot of fun."

SHIPMENTS OF MELONS DROP OFF

Unprecedented Coolness for This Time of Year Halves Imperial Output

BRAWLEY, June 2.—Unprecedented cool weather in Imperial Valley for this season of the year has cut cantaloupe shipments to less than half of the normal output for the first of June. Yesterday's loadings of cantaloupes amounted to 203 cars, making the total for the season 6119.

Shipments reached 400 cars a day on May 22, but cool weather during the past ten days has decreased the output in spite of the fact that much additional acreage is nowing bearing. Reduced shipments have had a favorable reaction on the market, however.

Watermelons are now going out in increasing volume, shipments amounting to fifteen to twenty carloads daily.

Heavy shipments of honeydews and honeyballs are expected to be under way before the end of this week.

Boy Succumbs to Accidental Revolver Shot

ONTARIO, June 2.—Shot in the groin May 12 by a revolver he didn't know was loaded, Jesse Spelts, 21-year-old local youth, died last night at San Bernardino County Hospital.

Jesse Spelts, his cousins, Richard and Bob Spelts, and J. O. Taylor, were in a room together at the home of the Spelts boy's aunt, Mrs. Minera Selman. Taylor was examining the gun, and the other boys were watching him. The gun carried a bullet, unknown to the youths, and in the explosion Jesse was shot. An artery was severed and the boy nearly bled to death. He seemed to be on the road to recovery, however, until last night, when death claimed him.

EL SEGUNDO CLUBS IN AL FRESCO MEAL

EL SEGUNDO, June 2.—Preparations are under way for the largest community affair ever undertaken here in the breakfast set for Wednesday morning in the city park on Grand avenue. Service clubs and the local Woman's Club are co-operating and proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of a permanent Christmas tree for the new park on Main street opposite the high school.

"FISHERMAN'S LUCK" ALL WET

Three Men in a Boat Make Fair Catch But Returning to Shore Their Dory Capsizes and They Flop Over Into Surf While Fish All Get Away

SANTA BARBARA, June 2.—Gus Appuhn, member of the local fire department; I. G. Henderson, Courthouse engineer, and Edward Bell, enjoyed, or suffered a bit of "fisherman's luck" over the week-end, according to word brought by them today.

Renting a small dory at Refugio Beach, they rowed out to the kelp and after two and a half hours under the hot sun, managed to snare a sizeable catch of fine fish.

As they returned and attempted to beach their boat, a large wave caught it broadside, and all of them, fully clothed, flopped into the surf, the boat capsizing and tossing the fish back into the water, together with all of the fishing paraphernalia.

FUNERAL OF PIONEER WOMAN ANNOUNCED

CHINO, June 2.—Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Eliza Mayhew, one of the earliest pioneers of Chino Valley. Mrs. Mayhew died last night at the home of her daughter here, Mrs. Elbert Flower of 335 Central avenue. She leaves one son, Clay Mayhew of Berkeley, and one daughter, Mrs. Flower. Burial will be in Pomona Cemetery, where her husband was buried a few years ago.

REDLANDS BOWL PLANS FOR SUMMER

With Prosellis Completed Greatest Musical Season in Local History Awaited

REDLANDS, June 2.—Plans for Redlands summer season of music for the masses in the bowl are rapidly being completed and Mrs. G. E. Mullen, who is manager of the Community Music Association, has promised the greatest season Redlands has ever had. The gift of the beautiful building, the Prosellis, erected during the winter by Mr. and Mrs. C. G. White and given to the city, has given impetus to the service in music and culture the association gives.

Some of the artists who will appear at the bowl in the series of concerts for the masses this summer are Elsa Alsen, Percy Grainger, the Smallman Choir and at least three of the best-known small symphony orchestras of the West.

Mrs. Mullen says that the program this year will also include a great number of dramatic events, more than usual, with pageants and plays of various kinds, but the emphasis, as in the past, will be placed on music.

The community sings are to be continued and these have been so popular that it is believed the crowds will be larger this year than ever.

Incorporation Papers Granted to Publishers

SAN DIEGO, June 2.—With a view to conducting two neighborhood newspapers in the eastern part of the city, the Corporate Journal Company was granted letters of incorporation at Sacramento yesterday. Directors of the new company, capitalized at $50,000, are P. S. Packard, Harry E. Willis, J. R. Warren and Stewart Sime.

Willis is to be president of the company and editor of both papers; Packard will be business manager; Warren is to act as vice-president and mechanical superintendent and Sime will be advertising manager.

The papers are the San Diego Progress and the New North Park Journal. Both will continue with a general newspaper and job printing business.

Willis founded the Progress six years ago. The Journal is only six weeks old. All stock in the company is held by the local directors, Willis said tonight.

Taps Sounded for Dr. Anthony

INGLEWOOD, June 2.—The funeral of Dr. Richard Seldon Anthony, internationally known physician and soldier, was conducted in Grace Chapel, Inglewood Park Cemetery, today at 2 p.m. Services were in charge of Beaver & Matson, local morticians.

Dr. Anthony, who during recent years had made his home at 205 Loma Vista street, El Segundo, died last Friday, Memorial Day, from a heart ailment, at the Memorial Hospital in Sawtelle. He was 65 years of age.

Dr. Anthony was born in Nova Scotia in 1865 and came to Los Angeles when he was 11 years of age. He practiced there and in Fresno. He was in the British army during the Boer War both as a soldier and a doctor, and was an army physician during the World War. He was a member of the I.O.O.F., American Legion, Modern Woodmen and the Adventist Church.

Dr. Anthony leaves his widow, Mrs. Clara Anthony; a daughter, Selda Anthony; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Wessells of Berkeley, and Mrs. J. J. Merritt of Petaluma.

DESERT YIELDS SLAYER VICTIM

Finding of Body May Solve Murder Mystery Here

Corpse Revealed in Shallow Grave Near Brawley

Officers to Check Clews in Hunt for Angelenos

Remains of a human body taken from a shallow grave near Brawley late yesterday afternoon may solve one of the three mysterious disappearances which have baffled Los Angeles police for several months.

Meager information relayed to the authorities here, following the gruesome discovery, made certain identification impossible, and police are awaiting additional description in the belief that the body with a bullet hole in the skull may be that of either Frank Baumgarteker, Joe Porazzio, or Tony Buccola.

THREE DISAPPEAR

Baumgarteker, wealthy wine merchant, has been missing since November of last year; Porazzio has not been seen since he left his home in an automobile for a conference with friends; and Buccola disappeared about May 6, last. His abandoned auto was discovered on the beach near Venice.

Reports from the authorities at Brawley state that the skeleton, partly wrapped in tar paper and bound with a heavy rope, was taken from a shallow grave ten miles northwest of that place.

BURIED IN DESERT

There were indications, according to Deputy Coroner Cockley of Brawley, that the body had been transported from a distant point and partially buried in the isolated desert and wind-swept area.

Discovery of the body came after Augustin Orduno, a rancher, reported that he had seen the skull of a human being lying on the ground at a spot off the highway between Westmoreland and Calipatria.

PAPER IN POCKET

Authorities hurried to the spot and with little excavation uncovered the remains. No papers or identifying marks could be found by a hasty search through the tattered clothing, but in one of the pockets of the coat was a copy of a Los Angeles newspaper, dated February 5, last.

The victim had dark brown hair and was of short stature. Two upper teeth had gold fillings.

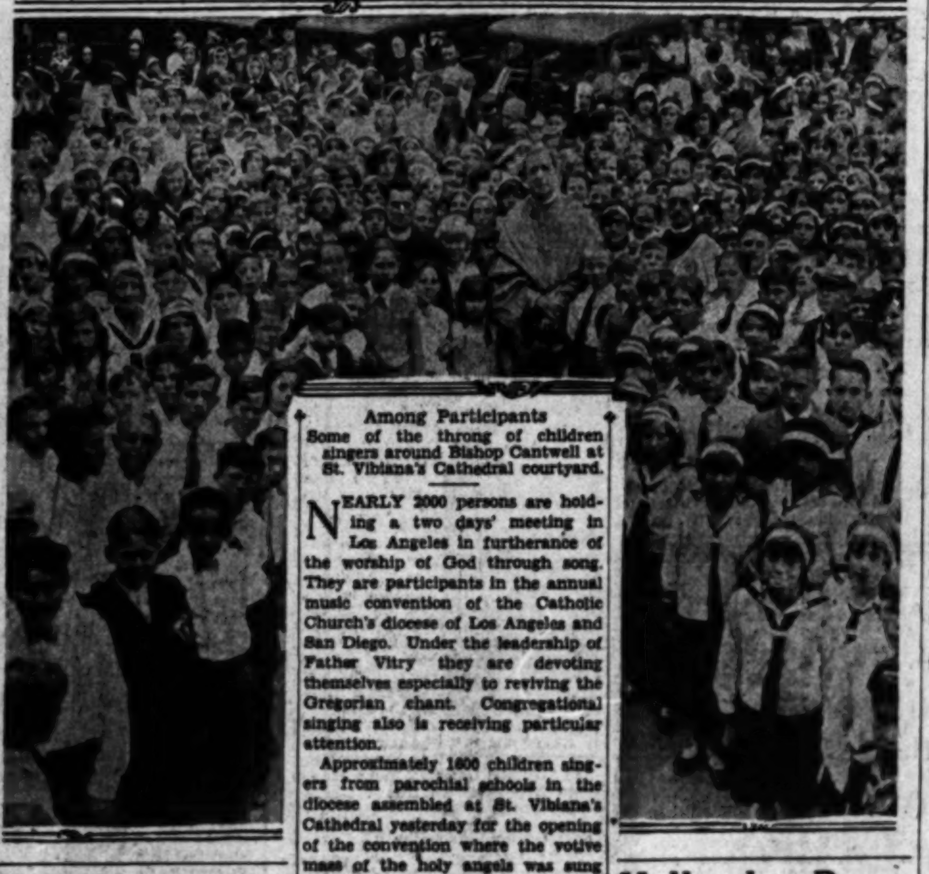
Police last night were in conference with the Brawley authorities asking for added information, and a fuller description of the clothing found on the body.

CHIEF WOULD IDENTIFY BODY AT SANTA ROSA

Police Chief Steckel last night ordered a photograph and finger prints of Allen Decker sent to the police of Santa Rosa, in an effort to identify the body of a man found drowned there. Police announced that Decker also was known as Eddie Shaw and that a warrant had been issued for his arrest on a charge of forgery.

CATHOLICS OPEN MUSIC CONVENTION

Hundreds Taking Part in Reviving Gregorian Chants



Among Participants
Some of the throng of children singers around Bishop Cantwell at St. Vibiana's Cathedral courtyard.

NEARLY 2000 persons are holding a two days' meeting in Los Angeles in furtherance of the worship of God through song. They are participants in the annual music convention of the Catholic Church's diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego. Under the leadership of Father Vitry they are devoting themselves especially to reviving the Gregorian chant. Congregational singing also is receiving particular attention.

Approximately 1600 children singers from parochial schools in the diocese assembled at St. Vibiana's Cathedral yesterday for the opening of the convention where the votive mass of the holy angels was sung in Gregorian chant by the Catholic junior choir and boys' choir of St. Andrew's Church, Pasadena. The church was packed. The celebration took place in the presence of Bishop Cantwell.

This morning's session will be preceded by pontifical mass of the ascension celebrated by Bishop Cantwell. Convention sessions which are conducted in Catholic girls' high schools are open to the public.

Father Vitry has been working for months in the diocese preparing the singers for the events, which are intended to give emphasis to some of the older forms of sacred singing.

Two Planes on Ely Hop Land at Las Vegas

Two airplanes, believed to be those that took off from the Los Angeles East Side Airport this morning for Ely, Nev., and were reported missing, were at the Western Air Express Field at Las Vegas, Nev., at midnight, it was reported through Western Air Express here.

Dean Banks and Dale Straw were at the controls of the ships when they left at 10 a.m., expecting to reach Ely within five hours. Banks carried one passenger in his open biplane, while Straw was accompanied by three men in a cabin monoplane. Both ships are Travelairs.

The party started for Ely to attend the Lincoln Highway celebration. The Western Air Express report stated that the biplane bore the registered number, C-682-K and the open ship, C-994. Mrs. Banks, the pilot's wife, stated that these are the numbers of the craft.

Pilot McDaniels Funeral Today

A squadron of airplanes will drop floral offerings above the San Gabriel Cemetery this afternoon during funeral services for J. F. McDaniels, airplane pilot, and brother of Mrs. Juanita Burns, aviatrix, who died last Friday following injuries received on April 16, last, in an automobile crash.

Services will be conducted from the Du Bois Funeral Home, 400 South San Gabriel Boulevard, at 2 p.m. McDaniels was associated with his sister in operating the Garvey Airport, near San Gabriel.

"He was born in Marion, Ky., and was 26 years of age. He spent most of his life in El Paso, Tex., where he learned to fly. He resided at 1110 South Ramona street, San Gabriel.

Besides Mrs. Burns, McDaniels leaves another sister, Thelma McDaniels; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McDaniels, and a half-brother, W. G. Rodney.

DAZE CITED IN MEXICO NUPTIAL TIE

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Says Marriage to Actress, if Made, Not Legal Bond

Contesting the validity of his asserted marriage to Zora Westerman Carling, known on the stage as Nora White, Philip T. Carling, former deputy sheriff, yesterday told Superior Judge Bowron he was in a haze from excessive drinking when he and the actress were at Tia Juana on July 22, 1929.

"I do not know just what did happen," Carling declared. "I have a hazy recollection of some kind of a ceremony."

Carling said he was mentally incompetent to enter into a marriage contract; also that if a ceremony was performed it was not in accordance with Mexican law.

The burden is on Carling to prove the marriage ceremony, which Nora White asserts was legal, was not legal.

If Judge Bowron rules the marriage legal then the hearing will proceed on the wife's petition for separate maintenance and Carling's request for an annulment or divorce.

C. T. Andrade, qualified expert on Mexican law, testified that two witnesses are necessary at a Mexican ceremony, witnesses who live in Mexico and who have known the bride and groom for not less than two years.

Carling asserted yesterday the witnesses who were at the ceremony, if there was a ceremony, were strangers to him.

Pair Accuse Each Other of Same Conduct

Details of flirting and liquor drinking fill the complaint and cross-complaint of Jacob Benson Luden, motion-picture actor, and his wife, Elizabeth Seltzer Luden, each of whom accuses the other of intoxication and improper conduct.

Luden said his wife was extravagant, incurred bills he couldn't pay, and embarrassed him with drunken scenes. She, in turn, accuses him of habitual intemperance.

Officer Arrests Young Escapees

Charles Wilson, 19 years of age, and Arvil Powell, 17, escaped from Preston Reformatory May 20, and according to police charges were going strong with a quick record of seventeen stealings, including five automobiles and jobs in residences and business houses, when Powell ran afoul of Officer Brady of Lincoln Heights. Now they are in jail.

Officer Brady was on traffic duty keeping Vermont picnickers from tangling near Sycamore Grove Saturday when he recognized Powell from police pictures and automobile descriptions. He gave chase and got his man, which resulted also in capture of Wilson in Riverside.

ILLNESS DELAYS CASE

Because of the illness of E. J. Young, former official of a bank at Hermosa Beach, the case against him was continued yesterday by United States District Judge Cosgrave until July 28, next, to be set for trial. He is accused of misapplication of bank funds.

Holland to Run For Justice Job

C. D. Holland, for three years a deputy attached to the District Attorney's office, yesterday announced that he has resigned his position to become a candidate for the office of justice of the peace in Beverly Hills township. The resignation will become effective on the 23rd inst.

Mr. Holland is a native of California and a graduate of the Los Angeles public schools. He finished his legal education at the University of Southern California at the close of his service in the Marine Corps during the World War. Since then he has lived in Beverly Hills with his wife and three children.

RUMORS OF RICHES MYTH DIVA AVERS

Mary Lewis to Receive But Little from Foster Father's Estate, She Says

Mary Lewis, opera singer, denied reports that she had come into an inheritance of $1,000,000 or more following the death of her foster-father, Osborn O'Hagan, near Monte Carlo, on her return to Hollywood yesterday.

While she was engaged in a radio concert recently in New York, Miss Lewis received word of the death of O'Hagan and collapsed at the microphone. She canceled all appearances and left immediately to attend the funeral.

Shortly after her departure reports were spread in Hollywood that Miss Lewis had received an inheritance of more than $1,000,000.

"The exact value of Mr. O'Hagan's estate is not known nor has the will been opened," Miss Lewis stated yesterday. "There are one son and three daughters now in London who will share in his estate and I am quite sure I will not receive $1,000,000."

Miss Lewis returned to Hollywood to commence work shortly on her first singing and talking pictures.

CRUELTY TO CANINE CHARGED

Second Complaint Against Man Asserts He Blinded Dog With Ammonia

A second complaint charging cruelty by pouring ammonia down a dog's throat was filed yesterday by City Prosecutor Nix against Chester Johnson of 412 North Orlando street. Mrs. Ethel E. McKinley of 413 North Flores Drive told the prosecutor that her dog is blind in one eye and is likely to die as a result of having ammonia poured over his head and down his throat. A warrant for Johnson's arrest was issued.

Johnson appeared before Municipal Judge Curtis during the morning and entered a plea of not guilty to the first complaint filed against him last week by Stanley Wilson of 754 North Alfred street, who declared his dog is completely blind as a result of ammonia administered by Johnson. Jury trial was set for July 1.

UNION DEPOT REHEARING PLAN URGED

Counsel for Roads Decide on Action to be Taken in Plaza-Station Fight

Decision to recommend to railway executives that the fight on the order to build a union station at the Plaza site be carried on through the filing of a petition for a rehearing before the State Supreme Court was reached yesterday at a conference of counsel for the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe railroads.

The request for the rehearing on the decision of the high court upholding the authority of the State Railroad Commission to order construction of a new $10,000,000 Plaza station is the logical step in carrying on the opposition to the long struggle, it was pointed out by the attorneys.

Such a step was outlined when the decision was handed down May 27, and the intimations at that time were that the railways would seek a rehearing or take an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

The railroads have twenty days in which to file their petition for the rehearing, and the city of Los Angeles will have eight days in which to reply. Thirty days from the date of the first decision a decision on the petition for a rehearing must be handed down by the State Supreme Court.

Under the decision of yesterday the railways will file between now and the 16th inst. Counsel for the city must reply by the 25th inst., with the two-day period remaining for the court's ruling on the petition.

The matter of carrying the fight on the United States Supreme Court, should an adverse ruling be handed down on the request for a rehearing, will await the natural sequence of events, according to the attorneys.

Concrete Curing Row Brings Suit

Suit was filed yesterday in United States District Court by S. A. Cummings and Mildred M. Voris against the Hunt Process Company, the McEverlast Paint Products Company and others, asking for $325,000 damages with respect to the use of a patented curing process for newly laid concrete pavement. It is charged that the defendants conspired to prevent the use of the process, to influence officials and contractors and to cause dissension among employees of the plaintiffs.

THE BANK FOR SAVERS

SAFEGUARDING the savings of Californians is an old responsibility for the Bank of America. As early as 1860 a pioneer savings bank—now welded into this state-wide institution—began to build on the foundation of personal integrity and fidelity.

Today there is the added protection of close regulation and supervision by governmental authorities, but the self-imposed restrictions of the Bank of America are even more exacting. We are still building on the foundation of personal integrity and fidelity.

To savers in 160 communities and neighborhoods, the Bank of America brings this protection, reinforced by resources in excess of 400 millions.

More than ever before, the Bank of America is the bank for savers. Your account is cordially invited.

ANITA LOUISE TO BE STARRED

Mary Lewis Vehicle Titled "Siren Song"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

A 15-year-old actress, Anita Louise, is claimed by producers to be a prodigy. And so young Miss Louise is about to be starred. She was lately placed under contract by Tiffany.

ANITA LOUISE.

Miss Louise is playing the feminine lead now in a picture formerly titled "Just Like Heaven." But her work is so amazingly clever, they inform me at the studio, that the title is to be changed to her character name, and will be called "Mimi."

Phil Goldstone is looking for stories in which to star Miss Louise.

And in the meantime, she is to play two more featured leads, in order to become thoroughly accustomed to screen work, in which she has had little experience, although taking to acting like a duck to water. She has had a little stage experience.

Her next role will be the featured feminine lead in Emory Johnson's production, "The Third Alarm," which was written by Emelie Johnson.

CLARK CAST IN "MY SON"

The Civic Repertory Theater has settled one difficult casting problem at the Music Box, where the last production of the season, "My Son," will have its premiere Monday night.

Herbert Clark, creator of the role of the son in New York, will play the part here, featured with Helene Sullivan, who will portray the mother. From "My Son" Clark played the lead in "The Patsy" with Claiborne Foster, an engagement that lasted two years. Then "Excess Baggage" with Miriam Hopkins, and from that to Hollywood and a picture with Ramon Novarro called "House of Troy."

Young Clark is said to be exactly the type for the dashing Portuguese youth in the play, who absorbs rapidly American education, manners and eventually morals, with the aid of a sophisticated and unscrupulous New York frequenter of night clubs.

CRUZE HAS LONG M.-G.-M. CONTRACT

A long term contract is to be entered into between James Cruze and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, if present plans materialize. It is admitted on both sides that it is entirely likely that the contract will be signed.

Cruze, according to plans, is to make four pictures over a term of as many years; that is, one a year, sandwiching them in between his own productions.

No story is yet chosen as his first vehicle, though several rumors are afloat.

Vehicles Chosen

Although Fox loans J. Harold Murray out for a picture once in a while, it looks as though that organization means to keep him pretty busy on its own pictures.

J. HAROLD MURRAY

Two, in addition to "The Red Sky," are to serve as feature vehicles for the popular player.

The stories in question are "Her Kind of Man" and "Woman Control." Both promise the star fine acting opporunities.

In "Woman Control," Mona Maris is to have the featured feminine lead opposite Murray.

Mary Lewis's First Pathe

Mary Lewis, grand opera singer from the Metropolitan, having returned to Hollywood following a trip to London and an engagement at the Metropolitan in New York, is all set to begin work on her first Pathe picture.

MARY LEWIS

This will be a musicale called "The Siren Song," an original written for her from an idea submitted by Laura Hope Crews, and is based on the story concerning a French peasant girl who becomes a great singer.

So far neither director nor cast have been assigned.

Lucile Gleason to Direct

Once more Hollywood is to have a woman director. She is none other than Lucile Webster Gleason, that versatile lady of the stage, one might say, since she writes plays, directs and acts in them. Besides all this she is the loving wife and "severest critic" of James Gleason, also stage and film director-author-actor.

Mrs. Gleason has just signed with Columbia to direct, write, act and supervise talkers. "Ladies Must Pay" is the first.

She is under contract for six pictures, to supervise, write dialogue and codirect.

Phyllis Haver Arriving

Once more Phyllis Haver is to grace the haunts of Hollywood. She is due to arrive in town today for a visit with old friends and relatives.

This will be Miss Haver's first visit since she married William Seeman more than a year ago. She will be accompanied west by Mrs. Rube Goldberg.

Two Leaving Universal

It is understood that Joseph Schildkraut and Merna Kennedy are finishing their Universal contracts and are leaving that organization. Rumor has it that Schildkraut may sign with Tiffany, although no confirmation of this is found.

Edwin Knopf's New Contract

Edwin Knopf, Paramount director, left last evening for a two weeks' vacation in New York. Within his pocket he carried a newly signed contract to direct for Paramount-Publix.

The director's vacation trip combines a celebration of the signing of his new contract and a business opportunity to see the current plays on Broadway. He will be in New York six days, during which time he plans to see eight new stage productions.

Margaret Livingston Home

Margaret Livingston has returned from New York after a brief three weeks' visit there. She gave up a trip through the Panama Canal, owing to a call from her manager to hurry home and decide on a picture offer.

Lewis Milestone to Europe

Lewis Milestone, who is now safely ensconced on the pinnacle of picture fame, owing to his direction of "All Quiet on the Western Front," sails for Europe Friday on the Europa. For the first time in seventeen years, the director plans to visit his family and his old home in Russia. He was born in Odessa, and his family still dwells there.

He will be absent about three months, and will visit London, Berlin, Constantinople, Vienna, Budapest, Rome and Paris in addition to his home town.

WROTE JAZZ OPERAS

W. Franke Harling, composer with Richard A. Whiting of the musical numbers in "Monte Carlo," Ernst Lubitsch's new production for Paramount, composed America's first jazz operas: "The Light of St. Agnes" and "Deep River."

"THE LAST MILE" SUPERTHRILLER

Prison Outbreak Play Runs Riot With Action

Notable Triumph Achieved in Production

Ovation Tendered at Close of Majestic Presentation

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Life may look sweet to those whose hour of death is set, but the fresh air will seem a grand old place to everyone who sits in on the tense three acts of "The Last Mile," which had an engrossing and brilliant western premiere last night at the Majestic Theater. All the experiences of actually participating in a prison outbreak were vouchsafed to the audience that witnessed this thriller of thrillers, which tells of the sensational fight for freedom of six men who were sentenced to be hanged.

Against a barren bleak background are its three acts of furious drama evolved and when you come through it you will feel as if you had been at the battle of Vimy Ridge or the ultimate Argonne.

Here is a play keyed to the highest pitch, and performed with a sweep that enthralls.

One act, feverish with the somber psychology, works up into a melodrama that runs rampant and wild. When the curtain falls for the first time you say to yourself, "What next!" And when it drops for the last time, you will, perhaps, weakly murmur "What else?"

PSYCHOLOGICAL START

I can give you one tip. Watch the man who says little or nothing, and who hangs on the prison bars. He may not look like the most interesting character right at the outset, but he turns out to be that and much more before the play is half-over.

The wise theatergoer may surmise that he is the star early in the game, but in the writing "The Last Mile" manages to throw the interest elsewhere, for it gives what looks like the big role in the play to the chap who is electrocuted at the end of the first scene.

John Wexley, who wrote this piece, has built it up with excellent technical detail. You will feel, at first, when you see it that it is going to be a mental creation, say, broadly speaking, along the lines of Leonid Andreyev's "The Seven Who Were Hanged." I am not so sure but that there wasn't a suggestion for the general plan of the play drawn from that novel, famous a score of years ago.

However, the sources of "The Last Mile" are distinctly mentioned in the theater program as a diary of a condemned convict that appeared in American Mercury Magazine, and the Colorado jail break.

There is the realistic situation of the hostages held—among them the warden's brother and the penitentiary priest—and killed. There is the defiance of desperate men who refuse to give in, and who make ruthless and nightmarish decisions and bargains under the stress of "nothing to lose."

VERITABLE BARRAGE

Battles rage between the convicts in the death cell, and the prison guards and the militia outside. Fierce fusillades are flung back and forth between the forces of law-breaking, and those of law-enforcing. Dynamite is exploded under the windows of the prison, bringing a shadowed stage, and seemingly throwing men off their feet.

"The Last Mile" is hot. It is vigorous stuff. The mold is entirely different from the ingenious and skillful "Criminal Code" that played here a few weeks ago.

This play undoubtedly has the popular tinge. It dashes along with interest literally on fire. Only in a few scenes toward the last does some of the pandemonium lose effect, and even this, perhaps, can be remedied when the production is whipped fully into shape.

At that, "The Last Mile" is one of the best presentations of the year, evidencing careful preparation and authority. I do not think that Lillian Albertson has ever quite equaled her staging in this instance. It is clever, consistent and real, and, with only the slight exceptions I have mentioned, never lets down.

The cast offers some distinctly notable performances. Those of Clark Gable and Edward Woods are decidedly the most impressive, and Gable's necessarily proves the most intense. The ovation he was given after the final curtain demonstrated the approval for his work. Miss Albertson was brought on the stage to share in this. James Gordon, Russell Hopton, Paul Fix, Kingsley Benedict, V. Talbot Henderson and Earl Dwire were all manifestly effective in the roles they played, but then they are singularly strong roles. For in a way this is almost an actor proof play.

"The Last Mile" is a thriller. It doesn't aim perhaps to be much beyond that. The strongest lesson that it teaches is that such an outbreak as was projected was doomed from the start, and that it is a question in the long run whether all the convicts would rather die fighting or, after all, a few would not prefer to go the regular route to the chair. As a thriller, though, this play is a knockout—and in more senses than one.

Dancing School to be Opened

Charles and Louis Mosconi, noted Ziegfeld dancing stars now featured in Sid Grauman's new prologue, will stage a triple premiere for the opening of their new school of dancing, corner of Yucca and Las Palmas, in Hollywood.

Mosconi Brothers' professional premiere will take place tonight, with stage and screen notables acting on the reception committee.

On Friday night the collegiate premiere will be held, with prominent student groups from the University of Southern California, U. C. L. A., Loyola and Occidental in attendance. Completing the series, a children's premiere will be staged Saturday afternoon, on which occasional juvenile film stars and entertainers will appear in a special program.

"NEW WOMAN" SATIRIZED

Shavian Rarity, "Philanderer," Takes Caustic Thrust at Early Feminism; Well Enacted at Mason

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

A Shavian rarity, "The Philanderer," was uncorked last night at the Mason Theater by the English Colbourne-Jones Players to the utter delight of a small, but extremely appreciative audience.

"The Philanderer," as most followers of the drama know or should know, was one of the first plays to come from the pen of George Bernard Shaw. It was written in 1893 and preceded both "Arms and the Man" and "Mrs. Warren's Profession."

This is the first time that it has been seen in the commercial theater in America west of New York and consequently its production is in the nature of a Shavian occasion.

In it Mr. Shaw has taken advantage of an opportunity for caustic thrusts at the "new woman" (not the flapper,) who, in her earnest desire to achieve equality and smoking privileges, must have been quite a problem in 1893. With biting humor and amazing satire he leads her and one or two of her sisters in and out of extraordinary situations.

"The Philanderer" is a young gentleman with roving tastes who has fallen out of love with one determined woman that he may woo another. He has a very bad time of it, what with the first lady fair making noisy scenes and throwing herself at his feet. The two fathers, a sister and an erudite physician (in love with the jilted lady) enter into the thick of things and for a time everything is pretty complicated.

Pungent dialogue, salted with Shavian wit and penetrative humanness, characterizes the play. In the mouths of these English players, who have undoubtedly a definite feeling for Shaw, it has a fine zest and sparkle. In the enjoyment of this one one loses sight of the less sound construction of the mechanics of the play and loses oneself again in admiration of Mr. Shaw's brilliant facility with words.

The title role has been delegated to Barry Jones, who gives a suave, smoothly sophisticated portrait of a professional suitor. Maurice Colbourne, as Dr. Paramore, none other than the discoverer of "Paramore's Disease," does not make his entrance until the second act of the play. He is very much a part of things when he does arrive and manages a vividly etched, somewhat pointed characterization.

Phillis Coglan is the poised, sweet current object of the philanderer's affections. She gives a good performance. Hilda Case, as the woman scorned, is melodramatically vociferous in an effective manner.

Two excellent pieces of characterization come from Lambert Larking, the bucolic Col. Craven turned vegetarian, and Rule Pyott as the mildly mannered dramatic critic and bewildered father. Constance Pelissier is a hearty exponent of feminism. C. Emerson is a page in the Ibsen Club.

This is the last of the series of plays done here by the Colbourne-Jones p layers. It's decidedly worth seeing.

Dedication of Pantages House Due Tomorrow

An important chapter in the theatrical history of Los Angeles and Hollywood will be written tomorrow night when the palatial new Pantages Hollywood Theater, under direction of Fox West Coast Theaters, opens with a gala premiere.

Rodney and Lloyd Pantages together with H. B. Franklin announce that everything is in readiness for what they believe will be one of the most pretentious and spectacular of openings. Numerous motion-picture celebrities, society, city and State officials will participate with the general public in the gala festivities.

Eddie Cantor will be the grand master of ceremonies for the entire dedicatory performance. The feature screen attraction will be "The Florodora Girl," an M.-G.-M. production. Fanchon and Marco have created a special idea which they call "Rosegarden." Slim Martin and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Jean Hersholt Plays Villain in Jungle Film

Jean Hersholt as a rich, cruel and hated vulgarian, Eleanor Boardman in the role of an exquisite, sensitive daughter of nobility and Ralph Forbes as a handsome young officer stand at the three points of the triangle drama set forth in "Mamba," which is to have its first local showing starting Friday at Fred Miller's California Theater.

The story of "Mamba" is laid in an African jungle and its name comes from the mamba, the poisonous snake of that country. A reptile in human form is the role portrayed by Hersholt. When his wealth buys a cultured bride who hates him and who is wooed impulsively by a daring soldier, the romance begins. F. Schumann-Heink and John Reinhardt wrote the story and Al Rogell directed. In the cast are Josef Swickard, Claude Fleming, William Staunton, Hazel Jones, Arthur Stone and others.

"High Treason" closes its two weeks' engagement Thursday evening.

'Golden Dawn' Opens Friday at Downtown

"Golden Dawn," one of last season's stage successes in New York, comes to the screen of Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater as the next attraction, starting Friday. It is based on the play by Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein II.

Walter Woolf, popular light opera star, plays the leading role in this production, which marks his first screen appearance. Vivienne Segal, also of the light opera stage and who made a success of her first talking pictures, is intrusted with the role of Dawn. Noah Beery plays a leading role as Shep Keyes, "The Whip Man," and in this part sings the "Whip Song."

Included in the cast of the production are Alice Gentle, Lupino Lane, Marion Byron, Lee Moran, Nigel De Brulier, Otto Mattieson, Dick Henderson, Nina Quartaro, Sojin and Edward Martindel. Ray Enright directed.

Clara Bow in Star Role of "True to Navy"

The old idea of a sailor with his girl in every port is exactly reversed by Clara Bow, who has a sweetheart on every one of Uncle Sam's ships in her latest Paramount production, "True to the Navy," coming to the Paramount Theater Thursday.

In "True to the Navy" Clara is seen as the cihef attraction of Harry Green's soda fountain, where the sailors of the Pacific fleet gather and each one regards the girl as his own.

With its locale in San Diego harbor and border pleasure resorts, "True to the Navy" is said to bring to the screen a somewhat changed Clara Bow. Her flapper bob is gone, and she has let her hair grow to full shoulder length. Miss Bow is said to be more slender than in her previous screen appearances also tipping the scales, it is reported, at least thirty pounds under the usual figure.

The supporting cast includes Harry Green, Fredric March, Sam Hardy, Jed Prouty, Adele Windsor, Eddie Dunn, Ray Cooke and Rex Bell. Frank Tuttle directed.

STAR DOMINATES CLINICAL PLAY

"Outsider" Dramatization of Power of Love

Maurice Moscovitch Master of Histrionics

Belasco Scene of Debut for Stage Favorite

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Conspicuous chiefly as a medium for introducing Maurice Moscovitch to Los Angeles playgoers "The Outsider," by Dorothy Brandon, was offered for public inspection last evening at the Belasco Theater. Only seven years have elapsed since Miss Brandon's drama served as a vehicle for Lionel Atwill in New York City, although the abundance of florid passages might lead one to date it more closely to an early decade of the century. Fortunately it has been staged in the manner which befitted it; that is to say, one excessively theatric, so that, histrionically, if not sincerely, it draws the last full measure of emotion from each line and bit of business. Repression was not written into "The Outsider," and it is acted full tilt.

For the better part of the play, the conviction grew that it was the girl, Lalage Sturdee, who came nearest to an approximation of such obscure realism as the piece evidences at all. Mr. Moscovitch, as the surgical-instrument maker, Anton Ragatzy, achieved the three dimensions of an entity more slowly; his motives, the man himself, developed as the playwright's purpose crystallized. This was during the course of the third act, when the surgical-instrument maker turned —and at his time of life!—a magnetic and, indeed, a successful lover.

A Russian by birth, Mr. Moscovitch swung his talents to the English-speaking theater a decade ago. When he enters a room, all those already occupying it make a tableau of which he is the focal point. He moves swiftly, gracefully, easily dominant in the fashion of grand thespianism which, especially since the screen has compelled a more succinct treatment of situation, is gradually dwindling away altogether. Yet there are those who will credit Mr. Moscovitch with a mastery of his art altogether as gratifying as it is increasingly rare; and to them I heartily commend this drama.

The "love conquers all" theme is the one which Miss Brandon chose for her play. Ragatzy, looked down upon by members of the Royal College of Surgeons as an imposter, a quack, yet effects miraculous cures of crippled limbs and twisted bodies —and in the ratio of sixteen to two. He studied anatomy, he tells the physicians sardonically, in the stock yards of Chicago. He is a surgeon, in short, "without benefit of surgery." The plot gains momentum when he contrives to convince Lalage, beautiful maimed daughter of Jasper Sturdee, England's greatest (reputable) surgeon, that he can make her walk wholly and without limp within a year.

Lalage is impressed. "Are you a devil . . . or the answer to my prayer?" she cries, daring to hope that he is the latter. But when she starts away with him, her father, outraged, interposes.

"Sir, you are taking my daughter!" he thunders.

"No," returns Ragatzy, even as the second-act curtain descends; "no—I am taking my degree A.D.F., After Doctors Fail!"

In the closing act, he learns that her sweetheart, Basil Owen, no longer loves her. But with several months to go ere she gains her powers of locomotion, she must not discover his delinquency, lest she lose all interest and the faith which is essential to success. So Ragatzy assumes the guise of her sweetheart, and comforts her, whispers of love, instead.

The solution arrived at is pleasant enough, providing the spectator will accept Ragatzy in lieu of Owen; and, considering that Lalage does, the matter would seem to be settled for him.

Betty Ross Clarke, struggling with almost impossible lines, emerges with distinction from the difficulties imposed upon the character of the crippled Lalage. Of the others, Brenda Forbes gives a creditable, if somewhat uncertainly accented portrayal of Mme. Klost; Geoffrey Wardwell typifies the erstwhile lover, Owen; Richie Ling acquits himself well enough as the father; and the medical profession is represented in varying degrees by John Peter Richmond, Arthur Metcalf, Eric North and Frederick Harrington.

Criterion Books "Big House" as Next Picture

"The Big House" will follow Norma Shearer's "The Divorcee" at the Criterion Theater. A tentative date set is the 19th inst., according to a report.

Jack Lait's novel has been filmed from the scenario by Frances Marion and George H. Hill for M.-G.-M. Chester Morris, who is Norma Shearer's husband in "The Divorcee," has a leading role in "The Big House," while Robert Montgomery will again be seen and heard. Wallace Beery and Leila Hyams have other leading parts.

"The Divorcee" is now starting its fourth week at the Criterion. The three past weeks have seen all patronage records broken, according to the management.

Air Film Will Start Earlier

Last-minute warning has just been issued by Sid Grauman that performances of "Hell's Angels" from now on will start promptly at 2:15 and 8:15 o'clock at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

In view of the length of Grauman's prologue and the magnitude of the Howard Hughes air spectacle, it is necessary to start the prologue promptly at the appointed time. This is fifteen minutes earlier than has been the custom at productions in the Chinese, which did not offer a prologue.

COUNCIL GETS CITY'S BUDGET

Public Hearing Scheduled to Take Place Monday

Revisions May be Made in $80,000,000 Items

Park Department Outlines Its Plans for Year

The $80,000,000 budget for the next fiscal year was filed with the City Council yesterday by Mayor Porter. It was referred to the Finance Committee for a public hearing Next Monday.

The Council may revise the budget, whereupon it will be returned to the Mayor. It takes effect July 1, next.

Estimated cost of buildings and improvements listed in the park department's budget provide the most moderate program in five years. The total is $146,331, compared with $978,268 last year and $352,801 for the year 1926-1927.

REASONS GIVEN

One reason for the reduction is that $33,250 is to be provided for paying assessments on park property, which payments the park board heretofore has opposed. Another is that the unappropriated balance for the fiscal year is placed at $120,000, which may be used to pay for buildings and improvements not yet determined. A third reason is that $80,000 is provided for the city forestry department.

Of the total receipts, including $1,330,000 from taxes, $800,349 is to be paid in salaries. This is the lowest since the year 1927-1928. This year the estimated amount for salaries is $804,278. The reduction is based on the policy of not providing work at parks for itinerants, as in the past.

The item of expense, totaling $194,500, is lower than for five years. This year estimated expenditures total $249,394. The total next year for equipment is placed at $29,000, compared with $40,076 for this year.

OTHER ITEMS

Principal items covering proposed buildings and improvements include $46,250 for Griffith Park, to provide a fertilizing plant; Vermont and Western avenue water systems, a circulating pump, booster pump and pipe and storage sheds for the pump yard.

The next highest item is $30,000 for landscaping North Hollywood Park. There is $17,432 provided in the budget for painting, lighting sprinkling and fire protection systems at Banning Park in Wilmington. Amounts for improving other city parks range up to $7670, the amount to be spent on water systems and road improvements in Elysian and Everett parks.

IMPERSONATOR SENTENCED

Carey S. Smith, 31 years of age, was sentenced yesterday by United States District Judge McCormick to serve six years at McNeil Island Federal prison on four counts of impersonating a naval officer. He used the prestige thus gained to cash several checks.

PAY DELAY UPSETS HER NUPTIAL PLANS

Imogene Lyons

Marriage plans of Imogene Lyons, 21 years of age, of 211 West Fifty-second Place, have been upset by the failure of her employer, Frederick Perl, landscape architect of 508 Union Bank Building, to pay her wages, she told City Prosecutor Nix yesterday.

"He owes me $179 and because he hasn't paid me I won't be able to go to Montana, where I am to be married Monday," she told the prosecutor.

Nix issued a complaint charging violation of the State Wages Law against Perl and Municipal Judge Curtis issued a warrant for the architect's arrest.

LAD CLEARED OF ONUS IN PLANE-THEFT CASE

Although he was detained temporarily for questioning, Kenneth O'Hara, 19 years of age, 3115 Manitou avenue, has been cleared of suspicion in connection with the asserted attempted theft last Friday night of an airplane from Western Air Express field, police announced yesterday. Sheriff's deputies seized O'Hara, whose two companions fled, when airport attaches reported the trio acting suspiciously near a plane. They turned him over to Office Irvine of the vice-squad, who released him when he gave a satisfactory explanation.

Any Old Place Mary Goes She Goes to School

All the world's a school to Mary Ashbrook, 14-year-old daughter of Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. W. A. Ashbrook, who was a week-end arrival from Shanghai aboard the Dollar liner President Madison.

MARY ASHBROOK

Mary has already attended school in nine ports, so often has her father been transferred.

"At least I am an expert in geography," she said, "from first-hand observation. First I went to school in Panama, then in Los Angeles, Norfolk, Manila, Shanghai, San Diego, Peiping, back to Manila and again to Shanghai. Now we are on our way to Atlanta."

Mary has been so busy traveling, she explained, that she has had no time to learn foreign languages.

Ruiz Announces Law Connection

Rewarded with $5000 for working his way through the University of Southern California law school and then passing the State bar examinations, M. Robert Ruiz yesterday announced he has become associated with Attorney Willedd Andrews, 221-222 H. W. Hellman Building. With the $5000 given by his father, he intends to purchase a complete library.

M. ROBERT RUIZ

Ruiz was a member of the Trojan track team which was victorious in the I.C.4-A. for two successive years. He also was a member of the Trojan debating team that won the Pacific Coast and western States championship, and is a member of the national honorary forensic fraternity, Delta Sigma Rho.

LEMON PIE MAKING TO BE SHOWN TODAY

Every woman who yearns to make a perfect lemon pie should go to the Los Angeles Times' Free Cooking School today since, in response to a number of requests, Chef Wyman again will show every detail in the preparation of a chiffon lemon pie. She also will demonstrate two other desserts, rich ginger bread and ice box cookies and will make raspberry trifle and prepare another of the appetizing "whole meal" dishes, ragout of lamb with summer squash. Everyone interested in cooking is invited to go to the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, at 2 p.m. today.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded contracts for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Sunset Boulevard between Stanley avenue and Havenhurst Drive at $25,542 and for the paving of Garey street between Second and Third streets at $2989.21.

A sawfish recently caught off Durban, South Africa, was fourteen feet six inches long.

GOLF TEST ENDS IN HOSPITAL

Woman Goes for Instruction in Game and Gets Blow on Head From Driver

For several years Mrs. Mary Huft, 28 years of age, of 4112 West Seventeenth street, has longed to play golf. Yesterday she determined to learn; so she went to Sunset Fields, 4201 Angeles Mesa Drive, and applied for instruction.

The instructor took Mrs. Huft to the practice tee.

"Now stand back there," he cautioned. "I'm going to show you how to drive."

Mrs. Huft stood back but not far enough. The instructor swung the driver and on the follow-through it struck Mrs. Huft on the head.

Mrs. Huft is in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital recovering from concussion of brain.

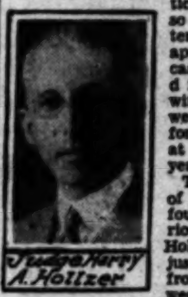
HOLLZER TELLS OF COURT TOUR

Efficiency of Appeal System in New York Cited

Manner of Jury Selection Also Commended

Cleveland's Divorce Case Method Described

Without adding any more courts or judges New York State has established an Appellate Court practice, or routine, so efficiently systematized that appealed civil cases may be disposed of within eight weeks. In California it takes at least two years.



Judge Harry A. Hollzer

This was one of the things found by Superior Judge Hollzer, who has just returned from a five weeks' trip that included Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington and New York as a representative of the Judicial Council of California sent east to study court systems.

"New York State has made the greatest progress in the matter of systematizing its court routine, particularly the Appellate Court," said Judge Hollzer. "Appealed cases can be heard within six weeks after the attorneys are ready with them and disposed of within eight weeks. The great saving of time is largely due to the fact that but few opinions are written."

SIMILAR SYSTEM HERE

The system as adopted in the New York State Appellate divisions, of which there are four in the State, is similar, according to Judge Hollzer, to that which was adopted by the appellate department of the Superior Court in Los Angeles county when the department was formed last fall. Not being compelled to write opinions in every case has so expedited the work of Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop that hundreds of cases have been disposed of by the department.

Not only is New York State's Appellate Court highly systematized, but the State also has the most efficient method of handling trial juries, Judge Hollzer declared.

"After the jury panel has been drawn all the jurors assemble in one large assembly room at the Courthouse. The jurors do not have to sit around in courtrooms waiting to be called in trials," he stated.

"When a jury is needed in the trial of the case the attorneys, without the judge, the litigants and a clerk, go to the jury assembly room. Eighteen jurors are drawn. They then retire to a small room where each venireman is questioned by the attorneys and a jury of twelve persons drawn for the trial.

"It is all done while the judge still is trying the preceding case. When he finishes jury attorneys and litigants are already to begin trial of the incoming case.

"The system is saving the taxpayers of the State thousands of dollars annually in jury fees," Judge Hollzer added.

Judge Hollzer also declared he found everywhere he went court experts now are giving the keenest attention and thought to the formation of some system whereby the courts may be kept from being cluttered up with so much litigation caused by motor transportation. About one-third of litigation everywhere at the present time is caused more or less by some phase of automobile traffic.

COMMISSION PROPOSED

"Many are thinking of forming some sort of a commission, probably to be fashioned somewhat after our Industrial Accident Commission," Judge Hollzer said, "where these cases can be handled before getting into a court."

At Cleveland Judge Hollzer found a very efficient system relative to preliminary proceedings in divorce actions, where alimony or custody of children is involved.

While in the East Judge Hollzer attend the conference on judicial administration held at Washington on May 7 and 8, last. Judicial councils from all parts of the country were represented. The conference was held under auspices of the Johns Hopkins University. On one of the days the meeting was presided over by Chief Justice Marshall of Ohio. On the other day Judge Hollzer presided.

REWEDDED BLISS DREAM, SHE SAYS

DIRECTOR'S WIFE AGAIN FILES SUIT

Von Sternberg Pair at Parting of Ways After Divorce and Remarriage

Verifying rumors that have prevailed in Hollywood for several weeks, Riza Royce, motion-picture actress, yesterday instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, Josef von Sternberg, Paramount director. She asks marital freedom on the ground of cruelty. It is stated that property arrangements have been reached.

It is their second divorce proceeding, Mrs. Von Sternberg having been granted a decree in 1927, only to become reconciled with her husband early the next year.

Rumors that they had separated were vehemently denied by Von Sternberg when his wife made a recent trip to New York. The date of their separation is given as May 13, last, when, Mrs. Sternberg charges, her husband remained away from home all night. As a result of his action, she charges, she became ill and it was necessary for her to go to a resort for her health.

The complaint charges cruelty and that Sternberg made "disparaging remarks" to her that led to numerous quarrels and that he was "contemptuous and called her harsh names." Another charge is that on May 11, last, he used force in "projecting her out of the house."

Sternberg met his wife while directing a picture for Charles Chaplin. At that time Mrs. Sternberg was acting as assistant director.

The director recently introduced Marlene Dietrich, German musical comedy and film actress, to a group of newspaper and magazine writers at a luncheon party. He "discovered" Miss Dietrich on a recent visit to Germany.

Woman's Frat Specializes in Publicity Work

Recognition as the only women's publicity fraternity west of the Rocky Mountains, was officially granted to Pi Psi at the University of California at Los Angeles yesterday.

Membership in the organization is limited to women engaged in publicity work for the news bureau of the university.

Pledges initiated at a banquet held recently are Isobel Culver, Margaret Collins, Jewel Holder, Hilda Lopez, Dee Niece Osika and Winifred Rhodes.

Incoming officers are Dee Niece Osika, president; Helen Hewitt, vice-president; Hilda Lopez, secretary, and Jewel Holder, treasurer.

EBELL CHOOSES MRS. C. S. CRAIL

New President Unopposed in Club's Annual Election

Mrs. Albert Purdue Named as First Vice-President

Other Events of Interest to Women Chronicled

BY MYRA NYE

Mrs. Charles S. Crail was elected president of the Ebell Club of Los Angeles yesterday without competition, receiving a higher number of votes than any of the candidates running for other offices. Mrs. Albert Homer Purdue was elected first vice-president after running without competition, while the victorious candidates for the second and third vice-presidencies are Mrs. Harry Lee Bentley and Mrs. Newton Everett Cramer.

MRS. CHARLES S. CRAIL

Sole candidates for other offices who were elected are: Mrs. Frank Karr, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Jess E. Wilson, recording secretary, and Mrs. William M. Kinney corresponding secretary. Mrs. W. L. McLeod was the successful candidate for the office of general curator. Mrs. A. Bennett Cooke and Mrs. Harry A. Ford were chosen to serve on the board for the coming year. Mrs. Cooke is the retiring president.

Mrs. Crail's election was a foregone conclusion practically at the time her name was suggested as a nominee for the office. She has been a loyal worker for the organization for years, serving as the first curator of the law department and during the past year as first vice-president.

Mrs. George U. Moyse of Glendale was elected president of the California division of the American Association of University Women at the annual convention which closed Saturday at Santa Barbara. Elected with her were Mrs. Hugh Penland of Berkeley, vice-president; Mrs. A. H. Taylor of San Francisco, recording secretary; Miss Rosemary Button of Long Beach, corresponding secretary and Miss Martha Frost of San Diego, treasurer.

MRS. GEORGE U. MOYSE

For the past three years Mrs. Moyse has been outstanding as chairman of fellowships for the State division and the South Pacific section. Under her leadership the South Pacific section has obtained in cash and pledges more than $18,000 toward the $1,000,000 fund of the national A.A.U.W.

Mrs. Moyse holds a B. A. degree from the University of California and an M. A. degree from Columbia University. She has spent one year of study in Germany. She is the president of the Deans of Women of Junior Colleges of Southern California, and a past-president of the branch of the A.A.U.W. at Glendale.

Wilshire Woman's Club

Heading an interesting program at the Wilshire Woman's Club today is Judge Harry R. Archbald who will speak on "The Citizenship of Today and Tomorrow." Miss Natalie Bucknell, head of the research department of Metro-Goldwyn Mayer studios, will be another speaker and Floretta Burdick will sing following a group of readings to be given by Marion Kucheman Monteleone.

The annual luncheon of the organization will be held at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel the 17th inst. with an attendant program of music and dance numbers provided by La Verne Moller Cooke, lyric soprano, and Joyce Murray, interpretative dancer. Frances Grant Colberg will provide the accompaniments.

Decorator to Speak

Edgar Harrison Wileman, consulting decorator for Barker Brothers and lecturer for the University of California at Los Angeles extension division and the University of Southern California college of architecture, will speak on "Interior Decorating" at the Soroptimist Club luncheon today at the Biltmore on a program arranged by Geraldine Lovingood. The hostesses are Mary M. Russell, Mattie N. Wallace, Stella Dennis Taylor, Mamie E. Jenkins, Susie King, Minnie Grogan and Mary Halpick.

Baby Stars to Appear

An attractive feature of the program to be given this evening at Temple Israel by the junior group of the Jewish Music and Art Foundation will be the appearance of a group of R.-K.-O. and Paramount baby stars including "Pinkie" Kapp, Annette Sadaros and Bobby Bell who will appear in a baby revue together with twelve other children. Miss Pearl Fox is chairman of the junior group and Mrs. Louis I. Levinson is president of the organization.

To Give Two Functions

Many nations month will be observed by the Matinee Musical Club at its two functions this month to be held Thursday of this week in the Ambassador Theater and the annual fiesta closing luncheon, Thursday, the 19th inst. at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel. Mrs. Mae Shumway Enderly, president, is program chairman for the meeting this week and is presenting Carol Tilden Taylor, interpreter of songs; Harry De Silva of stage and screen; Otto Yegge, Swiss yodeler; Fritzie Klein in interpretative dances and Josephine Durgan, lyric soprano.

Final Meeting

Detailed reports on the lives of recent Presidents of the nation will be given at the final meeting of the Garfield Study Club Thursday at 5200 Oakland street with Mrs. Mabel Dwyer in charge. "The History of California" has been chosen for the topic of next year's study which will begin in September.

HARTMAN CHARGE DROPPED

Woman Will be Put in Asylum Instead of Facing Trial on Triple Murder Accusation

Mrs. Mary Hartman of Long Beach, suspected of the arsenic murder of her husband, son and daughter, will not be tried on the charges, but will be confined to the Patton State Hospital as an insane person, Daniel Beecher, chief of the District Attorney's trial department, announced yesterday.

Mrs. Hartman was found insane by Superior Judge Gould at a hearing of the Insanity Commission. The decision was based on the testimony of Dr. Martin Carter and Dr. S. D. Ingraham, who examined the woman.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Beecher, a chemical examination of the bodies of Olaf Hartman, the woman's husband, who died October 15, 1927; Henry Hartman, a son, 22 years of age, who died June 12, 1929, and Ruth Hartman, a daughter, who died April 24, last, disclosed the presence of sufficient arsenic in each case to cause death. Chemists also found arsenic in Mrs. Hartman's hair, Beecher said.

The woman was arrested last April shortly after her daughter's death, and was held for questioning. Later it was decided to test her sanity.

PERILOUS-AFRICA YARNS DECLARED FAIRY TALES

If all the stories told by travelers of Africa's jungle trails were subjected to the test of truth, life, alas, would be much less interesting than it is.

Such is the opinion of Sylvanus Bevan Salter, a London mining engineer and geologist, who has tramped from one end of Africa to the other and spent considerable time in the interior of the Dark Continent. He is staying at the Alexandria.

Even motion-picture records of African travel meet with a skeptical reception by Salter. Gorillas photographed walking upright—rot, says Salter; a tribe of lost white women, ditto; a strange race of people, neither male nor female, living in the Lake Chad district, nonsense!

"One can easily engage natives to assist in trick pictures," he declares.

Salter admits that lions and tigers are rather dangerous, but he declares the most dangerous animal is the African buffalo. Lions, he says, generally will leave you alone; but the buffalo will seek you out. And if it has a good pair of horns, woe is likely to be yours.

The visitor has first-hand knowledge of conditions in Burma, Siam, the Dutch East Indies, Straits Settlements, Australia, New Zealand and other distant corners of the earth. He came to the United States to investigate mining conditions and reports that great stores of gold and other minerals are readily accessible in the Southwest.

Frankie Campbell goes after his fourteenth straight knockout when he faces Tom Kirby of Boston in the ten-round main event at the Olympic tonight.

Kirby is a light-heavyweight who came West with Jimmy Maloney, and is managed by Dan Carroll. The latter was very anxious to get his boy in the ring with the slugger from the north after seeing Campbell flatten Les Kennedy at Wrigley Field, and predicts a break in the knockout string.

Save for one fight with Jimmy Hanna, there is no local line on Kirby. He beat Hanna easily in six rounds as a special event t the Joe Cardoza-Mike Hector bout.

For other evidence we must rely on the record book, and this shows Kirby to have had fights with well-known performers such as Tommy Loughran and Young Stribling. He has three knockouts against him —Yale Okun in 1925, and by

Pacific Coast Conference Rejects "Czar" Plan

FACULTY GROUP BANS PROPOSAL

Commissioner of Athletics Idea is Voted Down

"No Need at Present Time," Owens Proclaims

Will Discuss Methods for Picking Officials

SEATTLE, June 2. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference will not follow in the Big Ten's footsteps and employ a commissioner to supervise athletics. The faculty representatives of the ten schools in the conference disapproved of the plan at their meeting here tonight. The faculty officials voted in favor of the report presented by a committee of three rejecting the "commissioner" plan recommended by the graduate managers of the organization at their fall meeting in San Francisco. The committee which investigated the idea was composed of J. F. Bohler of Washington State College; H. C. Willett of Southern California, and E. J. Miller of the University of California at Los Angeles.

"We see no urgent need at this time of appointing a commissioner to handle athletics in the conference," said President W. B. Owens of Stanford after the meeting tonight. "Some day it may be necessary to adopt the plan but the time is not ripe now."

At their summer meeting in Spokane last year the graduate managers appointed a committee to investigate the plan and the committee recommended the appointment of a

TROJANS MAY WIN AGAIN

I.C.A.A.A.A. Champions Have Slight Edge Over Cards in Annual Chicago Classic

BY RALPH HUSTON

If the Trojan and Stanford trackmen could take exactly the same places in the N.C.A. meet at Chicago Saturday as they did in the I.C.4-A. meet at Cambridge last week-end, the Cardinal and Gold athletes would win the title 87½ points to 68½.

In the Chicago meet, six places instead of five are scored, and the points are bigger. They rank 10-8-6-4-2-1, as compared with the conventional 5-4-3-2-1 in the I.C.A.A.A.A. affair. Stanford won four first places at Cambridge, as compared with two for the Trojans, but Dean Cromwell's runners took enough second, third and fourth places to make up the deficiency.

FRANK WYKOFF

However, it doesn't seem humanly possible that the two teams could score exactly the same, and evidences are that the Trojans will be harder hit than the Cards. George Simpson of Ohio State, will be on hand to contest Frank Wykoff and Hec Dyer, the eastern sprint champs, with Eddie Tolan, Cy Leland and Claude Bracey all almost sure to compete.

ROTHERT BEST

Harlow Rothert and Eric Krenz won't even be threatened, if the marks made by the Big Ten athletes in their annual meet are to be taken as a criterion. That circuit furnishes most of the competition in the N.C.A. affair, although numerous good athletes from all

Ex-Heavyweight Champ Not Sure of His Plans

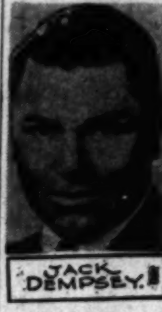
Jack Dempsey is back in town. The former heavyweight champion arrived yesterday from Salt Lake City on a Union Pacific choo choo and had the following to say: "Perhaps I'll return to the ring again, and perhaps I won't." From that you can draw your own conclusions.



JACK DEMPSEY.

Dempsey looked a little bit stout in the face. He said he weighed 210 pounds. The ex-champion was met at the station by Estelle Taylor, his wife. With the former heavyweight king was his self-styled secretary, Leonard Sachs.

Dempsey, in his usual way, sidestepped anything that would lead to a direct answer on anything except the weather, and

Los Angeles Athletic Club Star Gets Credit for Two Marks at Olympic Meeting

BERLIN, June 2. (AP)—The International Amateur Swimming Federation's 1930 meeting wound up today with the re-election of virtually the whole slate of officers and directors and the decision to hold the next meeting at Los Angeles in August, 1932. Daniel J. Ferris, the only American delegate present, extended the invitation for the meeting to be held in Los Angeles.

Five marks made recently by American swimmers were recognized by the International Amateur Swimming Federation as new world records. Josephine McKim, Los Angeles A.C. star, set two of these, and Walter Laufer, Chicago; George Kojac, New York, and Albina Osipowich, Worcester, Mass., accounted for the others.

JOSEPHINE McKIM

Many of the ten world records accepted are understood to have been bettered since, but the various national governing bodies have not yet had time to pass upon the later performances.

The federation decided to add the 800-meter swim to the list of events for which world's records are accepted.

Approval was given to the day-by-day program submitted for the Los Angeles Olympics of 1932.

A South African proposal to prevent Olympic swimmers who do not participate in trial heats in relays from appearing in the finals was turned down by a vote of 23 to 6.

Twenty nations were represented at the meeting. Peru and Cuba were admitted to the federation, while Latvia and Morocco, not complying ANNAPOLIS, June 2. (Exclusive)—Midshipman Herman A. Piecszentekowski of Providence, R. I., has been named captain of the Naval Academy varsity crew, which has been getting along the whole season, up to this time, without an official leader. The election has been postponed largely because it was uncertain whether a member of the graduating class would be included in the varsity boat, but Piecszentekowski, the only member of that class in the first boat, is now firmly settled at No. 7.

GIBSON DUNLAP DEFENDS CROWN

Links' Artists to Tangle on Midwick Course

Fay Coleman is Strongest Title Contender

Gaines, Martin Heralded as Competitors

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Southern California's thirty-first annual amateur golf championship begins this morning over the closely guarded fairways of the Midwick Country Club.

Gibson Dunlap of the Rancho Golf Club, University of California at Los Angeles senior, defends the title he won in brilliant fashion at Bel-Air a year ago.

JACK GAINES

As 130 low-handicap golfers tee off this morning for the first eighteen holes of the thirty-six-hole qualifying test, Dunlap's chances of repeating his 1929 victory appear to be no better nor worse than those of a score of others.

The field will be virtually the same as that of a year ago with the same favorites. Fay Coleman of the California Country Club, Los Angeles city champion and amateur title-holder in 1928, looms as one of the strongest contenders in the tournament. Fay has been actively engaged in business this spring and has played but little competitive golf. He is at the peak of his game, however, and has always played Midwick well.

GAINES ENTERED

Last year's medalist, Jack Gaines of Girard, is entered and should be right up among the leaders. Jack is better as a medalist than a match player, although he recently won the Girard championship against a strong field, defeating W. L. Jelliffe in the finals.

David Martin, last year's runner-

Utah Champs to Compete in Junior Olympic Games Finals Here Saturday

THREE BOYS TO DISPLAY WARES

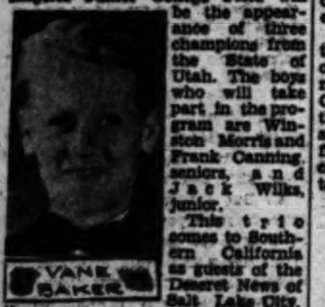
Morris, Canning and Wilks Will Take Part

Vane Baker Hopes to Score Well Among Seniors

Ord Shoults Determined to Make Comeback

BY BRAVEN DYER

One of the features of Saturday's Junior Olympic Games finals at Los Angeles Junior College Field will be the appearance of three champions from the State of Utah. The boys who will take part in the program are Winston Morris and Frank Canning, seniors, and Jack Wilks, junior.



VANE BAKER

This trio comes to Southern California as guests of the Deseret News of Salt Lake City, the paper sponsoring the Junior Olympic Games in that section. Accompanying the boys will be James Hodgson of the Desert News and Coaches Anderson and Horne.

BETTER 600 MARK

The Utah boys, although appearing in the meet, will not compete against Southern California's entries for the right to go to Atlantic City. There is little likelihood of the visitors beating out the local leaders, anyhow, inasmuch as their scores are not as high as those being registered in these parts. All three boys exceeded the 600 mark.

Another interesting angle in Saturday's program will be the return to competition of Vane Baker, national junior champion last year. Vane entered the senior division this year. Being a little fellow, he naturally found the going exceedingly tough. On top of this Vane suffered a series of mishaps which would have caused a less courageous competitor to withdraw from the program.

However, Baker stuck to his guns and is competing in Saturday's meet by special dispensation from the executive committee, although he did not take part in the Los Angeles county finals. And those who are counting Vane out because of his smallness may get the surprise of their lives.

"I think I can do 640 points on Saturday," said Vane last night.

If he can do that there's likely to be some consternation in the senior ranks for scorers did not scintillate very brightly last week and 640 points might win the title, or at least place second. Vane has improved in his broad jumping and baseball throwing. There never was anything the matter with his chinning or basketball throwing, which means that he will be a tough customer this week-end.

WAUGH DANGEROUS

Sig Nylander, coach at Torrance High School, feels that his star junior performer, Truman Waugh, will pull a surprise Saturday. Waugh placed second to T. Okura last week, scoring 561 points. The youngster has improved steadily each week during the season and Nylander figures that he will hit the 630 mark Saturday.

"I figured his score at 581 for last week, anyway," said Nylander yesterday.

There was a slight dispute over Waugh's time in the dash and his performance Saturday will, therefore, be watched with more than ordinary interest by officials.

Another dangerous competitor is Paul Lee, who ought to extend Louis Haley of San Bernardino, Robert Thompson of Riverside and Clark Crane of Huntington Park in the senior division. Lee scored 603 points to Crane's 621 Saturday.

Paul started like a house afire this year, but hit a slump and did not do so well for a spell. Saturday, however, he regained his form and his coach, Marion Sparrow, feels that he will reach a new high mark and thus spring a genuine surprise.

Another boy who has a chance to pull a real comeback is Ord Shoults of San Pedro. Shoults had scored 654 points prior to the Los Angeles county finals, but had a bad day in this meet and fell away to a mere 576. It will be surprising if his coach, Arthur Dietz, doesn't have Shoults back in the running again this Saturday.

HUFFMAN TO MEET BAKER ON FRIDAY

Another fistic veteran hits the comeback trail Friday night at Compton when Eddie Huffman, former navy champion and a prominent heavyweight contender, exchanges leather buffets with Bud Baker, Long Beach motorcycle cop, in the eight-round main event. Victor over Gus Heib twice and Gene Mullen by a one-round kayo in his last three fights at Compton, Baker rules an even choice against Huffman, who went into retirement two years ago after meeting several of the best-known heavyweights in the game.

Jack Campbell and Jackie Stewart, 148-pounders, meet in the six-round semi-wind-up, while Jimmy Benway of Long Beach faces Elliott Badella in the six-round special. The show will be opened by two four-rounders, with Don Cox of South Gate against Bob Martin of Santa Ana in one of them and Ray Salisbury of Pico against Johnny Gronone of Los Angeles in the other.

Four Champions

According to an old poetical legend three fishers went sailing out into the west and they didn't do so well. The case of the four American champions who went sailing into the east is entirely different. The four are Bobby Jones, Helen Wills, Glenna Collett and Bill Tilden. They didn't all win, but their average was extremely high.

Bobby Jones won the British amateur at St. Andrews. Helen Wills, or Mrs. Moody, won the French tennis championship for women. Miss Collett reached the final round of the British women's golf championship and Bill Tilden reached the final round of the French tennis championship, where it took Cochet to halt his charge.

Furnishing two winners and two runners-up or runner-ups in the four championships, all played across the water, is an extremely fine showing, for in each field the best amateurs in the world were gathered.

Jones had the closest call as he was battling in a game where the run of luck plays a larger part than it does in tennis and no contender without the breaks can keep on winning two matches a day from the best in the game. Knowing how strongly he felt about winning this British championship, last week's play was easily the hardest golf assignment he has ever faced and you can gamble now that it will be some days before his nervous system has settled down and the fluttering quivers have deserted his pulses.

The Widest Margin

These four championships also proved that Mrs. Helen Wills Moody dominates her field by a wider margin than any other champion. There is no one around now who can even give her a battle, or anything approaching a battle. For example Helen Jacobs crushed one of the best women tennis players in Europe, the young Spanish champion, and Mrs. Moody then galloped away from Helen Jacobs without any great effort. There doesn't seem to be any one woman player in sight who can give Mrs. Moody a hard match for some time to come.

Cochet again proved that Tilden must keep his place as the second best tennis player—not the first. Big Bill has moved through a marvelous season but he can't beat Cochet, who has about as much as Tilden ever had, plus youth.

Cochet will turn in two matches for the Davis Cup series and it will then be a question of finding two men who can beat Borotra and pulling off the doubles match. Without Tilden, this will be close to the impossible.

The British Open

Qualifying rounds for the British open are now only two weeks away and there is a lot of discussion back and forth as to what Bobby Jones's mental attitude will be at Hoylake after his victory at St. Andrews.

Will he feel as keen about keeping on, now that he has won every title he could go after? Knowing Jones there is only one answer.

Once he is rested up and ready to go again he will be keen enough to give all he has. He may feel satisfied with his lot today and for the next few days. He may feel now that the British open doesn't matter so much. But he will feel quite differently about it when he arrives at Hoylake where he met his first British disaster and finds such competitors as Horton Smith, Mac Smith, Leo Deigel and the best of the British contingent.

In addition to all this he has a strong leaning toward medal play and the seventy-two-hole route.

The strain for him is much lighter, although it will be hard enough. In leaving the United States his main idea was to win at St. Andrews. With that achieved his next thought was a shot at all the titles left, to win as many as he could, and it is an easy bet that by next week he will be rearing to go again. He will find even harder opposition at Hoylake than he found in Scotland, but it will not be as gruelling a week.

George Voigt's Record

No golfer ever made a finer first-invasion record than George Voigt did on this trip. Most of the stars have failed or flopped badly on their first tours of Scotland and England. This applies to Evans, Travers, Ouimet and Jones, to mention only a few.

Voigt figured in two victories in the Walker Cup matches at Sandwich, playing brilliantly on both occasions. At St. Andrews he went to the semifinal round. He won eight out of nine matches abroad and it took Bobby Jones to beat him by one hole where at one time he had the champion almost bottled up. Even at the finish he still had a five-foot putt to carry the match along.

Voigt is one of the star amateurs of the game, probably the second best. At Pebble Beach last September he carried Jimmy Johnston to the thirty-ninth green and Johnston had a terrific struggle to keep even for thirty-six holes. George isn't a mighty hitter but there are few who can keep as straight along the right line and there are few who can handle a putter any more effectively, day in and day out.

In addition to this Voigt is a cool, level-headed, hard-fighting match player whose only handicap is lack of physical power since he barely weighs 140 pounds and can have little in reserve. His hands and wrists are small but the ease and smoothness of his swing make up for any lack on the physical side.

SPRINGFIELD PLAYS NIGHT BASEBALL

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—The second city in the Three I League to plunge into night baseball will be Springfield. The first game will be played Wednesday night, with Bloomington opposing the Senators. Quincy is considering playing under the lights, and other club owners may swing into line if the added attendance proves permanent.

"Darby" Day on Tomorrow

LONDON, June 2. (Exclusive)—Great Britain's Derby racing classic, now known in the United States as "Darby" through the personal instructions in pronunciation by Lord Derby himself, will be run at Epsom Downs on Wednesday with a field of nineteen starters. Two American-owned horses survive with a field out of more than 300 nominations which were made when the colts were foaled three years ago. The horse The Scout II, a brother of Gallant Fox, winner of the Kentucky Derby, is the better of the two American nominations, but he is an outsider in the betting. Diolite is the favorite. The owners of the Scout II are Marshall Field, William Woodward, Arthur Hancock and Robert Fairburn, who paid $12,000 for him. Parthenon, the other American horse, was entered by A. K. Macomber, whose stable is in France.

DEADLINE SET FOR MARATHON

Monday is Last Date for Entries; Official Blanks Must be Sent In

Entry for the second annual "Times" pre-Olympic marathon closes next Monday at midnight. Charley Keppen, director of the long-distance classic announced yesterday that no entries received after that time would be accepted.

Entries to date exceed those on hand at the same time last year, and it seems certain that a larger field will go to the post. Harry Chaca's victory over Clarence DeMar, the favored easterner, in the classic last year, has served to inspire a number of local runners who last year did not run because of the presence of the veteran Olympic star.

A number of entrants who have been tentatively accepted have not yet sent in their official blanks, Keppen said yesterday, and unless they are returned by Monday night, the names of the runners will be stricken from the list. The executive committee has accepted the entry of several men on the receipt of their application blank, and most of them have subsequently sent in their official entry blanks, properly filled out. A number have not done so, however, and they will not be permitted to run, unless the blank is in the hands of the executive committee by deadline time.

BENNY MILLER GETS ACID TEST

Local Welter Flash to Box Tough One in Duffy

Benny Miller, Los Angeles' latest contribution to welterweight fame, gets the stiffest test of his career Friday night at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium when he tackles Oakland Jimmy Duffy in a scheduled ten-round main event. Miller has bowled over every one of his opponents with two exceptions this year. Benny, a product of the school that sent Fidel La Barba, Jackie Fields and Mushy Callahan to fame and fortune, is looked upon by the local fistic experts as one of the greatest ring prospects in years. In Duffy he is fighting a veteran who has met the best in the game. If Miller should kayo Duffy he is in for national recognition, his admirers claim.

BENNY MILLER

Miller has displayed real class in his latest bouts. The youngster springs like a tiger on his opponents when he gets them going. His left hand strikes like an adder and his right is deadly when it lands on the vulnerable spot. Duffy, however, has handled hundreds of fighters in his career and may prove too tough for the youngster to get over. Tom Gallery, Legion manager and matchmaker, expects a fine house for the fight.

Sid Torres and Claude Varner battle in the semi-wind-up. Torres, a Filipino, has rolled up an impressive string of victories locally. Varner is a hitter and may upset the islander.

In the special event over the six-round route Oral Ubank and Harry Decker clash. Decker is a Philadelphian who claims to be a main-eventer back in the Sleepy City. Ubank is just the lad to try him out here, Gallery believes.

Two four-rounders round out the card.

commissioner to the faculty body last fall. The faculty representatives looked into the matter during the last six months and their decision is final.

A committee of faculty officials and graduate managers will be appointed, however, to investigate ways and means of selecting officials to referee and umpire athletic games.

A new rule prohibiting athletic coaches from talking before "high-school assemblies or alumni or other meetings where high school or other prospective college students, have been invited," was adopted by the faculty.

In the past coaches have been permitted to talk before high-school students if they did not speak on athletics.

In spite of Montana's effort to regain a place on the northern division Pacific Coast Conference basketball schedule indications are that the 1931 program will be drawn up without including the Grizzly school. Montana was dropped from the schedule last year and the coaches and graduate managers seem to be in favor of adopting the same program for next season. The other schools in the Northwest do not wish to make the long trip to Missoula.

Earl Campbell, University of Washington graduate manager, is attempting to arrange a later date with the University of California for the annual Husky-Bear crew race, and is also endeavoring to arrange an indoor track meet between Southern California and Washington at Seattle next season. In the past California and Washington crews have raced early in April.

The faculty representatives, graduate managers and coaches of the ten conference schools are to meet here again tomorrow and Wednesday to draw up sport schedules.

ROMAN GOLFERS IN DUAL MEET VICTORY

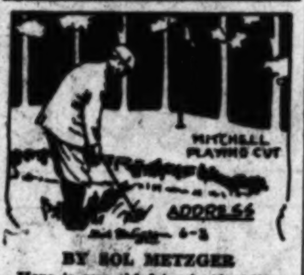
Coach Ralph Noble's Los Angeles High golf team advanced in the semifinals of the Southern California play-off yesterday afternoon by defeating the Woodrow Wilson squad, 4 to 1, in the first eighteen holes of their thirty-six-hole contest. The match was played over the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club.

The Roman golfers will meet Woodrow Wilson in the second eighteen hole match next Saturday on the Long Beach municipal layout, the Wilson home course.

Complete results of yesterday's contest are:

Sangster (L.A.) lost to Stevens (W.) 1 down; Brown (L.A.) defeated Brand (W.) 3 and 1; Jacobson (L.A.) defeated Dean (W.) 2 up; Pallan (L.A.) defeated Bridan (W.) 1 up; Fahy (L.A.) defeated Mount (W.) 1 up.

Mitchell's Address in Playing Cut



BY SOL METZGER

Here is our old friend, Abe Mitchell, addressing his ball in long grass for a cut shot to the near-by green. His grip is well choked. That is, his hands are well down the leather. Note that his mashie niblick is laid back almost flat with its heel the nearest point to the ball.

Note the relaxation in his wide-open stance, the slightly bent knees. The grip, too, is not extra firm, as one might think when deep grass is to be mowed down in reaching the ball.

Elbows in close to body, eyes almost over ball. And eyes on it throughout.

Correct application of the grip is a big factor in sound play. If you are having trouble with your grip for driving, write. Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and ask for his free illustrated leaflet on "Correct Grip for Driving." Be sure to inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

LEWIS FACES MARSHALL

"Strangler" Signs to Meet Airplane Artist on Lou Daro All-Star Mat Card at Olympic

Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former world's wrestling champion, was signed by Promoter Lou Daro yesterday to meet Everett Marshall in the finish feature event of the all-star mat card planned for the Olympic, June 11.

The signing of the former champion followed several days of negotiations during which the promoter was forced to make substantial guarantees to both grapplers in order to bring them together, it was reported.

STRANGLER LEWIS

The match is considered one of the biggest to be had at the present time. Lewis, who had not been defeated excepting in a title match in ten years, was stopped by Marshall in a finish bout here a few months ago. Although Marshall won, Lewis questioned the victory because the airplane spin opponent resorted to the use of the rabbit punch, a hold that was barred by a ruling of the State Athletic Commission, to win.

Now Lewis is coming back in an attempt to even his score against the youngster. Despite his desire to get even, he held out for a champion's percentage for the match, while Marshall was equally heavy in his demands because he already has a win to his credit over the former champion.

Whether or not Marshall will get a return match with Champion Gus Sonnenberg here will depend on his showing against Lewis in this match, Daro stated. Should Marshall win this bout, so that Lewis will not be able to claim he was "robbed" by some technicality, as was the case in their first meeting, Daro declared.

Two other big matches will be signed to wrestle Sonnenberg here, the airplane spin exponent will be signed for this card, Daro declared. Don George, former University of Michigan mat star, the latest mat sensation who defeated Nick Lutze in a spectacular battle here last week, is expected to be signed to meet another topnotcher in one of the other matches. Lee Wykoff of Missouri, who beat Buck Olsen in his first appearance here and who has the appearance of developing into another great grappler, is also expected to appear on this card.

Banner Year on Horizon in Coast League

A tabulation of the official paid admissions to the Pacific Coast League made at the office of President Harry A. Williams shows that during the first seven weeks, or first fourth of the season, 511,263 passed through the turnstiles. If this degree of interest is maintained it means better than a 2,000,000 year for the league. Oakland, Sacramento, Portland and Seattle all show pronounced gains over last season.

JIMMY FINN CAPTURES "TIMES" GOLF TROPHY

Jimmy Finn, shooting a 77 over the interesting Brentwood Country Club course won first place in the Los Angeles Times Golf Association's June tournament and took home a beautiful loving cup as first prize. Tricky greens ruined many a good score for the day. The low sixteen players qualified for the association's annual midsummer match play affair. Brentwood proved to be an exceptionally interesting course with its well-placed traps which most of the boys explored. The lucky few that were able to play the fairways said that they were in fine condition.

up, is something of a question mark. Like Fay, Dave has tended strictly to business this winter and spring, but seems to be hitting the ball as far and accurately as ever.

The Los Angeles Country Club has a strong trio of youngsters in Charles Seaver, Harry M. Eichelberger, Jr., former Southern California junior champion, and Phil Ayres, a freshman at U.C.L.A. Eichelberger waded through a fine field to win the Los Angeles Country Club championship on Sunday, and appears to be about to repeat in the president's cup tournament. Ayres recently scored a smashing victory over Jack Mackey, former Los Angeles club champion.

Phil Carter of Rancho and Scotty Armstrong of Midwick seem to be the dark horses of the tournament. Both are veterans of many years' experience, and both at present are playing brilliant golf. Carter is a great match player, and it looks very much as if the youngsters will have to watch their laurels against the former metropolitan star.

All of the regulars will be on hand again, including W. W. Campbell, Everett H. Seaver, Bud Thompson, Winston Fuller, Allan Moser, Lester Coleman, Guy Hanson, Dr. C. K. Manhart, Paul R. Jones, Bud Yoakum and others too numerous to mention.

COURSE TOUGHENED

Midwick will present a stiff front this morning with fairways narrowed down to mere slits between banks of heavy rough. As has been proven on several occasions during the past week of practice, it is entirely possible to take a 7 or 8 on an easy par-4 hole, and one or two such holes may keep a number of the favorites from even qualifying.

After today's eighteen holes of qualifying play, the field will be cut to low sixty-four and ties. The favored few will then continue on through the thirty-six holes to decide which thirty-two will battle for the championship.

Post entries will be accepted at the first tee.

Following are the pairings:

9:00 a.m.—D. L. Darsie and Cecil Nos.

Bear Rowers Hard at Work

BERKELEY, June 2. (Exclusive) Bent upon doing something in a big way in the national intercollegiate championship rowing regatta at Poughkeepsie this month, Coach Ky Ebright has ordered the continuance of the two daily workouts for his California varsity right up to the minute of departure.

Ebright plans to take his first varsity and freshman boats east on Wednesday night. They will have workouts tomorrow and Wednesday, both morning and afternoon. Last week when the intersession students were observing holidays on Decoration Day and the Saturday following, Ebright's husky sweepsters were sweating on the Oakland estuary course.

The rowing entourage will leave Wednesday night for a triangular competition with Princeton and the Navy on the 14th inst. The Poughkeepsie battle is scheduled for the 28th inst. The entire party will include twenty oarsmen, Coaches Ebright and Russ Nagler, a launch driver, two coxswains, a trainer and a student manager.

Phillies Trip Cards, 9 to 6

PHILADELPHIA, June 2. (AP)—Rallying in the closing innings, the Phillies defeated the Cardinals, 9 to 6, today in the only game played in either of the major leagues.

The Cardinals were away to a four-run lead in the first inning, but the Phillies kept after Hallahan, driving him from the mound in the seventh, following the scoring of two runs in the fourth, a like number in the fifth and three in the seventh to grab the lead. Bell pitched the eighth and was nicked for another two runs.

It was the Cardinals' seventh straight defeat. Hafey drove out a home run for the Cards in the first inning, scoring three runs. The score:

Legion Plans Night Races

With the return of several big-time drivers from the East expected in the next few weeks, officials at the American Legion Speedway are laying plans for a big season of night races in the near future, is the statement of Dr. Fred Loring of the Valley Boulevard plant.

Night racing was very popular with the fans last year and should prove even more so, since several local drivers made such an excellent showing in the big Indianapolis race.

Among the better-known drivers who went east to take part in the yearly event were Shorty Cantlon, Ernie Triplett, Mel Kenealy and Babe Stapp. These four drove in practically all of the Legion races until their departure and were held in high esteem by the local fans.

Cantlon distinguished himself by placing second to Billy Arnold, who led the field at Indianapolis. Triplett and Kenealy were right up with the leaders when their cars went bad, forcing them from the grind. Stapp was near the front when several cars piled up in front of him. Stapp emerged from the mishap without serious injury, but his car was badly damaged.

Big Six

By the Associated Press

The bats of the Big Six of the major leagues were silent yesterday as an off day on the schedule left only one game in the circuits.

Frank O'Doul was the only one of the sextet to see a ball game and he sat on the bench, nursing minor injuries, as the Phillies defeated the Cardinals, 9 to 6.

RABBIT PUNCHES

PERSONAL SATISFACTION

NATURALLY, Frank Wykoff achieved some little satisfaction in beating Eddie Tolan, the Michigan flash, at Cambridge last Saturday. Not only for alma mater's sake but from the standpoint of personal gratification.

If a guy had beaten you four straight times, and you licked him the fifth time, you'd feel good about it, too, wouldn't you?

Well, that's the Wykoff situation.

In 1928 —before Wykoff became a Trojan—and when he was racing in form that brought him victory in the 100 meters at the final Olympic tryouts, he did not meet Tolan.

But last year, when Frank was having only a fair season after a serious operation he met Tolan four times, and followed him to the tape on every occasion.

Tolan won the 100 in the national A.A.U. championships at Denver last summer, and Wykoff was fourth behind Sweet and Bracey. Tolan won the 220 the same day, and Wykoff was second in this race.

Later in the summer, Wykoff was third to Percy Williams and Tolan in a special meet at Vancouver. This was in the 100, and in the 220 Wykoff followed Tolan to the tape again.

Tolan holds the world's record of 9 5-10s. for the 100 recently accepted by the International Federation, while Wykoff only a few weeks ago registered the record of 9 4-10s., which eventually will replace Tolan's mark. That's another reason for Wykoff feeling elated over his recent victory.

ANOTHER TROJAN RECORD

CHALK up another record for Southern California—one that was generally overlooked in the Trojans' third winning of an I.C.4-A. championship the other day.

They won the championship by scoring more points on the track than in the field—34 to 30¼.

This is something decidedly novel for western teams competing in I.C.4-A. classics, and comes under the head of an absolutely brand new stunt.

It probably will result in the swallowing of the eastern idea to lessen the importance of the field events because of western strengh in this department.

In the three years running it captured the I.C.4-A crown Stanford relied almost altogether on prodigious strength in the field.

In 1927 Stanford won with 36½ points and 7 were scored on the track.

In 1928 Stanford repeated with 43 points, scoring 9 on the track.

And last year, when Stanford amassed its largest winning total 45¾ points—14 were tallied on the track.

This year, Southern California with a wonderfully rounded team, scored in every track event except mile, two mile and 220. The Trojan placed men in the 100, 440, 880, high hurdles and low hurdles.

THE HURDLING KIDS

GIVEN high and low hurdlers of class and it seems that Dean Cromwell is able to fashion an I.C.4-A. winner to the queen's taste.

Back in 1925 and 1926, when the Trojans won their other I.C.4-A. titles, championship teams were formed about Dye in the high hurdles and Grumbles in the low sticks.

Both Dye and Grumbles won their events two years in a row, and Stever took third to Dyer in 1925 and Reynolds fourth the next year.

That meant 13 points in '25 and 13 the next year.

This year Welsh in the highs and Carls and Payne in the lows contrived to furnish 13 points with a first place and a first and second, respectively.

This might be a point, therefore, for Dean Cromwell to make a note on—get the hurdlers working, and the rest of the team will take care of itself.

BOXERS NOT WORRIED

Schmeling and Sharkey Both Seem to Take Coming Heavyweight Battle as Matter of Fact

BY BENNY LEONARD
Retired Undefeated Lightweight Champion of the World

ENDICOTT (N. Y.) June 2. (NANA)—Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey are on a par in one thing—both of them are without a single worry at this stage of their training for their big fight.

BENNY LEONARD

I spent several days with Sharkey last week, and while he shows more of the tension that sometimes attacks big fighters in the stretch of their training grind, still it was merely the result of his strenuous work and not because of any outside agency that he was a bit temperamental.

Sharkey, however, is naturally the more temperamental of the two. Schmeling seems to be without a nerve. At least, he hasn't a jumpy nerve in his system. If he has, then nobody has been able to locate it or touch it up to date.

SHARKEY LOOKS GOOD

I have told you Sharkey looks good, he looks very good. And Schmeling, too, looks fine. One might say, almost too fine physically, but I still insist he needs plenty of work. Again today Max is resting, if playing a lot of golf in a broiling sun can be called resting.

Max is learning rapidly how to fight. He is a greatly improved battler. In his most recent workouts he has been showing more and more stuff. I remarked this to him, and he seemed pleased. Yet he tells me he has shown nothing. The German likes to be told he looks good. He's a good deal like a kid in this respect.

Schmeling of late has mastered the art of punching out of the weave. That is, he slings his left while he is weaving, suddenly, but not like Dempsey. Still, he gets the blow started at the right time, and his timing with it is good, on the sparring partners he has been using.

Max believes that using so many different sparring partners has shaped him. Maybe it has, but I would rather have a couple of real good men working with me, and sticking right along. It's all right fighting a lot of muggs, but you learn nothing doing this. It's much like punching the dummy.

You must have some one who can get away from your punches, not just come in everlastingly for more, or keep receding all the time. Sharkey won't recede. At least he won't recede unless he gets hurt. And what about Schmeling? Will he be as aggressive all the time, even when he gets smacked? He thinks he will. He always has here in his training. In fact, when he has gotten stabbed in the nose with a stiff left or when he has been caught with a hard right, Max has come in and let that fast, flicking right of his plump against the opponent's face. And he's put plenty of force in it.

But we must remember the punches in the nose, and these clouts with the right on the jaw, were done with big gloves. They have served more like the waving of a red flag at a bull, or the goading of a horse that has been jogging along too slowly.

Jack Sharkey can hit—I mean hard. Jack has developed a whole lot of beef in the shoulders and in the back. He looks, as I recall after seeing him, and then looking at Schmeling, much bigger than the German.

WAS DECEPTIVE

But there's something deceptive in the physique of this man at Endicott. Standing in the ring, or even while boxing, he looks small to me. But sitting at the table with him, he looks pretty big. His shoulders and his neck, and even his arms, are wonderfully developed. He tapers more at the waist than does Sharkey, and he is in much leaner condition all around. Sharkey is fat, compared to Schmeling, but that doesn't mean Jack isn't in pretty fine shape, too.

It is in the legs that Schmeling is small. He tapers from the waist down, and looks almost like a light heavyweight below the waist. If he were on the stage and you raised the curtain only part of the way up, then stopped it at Schmeling's belt, you'd think you were looking at a well-developed light heavyweight. Personally, I don't think Schmeling is much heavier than a light-heavyweight. I doubt if he weighs an ounce more than 183 pounds, although his weight here unofficially is given as 189 or thereabouts. It has been given as that all along, and Schmeling looked just as small the first day he began training here as he does today.

Schmeling shows a much better left now than he did when he first began boxing at this camp. He does not seem to get his right over as fast nor with as much force when he makes it the second half of a one-two punch as he does when he leads with it—that is, when he shoots it over without any preliminary punching. He sure does whip it over fast then. But that's against all orthodox boxing, this leading with the right.

However, this may turn out to be an unorthodox fight. Certainly, Schmeling's hope lies in aggressiveness, and his aggressiveness is not the orthodox kind.

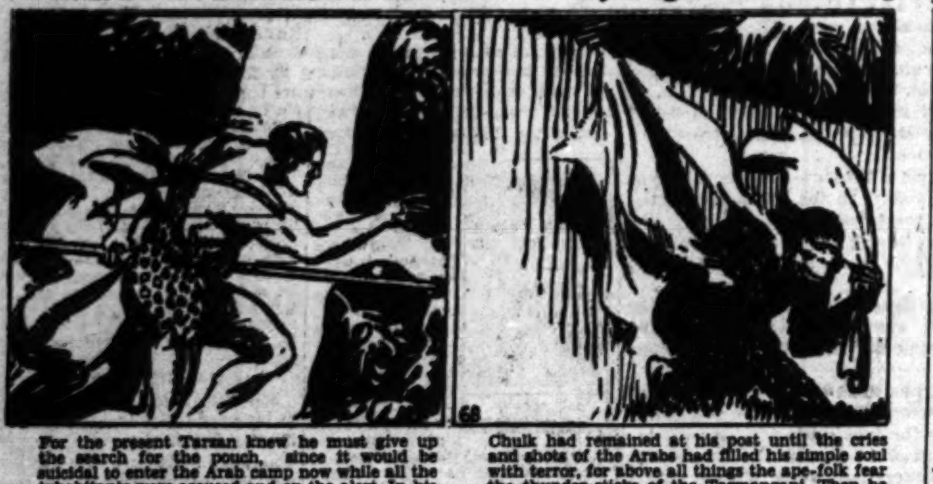
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



For the present Tarzan knew he must give up the search for the pouch, since it would be suicidal to enter the Arab camp now while all the inhabitants were aroused and on the alert. In his escape from from the village, the ape-man had lost the scent spoor of the fleeing Taglat, and now he circled wildly through the forest in an effort to pick it up again. Finally he caught it and sped swiftly over the trail of Taglat and the "she," who had halted in a little moonlit glade.

Chulk had remained at his post until the cries and shots of the Arabs had filled his simple soul with terror, for above all things the ape-folk fear the thunder-sticks of the Tarmangani. Then he had clambered nimbly over the palisade, tearing off his burnoose in the effort, and fled into the depths of the jungle, grumbling and scolding as he went . . . . Meanwhile, Jane Clayton had been carried by the great ape, Taglat, far into the forest. She was unconscious from fright.

REX MAXON

The beast was tearing at the bonds that confined her arms, pulling and gnawing upon the cords. The course that Tarzan was taking would carry him but a short distance to the right of them, and, though he could not have seen them, the wind was bearing down from them to him, carrying the spoor of the ape strongly toward him. A moment more and Jane Clayton's safety might have been assured, even though Numa the lion was already gathering himself for a charge.

But Fate, already too cruel, now outdid herself. The wind veered suddenly for a few moments and the spoor that would have led the ape-man to the girl's side was wafted in the opposite direction. Tarzan passed within fifty yards of the tragedy that was being enacted in the glade, and the opportunity was gone beyond recall . . . It was morning before Tarzan could bring himself to a realization of the possibility of failure in his quest.

Change Dates for Open Golf at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, June 2. (AP)—Dates for the St. Louis open golf tournament for which a prize of $10,000 has been provided, were changed today for the third time. The committee in charge today set September 18, 20 and 21 for the event.

TROJANS MAY SCORE AGAIN

over the country, except east coast, usually appear in action.

Here is a summary of the two meets, using only those events in which the Coast runners will take part. The first athlete mentioned won the I.C.A.A.A.A. title, and the second won the Big Ten championship:

100-yard dash—Wykoff (S.C.) 9.7s.; Simpson (Ohio State) 9.7s.

220-yard dash—Dyer (Stanford) 21.2s.; Simpson (O.S.) 21s.

440-yard dash — Engle (Yale) 48 1-5s.; Walter (N.W.) 49 2-5s.

880-yard run - Chapman (Bates) 1m. 52 2-5s.; Letts (Chicago) 1m. 56s.

One-mile run—Bullwinkle (C.C.N.Y.) 4m. 18 4-5s; Martin (Purdue) 4m. 22 1-5s.

High hurdles—Record (Harvard) 14 4-5s.; Sentman (Illinois) 14.9s.

Low hurdles—Carls (S.C.) 23.7s.; Sentman (Illinois) 23.3s.

Shot put — Rothert (Stanford) 52ft. 1-2in.; Behr (Wisconsin) 49ft. 1 1-2in.

Discus throw — Krenz (Stanford) 160ft. 9 3-4in.; Brooks (Michigan) 142ft. 6in.

Javelin — Churchill (California) 212ft. 5in.; Weldon (Iowa) 184ft. 5in.

High jump — O'Connor (Columbia) 6ft. 3in.; Felbinger (O.S.) 6ft. 3in.

Broad jump — West (Stanford) 24ft. 7 3-8in.; Gordon (Iowa) 24ft. 8in.

Pole vault — Sutermeister (Harvard) 13ft. 6in.; McDermott (Illinois) 13ft. 10 3-8in.

The other two events on the program are the two mile and the hammer, which do not concern the Pacific Coast teams. Of the comparative marks, two were tied, the I.C.A.A.A.A. excelled in seven, and the Big Ten in four.

MANY ENTRANTS

Except for the two Pacific Coast entrants, none of the eastern winners will compete at Chicago. Probably all of the Stanford men will not compete. It is doubtful whether California will be present. However, Washington, with Rufus Kiser in the mile, and Paul Jessup in the weights, is a possibility as the Huskies just won the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference. Numerous athletes, from the Big Six, the Missouri Valley Conference, the Southern and Texas conferences, and scattered institutions will be present, seeking the individual titles, which will complicate matters exceedingly.

Simpson in the sprints, Dick Rockaway of Ohio State, and Steve Anderson of Washington, in the hurdles; Gordon in the broad jump, Rothert in the shot, and Walter of Northwestern will be back to defend their titles.

STARS, ANGELS TANGLE TODAY

Angels hoisted their 1930 pennant.

The angel hitters found their batting eyes against Mission hurlers last week and figure to give the Hollywood moundmen plenty of trouble this week. Johnny Moore, Wes Schulmerich, Frank Sigafoos, Jigger Statz and Fred Haney, all are hitting the ball hard and often. Ray Jacobs is still in a slump and should be either given a rest or moved down in the line-up, while Carl Dittmar appears to be over his sensational slugging streak and probably also could stand being moved down to his former batting position.

Lelivelt's pitchers, however, are staggering around like nobody's business and unless they snap out of it the Angels will find themselves out of the race. Big Ed Baecht will probably be on the mound for the Angels in today's opener with Jim Turner, the Hollywood youngster, who has won four games and lost one, opposing him.

Although Dud Lee is back in the line-up, the Stars will be minus the services of Mickey Heath this week. Heath came up with a charley horse at San Francisco, and Harry Green will be holding down first base for the Vitimen. With Green out of the outfield, young Duke Marlow will be seen in left field. Marlow got a chance to play against the Seals last week and impressed with the way he smacked the offerings of Jimmy Zinn and John Miljus, two of the Seals' mound aces. Marlow is just a green pea, but he looks like a natural hitter.

Jesse Hill, the former Trojan all-around athlete, joins the Hollywooders today, and may get a chance to see some action against the Seraphs. Gordon Rhodes, who has been turned over to Hollywood by the Yankees, will not arrive in time to join the Stars before the Angel series ends.

HOLLYWOOD POLOISTS TO PLAY BEACH FOUR

Led by the flashy Buddy Du Brock, the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club polo team will play the powerful Santa Monica Rangers Sunday. The field is being reconditioned and, according to "Pop" Murray, should be in its best shape in a few weeks. The Hollywood outfit lost a close 5-to-4 decision to the Saddle and Sirlion Club last Sunday and will be out to avenge itself when it tangles with the Santa Monica Club.

Montoya in "Spot" Here on Saturday

San Diego boxing fans to the number of more than 100 will be at the White Sox ball park Saturday night when Carlo Curtis stages his second open-air boxing show of the season. Raymond Montoya, who boxes Andy Martin in one of the two ten-round bouts featuring the card, is the magnet who will draw the fans from the border city. Montoya is one of the biggest drawing cards ever developed at Tommy Landis's San Diego Coliseum. Since he drew with Kid Francis a year ago he has been packing them in at the San Diego club.

Honeyboy Finnegan, stablemate of Martin, who boxes Joe Borola in the second feature ten Saturday night, is scheduled to work out at the Main-street gymnasium this afternoon. Finnegan has been at Murrietta working with Tom Kirby, the Boston heavyweight who boxes Frankie Campbell at the Olympic Auditorium tonight.

By matching Joe Bitto and William Kassabain for the six-round semi-wind-up Curtis has assured the fans a lot of action. Neither makes any claim to boxing skill, but they are rough and tough and Kassabain is a real knockout puncher.

Sandy Casanova, the promising young 165-pounder, who meets Ted Thompson in a second six-rounder, figures to get away with another knockout. If he turns the trick it will be eight knockouts in fourteen starts.

in some details with the regulations, were denied admission. Portugal and Tunis were suspended.

John T. Taylor of Pittsburgh, representing the United States, was returned to membership on the executive committee that carries on the work of the federation between congresses.

The other members of the committee, in addition to the officers who serve ex-officio, are J. Hodgson, New Zealand; H. Ahlstrom, Sweden, and A. Frick, Belgium.

The officers, all of whom were reelected, are E. G. Drigny, France, president; W. Binner, Germany, and H. E. Fern, England, vice-presidents, and Leo Donath, Hungary, honorary secretary and treasurer.

The men's records accepted were:

150-yard free style—Walter Laufer, Chicago, 1m. 30s., March 2, 1929, in Chicago.

150-yard backstroke, George Kojac, New York, 1m. 36 2-5s., March 30, 1929, New Brunswick, N. J.

200-meter breast stroke, Y. Tsuruta, Japan, 2m. 45s., July 21, 1929, Kyoto, Japan.

The women's records accepted:

100-meter free style—Albina Osipowich, Worcester, Mass., 1m. 9 2-5s., August 25, 1929, San Francisco.

440-yard free style—Josephine McKim, Los Angeles A. C., 5m. 47 2-5s., August 8, 1929, Honolulu.

500-meter free style—Miss Marie Braun, Holland, 7m. 18s., March 23, 1930, Bruges, Belgium.

100-meter backstroke — Miss Marie Braun, Holland, 1m. 21s., November 27, 1929, The Hague.

150-yard backstroke—Miss M. J. Cooper, Britain, 1m. 56 1-5s., April 29, 1930, London.

880-yard free style—Josephine McKim, Los Angeles A. C., 12m. 3 4-5s., August 10, 1929, Honolulu.

200-yard breast stroke—Hilde Schrader, Germany, 2m. 57 4-5s., December 17, 1929, Magdeburg, Germany.

Brilliant play on the first nine holes spelled the story of the Iowan's success, her 37 on the outward jaunt, 2 over par, was sufficient to offset a 46 on the return trip.

Only one stroke behind Mrs. Pardue was one of Oklahoma's threats, Mrs. Hulbert Clarke of Oklahoma City, who was out in 43 and back in 41 for an 84. Mrs. Tom Wallace of Sapulpa, Okla., State champion, and Mrs. Leon Solomon of Memphis, Tenn., had 86's to tie for third honors.

Mrs. Pardue failed to par only one hole on the first nine. On the 410-yard No. 7, she took a 6 to put her score two strokes over perfect figures. The inward trip proved beset with difficulties. On No. 13, a par 4 hole, she required seven strokes and on No. 16, a par 5 hole, she had another 7.

Miss Ann Kennedy of Tulsa, runner-up in the recent southern tournament at Greensboro, N. C., Miss Virginia Pepl of St. Louis and Mrs. R. E. Drennan of Tulsa, four times Oklahoma champion, each scored 89. One stroke behind them came 16-year-old Mary Elizabeth Ford of Kansas City, and Mrs. George E. Hipple of Hutchinson, Kan., State champion.

All favorites for the tournament championship negotiated the qualifying test fairly easy, although a stiff south breeze played havoc with many a shot.

IZZY GROVE BEATEN BY LEO WILLIAMS

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP) — Leo Williams, New York Negro, decisively defeated Izzy Grove, also of New York, in a ten-round bout at Dexter Park, Brooklyn, tonight. Williams floored Grove for two counts of nine in the sixth round and led all the way. He weighed 174; Grove, 162.

Hubert Gillis of Belgium, 138 1-2, defeated Mike Sarko, New York, 138, in an eight-rounder.

SWIM STARS ON ELSINORE CARD

Aloha Beach Club Aquatic Carnival Scheduled

Twenty-five Mermaids and Mermen to Compete

Five National Champions Likely to Appear

The horn of plenty will have a chance to pour freely, as far as records are concerned, in the first A.A.U. sanctioned swimming and diving meet to be held Sunday at the Aloha Beach Club, Lake Elsinore.

EDNA HAYSON

Twenty-five of the best swimmers and divers in the Southland, with half a dozen national champs competing, are already entered in the line-up.

From present interest of the entries, it looks now as if the big single event of the day will be the men's 200-yard free-style swim. Buster Grabbe, L.A.A.C. entry, and national middle-distance champion in three events, will be pressed plenty to come out in front of Weston Kimball, Hollywood Athletic Club star, Norman Kittering or Earl Clescia of the Pacific Coast Club or Tom Endicott, lone ace of the Deauville Club, and all top-notch boys. Entries in the women's 100-yard free style are numerous. Lake Norconian Club, coached by "Doc" Beasley, will put "Babe" Walten, Louise Waugh and Phyllis Bell into the wier to vie with Olive Hatch and Jeanie Cramer, L.A.A.C. stars.

Little Dorothy Moriarity, 13-year-old flash, will have some trouble keeping out in front in the 50-yard free style for girls 14 or under, with Edna Hayson, Lake Norconian Club, a dangerous rival.

Five national champions in the diving line-up will include the two L.A.A.C. Rileys — "Mickey," senior national ten-foot champion, and Johnny, who duplicates Mickey's title in the high dives, with "Dutch" Smith, L.A.A.C., holder of the three-foot crown. Also entered thus far are the two Pacific Coast Club stars, McAlliste and MacDonald, and Parid Samaika, Hollywood Athletic Club.

DEMPSEY BACK IN TOWN AGAIN

on that he referred the questioners to Col. Hersey, head of that bureau.

HOME TO REST

Jack asserted he was home to rest. He recently had an operation in the Mayo Brothers' Hospital at Rochester, Minn., from which he is still recuperating.

When asked as to whom he thought was the likely winner of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight, Dempsey said, "I believe Sharkey enjoys a slight edge, although I do not like to go on record at this time as to the final outcome."

Frankie Campbell, latest local heavyweight flash, was on the scene to greet the Great Dempsey. They shook hands and Dempsey told Campbell he would be out to look him over tonight at the Olympic.

Dempsey says he has made $100,000 in the last year promoting fights an din vaudeville.

Dempsey said he would not be able to attend the big fight in New York. He did not feel well enough to take in the battle at this time. He declared he would be here indefinitely.

NO "CORPORATION"

The ex-champion wore a green belted gaberdine suit and a light soft hat. The suit showed that Dempsey did not as yet have a "corporation."

Dempsey declared that he intended to do a little training here, when he felt well enough. He was not particularly pointing for any fight, but just to get in shape, he stated.

He left with Estelle Taylor, his wife, in their car. There was no call for extra traffic cops as the party left the station.

HALIBUT, BARRACUDA RUN AT SANTA MONICA

The run of halibut, barracuda, bass, skipjack and some yellowtail continues off Santa Monica, it was announced last night by Capt. Jack Dugan of the Morris boats. Exceptionally large catches were brought in last Sunday by anglers fishing from the charter boats Lark and Oceanic.

Commencing last Sunday, the ship W. K., heretofore a charter boat, was put on a two-trip-a-day run for the Morris company. The W. K. will continue on this run until further notice. The ship is one of the finest in the Santa Monica Bay fishing-boat circles.

SHAMROCK DEFEATS FIVE LARGE YACHTS

COWES (Isle of Wight) June 2. (AP)—The Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the America's cup, proved herself very fast in a light breeze by beating five big yachts in today's race.

There was so little wind the course was halved and even then the yachts took some six hours to sail and drift over the necessary twenty miles. The Shamrock led for most of the day and beat the White Heather home by half a length. Candida was third.

GORILLA JONES WINNER

WEST SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) June 2. (AP)—Gorilla Jones, Akron welterweight, took all of the ten rounds in his fight with Henry Goldberg of New York City here tonight.

BEARS TO CONSTRUCT NEW OVAL

Additional Area is Sought for California for Sports Events at Berkeley

BERKELEY, June 2. (Exclusive) Announcement was made today that the University of California is preparing to proceed with plans for incorporating in the campus an additional area of several city blocks and it is hoped to advertise for bids on the necessary grading and street work during this month or July.

When the program is completed the university will have an additional, approximately level area of twelve to fifteen acres available for military drill, classes in gymnasium, intermural sports, soccer, track and football. The need for the additional area arose as a result of the recent building of several much-needed academic structures upon the few level sites remaining on the campus. The major portion of the expense of purchasing the land and homes standing upon it will be paid by the Associated Students from football gate receipts.

To provide facilities for students and others at track meets it is planned to erect bleachers on either side of the track oval and to so design them they ultimately may be increased to a seating capacity of 30,000. It is hoped the track and an adequate portion of the bleachers will be completed in time for the next Stanford-California track meet in the spring of 1931.

High Scoring Record Set in Baseball

FORT WAYNE (Ind.) June 2. (AP) What is believed to be a record for high scoring in modern league baseball was established here today, when Springfield, O., defeated Fort Wayne in a Central League game, 38 to 18.

The total of thirty-eight runs exceeds by ten the previous record of twenty-eight made by the St. Louis Nationals against Philadelphia last year and the two-team total of fifty-six compares with forty-nine hung up in 1922 when the Chicago Nationals defeated Philadelphia, 26 to 23.

Springfield batters made eleven of the fourteen home runs scored in the game. Their thirty-three hits also included five doubles.

ANGLER COOK CATCHES AT AZUSA TROUT CLUB

The grill sites at the Azusa branch of the Rainbow Angling Club were completed late last week and many members enjoyed for the first time at the branch cooking their catches over the coals of a wood fire. A replica of the big early California type clubhouse forms the architecture of the small grill houses. Within are tables and chairs, the grill, running water and an ice box. Quite a number of the sites are finished. They are located in a shady eucalyptus grove overlooking the beautiful casting lake and falls. Leigh Garnsey, manager of Rainbow, announces that members are urged to wire, write or phone should they desire to reserve a site.

CLEVELANDER TO GIVE HUSKY TRIAL

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) June 2. (AP)—Harry White of Everett, shortstop of the University of Washington baseball team, was signed today by Tealey Raymond, Bellingham baseball magnate, for a tryout with the Cleveland Indians. Raymond said White, who is in his junior year at the university, plans to leave school to report to the Indians.

White formerly played in the British Columbia Amateur League, and in other fast amateur organizations in the Pacific Northwest.

His services were much sought, Raymond said, by a number of major league clubs.

HALIBUT RUNNING OFF HERMOSA BEACH BARGE

An exceptionally large run of halibut was reported yesterday on the Olympic fishing barge at Hermosa Beach by Capt. J. M. Andersen, skipper of the huge vessel. The big flat-bodied fish were very much in evidence with a record haul being brought in.

Quite a good-sized number of barracuda were also caught, the anglers having a great time fighting with the "snakes."

Pier angling is better than ever, with perch and mackerel biting hard, with some halibut and bonita also being reported.

NO AMERICANS IN BELGIAN NET EVENT

BRUSSELS (Belgium) June 2. (AP) The Belgian tennis championships got under way today with no Americans entered. William T. Tilden, who had expected to participate, wired the committee that he would be unable to play. Helen Jacobs also scratched her entry because of the imminence of the Wightman Cup matches.

UTAH POLOISTS WIN OVER AGGIE FOUR

SALT LAKE CITY, June 2. (AP)—The University of Utah polo team defeated the Colorado Aggies, 8 to 7, in seven chukkers in the last of a four-game series between the two teams.

The victory gave the Utes a tie for Rocky Mountain Conference honors. Each team has won two games and lost two.

Stanfordites Finish Spring Grid Work

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, June 2. (AP)—Glenn "Pop" Warner, Stanford football coach, brought the spring training season to a close today by sending his men through a regulation game. Six elevens saw action in the contest that disclosed Warner's new C formation to the public for the first time.

Two men were injured during the contest, Carl Wittenau, end, being carried off the field with a dislocated shoulder, and Perry Taylor, first-string center, suffering another shoulder injury.

Max to Work Under Lights

ENDICOTT (N. Y.) June 2. (Exclusive)—Anxious to acclimate himself to outdoor weather and light conditions such as he expects will prevail on the night of the 12th inst. when he steps into the ring at the Yankee Stadium in New York to battle Jack Sharkey for the world's heavyweight championship, Max Schmeling intends to work under ring lights at least three nights, beginning Wednesday in the outdoor arena here.

Max has it all arranged to work under a powerful battery of arc lights which will produce about the same candle power as those to be installed at the stadium. He also intends to swing into action about the same hour the fight will get under way, which means between 9 or 10 o'clock. To the workouts, according to the present plans, none but men are being admitted.

No official announcement as to the plan has been made. Manager Joe Jacobs returned to New York last night in search of sparring partners to augment the present inadequate force.

But Schmeling confided to one of his closest friends that he will start nocturnal training Wednesday.

Local Police Annex Shoot

SAN LUIS OBISPO, June 2. (AP)—The Los Angeles police pistol team won the State shoot here yesterday. Team No. 1 taking high honors with a score of 1080, and Team No. 2 finishing second with a score of 1075. The Pasadena police team finished third with 1026.

G. M. Upshaw, of Pasadena won the Governor's cup. F. K. Elliot of Los Angeles was second, J. M. Asher of San Diego placed third in this event, with P. D. Johnson fourth.

Harry L. Ragle of Santa Rosa led in the 300-yard sitting and kneeling match, with Sergt. H. L. Henning of the Thirtieth United States Infantry second and P. D. Johnson third.

C. M. Corbin of the Pasadena police won individual honors in the pistol shoot, two Los Angeles officers, James E. Davis and C. E. Ward, placing second and third, respectively.

The shoot, which is being held at the National Guard camp range, will end today with the adjutant-general's match.

The following officers have been elected by the State Rifle Association:

E. H. Henderson, president; L. A. Pope, secretary-treasurer; George D. Difani, vice-president; J. H. Perconi, executive officer; C. O. Leonard, Martin Tost and E. J. O'Brien, assistant executive officers.

GUS SONNENBERG DEFEATS LE DOUX

MANCHESTER (N. H.) June 2. (AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, recognized in some States as heavyweight wrestling champion, tonight took two straight falls from Jean Le Doux. Sonnenberg won the first with a flying tackle in 29 minutes and the second by default, when Le Doux failed to return to the ring because of body injuries.

GOODRICH WHIPPED

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) June 2. (AP)—Peewee Jerrell, Mishawaka, Ind., was given a referee's decision over Jimmie Goodrich, Buffalo, former lightweight champion, in a ten-round bout here tonight.

LOAYZA COPS RING GO

RENSSELAER (N. Y.) June 2. (AP) Stanislaus Loayza, 136 pounds, of Chile won a ten-round decision here tonight over Joey Abrams, 134 pounds, New York. Abrams, who took a lot of punishment, was knocked down in the third round.

GORMAN BEATS PACKO

NEWARK (N. J.) June 2. (AP)—Bud Gorman of Summit, N. J., won the decision over Joe Packo of Toledo, O., in a ten-round bout tonight. Packo was knocked down nine times.

COOK WHIPS McGRAW

NEW ORLEANS, June 2. (AP)—Johnny Cook, 131, New Orleans, won a ten-round decision tonight over Phil McGraw, 135, Detroit.

KAPLAN BEATS MEDILL

HARTFORD (Ct.) June 2. (AP)—Louis "Kid" Kaplan, 135, won the decision over Joey Medill, 137 1-2, Chicago, in a ten-round bout here tonight.

BLUES LAND EDDIE PICK

MILWAUKEE, June 2. (AP)—Officials of the Milwaukee Association baseball team announced tonight the release of Eddie Pick, infielder to the Kansas City Blues, in exchange for George Gerken, a former Milwaukee player.

BERGER SNAGS TERRY'S GOAT

Former Angel Makes Name as Home-Run Hitter

Running Hundred in Under Ten Attracts Eye

Walter is Idol of Boston Fans as Giant Wails

BY WALTER TRUMBULL

BOSTON, June 2. (NANA)—I talked with some of the New York Giants in this city on Saturday night and they were not a very happy group. They are doubtless a bit happier tonight, for pier now, for games yesterday. But when I talked with them their talk was largely pathological. I learned that McGraw was in bed with sinus trouble, which is trouble enough for any manager; Lindstrom was indulging in boils; Roettger was still weak from mumps; Jackson was weaker still, also from mumps; and Terry was complaining of an affliction of too much Walter Berger.

WALTER BERGER

Terry doesn't object to this Berger man getting home runs. Berger got two more Sunday, and has fourteen to his credit. Terry regards home runs as the right of any American citizen dressed up in a big league uniform, if he can hit that hard. But when a brother home-run hitter takes to running the 100 under 10s., for the purpose of pulling down drives by Terry, it looks like something in restraint of trade, and Bill thinks something should be done about it. He is inclined to the opinion that shooting Berger, without waiting for sunrise, might be about right.

POPULAR IN BOSTON

If you don't believe that Mr. Berger is popular in Boston, or that all the Braves are not popular, you can ask the ticket takers. The Giants and Braves played to 28,000 paid admissions on Memorial Day, about 40,000 Saturday and some 43,000 Sunday.

Still, I cannot tell a lie. I think the Giants have a better chance than the Braves for the flag, but just now it doesn't really look as if either of them had a particularly bright chance.

The ball players with whom I have talked in the last week, and they represent four clubs, believe that the National League race rests with Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Chicago and New York. You can't get these ball players to admit that St. Louis will stay up where it is. They just say that it isn't a strong enough team to stay there.

The boys think that Chicago is strong, but that the breaks are running so strongly against the Cubs that they won't repeat.

SWEET INFIELD

The Giants figure, and the other players rather agree, that when Jackson gets back—and the doctor says he can play this week—the New York club, with Terry, Critz and Jackson and Lindstrom, will have the sweetest infield in the game. They also figure that New York has some hot weather pitchers who will step in as the weather gets warmer. The boys think New York may yet be a factor in the race.

Pittsburgh is figured as strong in spite of Lloyd Waner's absence with stomach trouble and Traynor's bad hip. Traynor is also said to have had a bit of trouble with his eyes, but this may be an exaggeration. Anyhow, the Pirates will be strong while they have Paul Waner and a few others.

Wright has made Brooklyn. He is the man who holds all those heavy hitters together. Brooklyn has fine reserve strength, but it needs Wright in there.

In the American League, Philadelphia appears to have regained its old faculty of beating Washington, which may make all the difference of a flag. Shawkey evidently is not going to sit still and see the Yankees fall apart with dry rot. He is putting in new timber on all sides. His latest trade may or may not help the Yanks, but it certainly should help Detroit.

Bucky Harris has a good second baseman and a good walloping third baseman, but he has watched many a game go through that hole at shortstop. Koenig, with that great arm and good bat of his, should help. He is still young, and Hoyt isn't so old.

Waite has been around quite a while, but that is because he started as a kid. He is only 31, and a change may help him. He likes Detroit.

AMERICAN RACE CLOSE

Owen Carroll is a pitcher suited well for New York. Shawkey has always liked Carroll. Rice of Detroit hasn't been the clouter Rice of Washington has been, but he is a .300 hitter.

The National League race still is so close that anything might happen in the next six weeks.

The American League struggle isn't quite so uncertain, but other teams are still close enough to the Athletics and Senators to make things interesting.

The Yankees certainly have shown new life of late though they dropped a game Sunday to the cellar champions. The Babe is doing his stuff. When Ruth gets started, it takes a couple of ball clubs to stop him.

ARNE BORG BARRED FROM AMATEUR RANKS

BERLIN, June 2. (Exclusive)—Because his last big swimming tour of Europe was purely a business venture, the famous swimming champion of the world, Arne Borg, will be classed as a professional in the course of the next few weeks. This will bar him from participation in the Olympic Games at Los Angeles in 1932.

BARGAIN OF THE CENTURY

You heard of the man who bet he could sell $10 gold pieces on Broadway for a dime and couldn't. Well, they were $10 gold pieces nevertheless. Here's the same story. Must sacrifice $35,000 home for $16,000. Listen to this: [illegible] Motor Avenue, Monte Mar Vista, between 3 golf courses. Beautiful, highest view, ocean, mountains, city; highest central location, all improvements in and paid. Residential park, restricted 2-story homes. Brand new Spanish stucco. Lot [illegible], terraced lawn, shrubs, patio, fish pond, 2-car garage, fenced yard. [illegible] rooms, [illegible] bedrooms, 3 baths, dressing rooms, open fireplace, beamed ceiling, cedar closets, every modern improvement. $3000 cash. Drive out now. Pico to Fox studio, Motor avenue to house. Look this over, it can't be beat. Phone Culver City [illegible].

SAN MARINO. Beautiful 5-room English stucco, near Huntington Library, close to 2 carlines. Lot 60x145. Lawns front and rear, shrubs, garden, double garage, living room, [illegible] beamed ceilings, cost $10,500. Sacrifice, cash or terms to reliable party. Will consider trade up to $5000 or what have you in cheaper rental neighborhood. Pasadena, Alhambra or Los Angeles. HE.1743 after 5 p.m.

INSURANCE FUNDS

Money is now available as in the past several years for attractive loans in acceptable locations on real estate in Los Angeles and immediate vicinity.

Our supply is from the East where accumulations in large quantities are always seeking investment and at lower rates than can be had in the West, where so much money is needed for development.

A 6% loan after commission is added means only 6 3-5% to the borrower over a five-year period.

Eleven Dangerous Criminals Still Free After Break from Ionia Asylum

Michigan Citizens Assist in Search and Succeed in Apprehending Pair

IONIA (Mich.) June 3. (P)—Thirteen dangerous inmates of the State Hospital for Criminal Insane made a daring escape from the institution before daylight today. Ten of them, armed with knives and razors, still are at liberty tonight. Throughout the day State police, county officers, hospital attendants and volunteers patrolled highways, examined thickets, searched buildings and spread warnings.

Two of the thirteen were recaptured a few hours after the break. They were found on a trunk-line highway to which they evidently had gone in the hope of picking up rides.

The third capture was made near Sheridan in an adjoining county tonight.

RUSE USED TO ESCAPE

Of those still at large, four were sent to the hospital because they had committed murder; one charged [illegible] a courtroom with two pistols and threatened the judge; another ran into a downtown Detroit bank and snatched $1000, and the others were adjudged insane after committing robberies.

Two of the captured are Stephen Cordes, Detroit killer, and Charles Kenney, committed from Detroit for robbery.

The escape, effected through a ruse, was from a third-floor ward in which eighteen men were confined. Two guards, U. S. Davis and Bert Hill, were informed by an inmate that some of the men were trying to saw their way out a window.

GUARDS OVERPOWERED

The guards summoned Owen Owen, night supervisor. When the three went into the ward, they were [illegible]

The two guards were locked in a washroom and the thirteen men left, taking Owen with them. The other five made no attempt to flee. Owen was taken through a tunnel to the main entrance. The guard at the front gate, Guy Cartwright, was told Owen would be killed if he did not open the gate.

The men took Owen outside and left him as they scattered. They had pulled out telephone wires, making it necessary for an employee to come in to Ionia, a mile and a half, before the alarm could be spread.

MEN IN "BAD WARD"

The fugitives were known as among the most dangerous men in the institution, their quarters being known as a "bad ward." Their freedom caused residents of the
